Gentleman or Gent?

WERE you one of the many men who went fishing today? Are you going fishing tomorrow? Are you a gentleman or just a gent?

Not long ago we started for one of our favorite fishing spots. To reach the river it was necessary to cross a farmer's field. The gate which previously had been unlocked we found to be secured with a heavy chain and padlock.
The farmer, with whom we were acquainted, saw us at the gate and came to unlock it. He told how some fisherman, a gent, not a gentleman, had driven his car a hundred feet or more off the roadway to run down a lamb. Another farmer took us out to a field where someone had smashed down nearly five acres of wheat as he had driven an automobile madly over the tract to run down and deliberately kill a dozen or more young turkeys.

It is hard to believe that people will do such things, yet these are only two of uncounted numbers of depredations that actually have happened right here in the vicinity of Roseburg. There is good reason for the many "no trespassing" signs to be found posted on farm lands.

We have found few property owners to be unreasonable about permitting access to their lands by anglers and hunters. Their precautions, for the most part, are based upon sad experience. It is true that those who do damage either by malicious intent or carelessness constitute only a small minority of the great number of those who seek recreation in field and stream, but that minority puts a black mark against the fraternity of sportsmen.

The rules of gentlemanly conduct are as important in the field as in the ballroom. There are many ways in which a fisherman or a hunter may prove himself worthy of the trust of the land owner.

Always make a gate secure. It is not enough that it merely be closed. It should be fastened to prevent the possibility of stock from straying into areas where the animals might cause damage, or into roadways where the stock might be killed or cause death.

Cars should be driven carefully through fields. Poultry or livestock may dash suddenly and unexpectedly into the path of the vehicle. Remember, it is the farmer's land and his stock. You are an intruder. It is your responsibility to save him from loss or damage. If an accident cannot be avoided, you will both feel better if he is properly reimbursed.

When you cross over wire fence be sure the strands are pulled back into place. Don't break down half rotted posts—it is often done—and walk over them to avoid the barbed wire.

If you picnic or eat a lunch on the farmer's land, don't leave his place littered with paper, empty and broken bottles, cans and other refuse.

If you clean your fish at the stream, don't leave fishheads or entrails around to poison his dog.

On either private or public land always be careful with matches. A fire, carelessly started, may destroy a farm or a forest.

Always be a gentleman, not just a gent!

and have given a detailed schedule.

"Here it is:
"Abolish the CCC.
"Abolish the National Youth

Administration.
"Abolish the WPA.
"Abolish the Farm Security Administration."

HE adds:
"This will save approximately $1,500,000,000 on the basis of appropriations for the current year.
All of these agencies were created for the PEACE TIME emergency of the depression.

"The other $500,000,000 can be saved in deferring land purchases and all public works not directly connected with the war effort, in reducing the overhead expenses of the department of agriculture, in reducing the appropriation for the exportation and domestic consumption of agricultural commodities and in effecting a saving in the civilian departments and transferring unneeded employees to defense projects."

ILLUSTRATING the tax savings that would result from such a program, he takes Maryland (in which the District of Columbia is located) as an example. He says:
"Maryland is an average state and a two billion dollar reduction in non-defense spending would mean a saving of $40,000,000 a year to the average state. The amount of income taxes paid by Maryland in 1941 was $72,000,000, and this means that this saving in non-essential spending would amount to 60 per cent of the total income taxes paid last year by Maryland."

HE then says:
"Let us translate this sum into terms of WAR EFFORT.
This reduction of two billion dollars in non-defense spending, for which I have given a definite program, would buy:

"Eight thousand 4-engine bombers, fully equipped. It would buy 48,000 medium tanks, or 25,000 heavy tanks. It would buy 20 battleships, or 60 of the largest cruisers, or 200 destroyers or 400 submarines."

IF you agree with Senator Byrd in his fight to reduce NON-DE-FENSE spending, to the end that the WAR EFFORT may be intensified and the hour of victory brought nearer, why not write him a letter and tell him so?

Men who fight for common sense in government in these days need encouragement!

By J. R. WILLIAMS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18—It costs $1.20 today to buy something which one year ago cost $1 (figures from department of labor). High officials do not like this steadily increasing cost of living and will soon do something about it before prices get out of hand. This is what is called inflation; the increased purchasing power of the people, a limited amount of commodities and the competition of those with money seeking to buy the scarce goods. In the higher brackets of government it is proposed to meet the situation by setting a price on everything from rents to baby carriages. This will be supplemented by rationing certain customer durable goods.

One of the means to curb purchasing power is to restrict retail credit. Some fine morning from Washington will be issued an order striking at the charge accounts of the department stores. The customer will be able to say "charge it," but within limitations. How this will be worked out is yet undecided, but possibly a customer with a charge account will be limited to a certain percentage of the purchase, the remainder to be paid in cash. The present hobbles on installment buying will be tightened. Uncle Sam wants everyone to get out of debt as soon as possible and be in position to pay more taxes, buy more bonds and stamps. Restrictions on retail credit will affect furniture stores, credit groceries, fur stores, many women's specialty shops and certain men's clothing stores by reducing their volume of business.

Recovering—T. R. (Ted) Burr is reported to be making satisfactory recovery at his home on the Curry estate, following a critical illness resulting from pneumonia.

Expected Home Soon—F. M. Compton is expected to return to his home on Spruce street the first of the week, following two weeks in the veterans hospital in Portland, where he underwent an operation.

Bishop Dagwell to Be Here—Bishop Benjamin Dagwell, of Portland, will have charge of the Sunday morning eleven o'clock service at the Episcopal church in Roseburg and will have charge of the eight o'clock evening church service at Riddle.

Return From Klamath Falls—Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Chilson, who have been spending the past month at Klamath Falls, where Mr. Chilson was employed in construction work, have returned to their home in Roseburg.

Here on Business—R. H. Holmes, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific company with headquarters in Medford, was a business visitor here Friday. He recently moved to Medford from Spokane to take the place of A. S. Rosenbaum, who has retired.

Visit Here—Mrs. Matt Gillespie, of Marshfield, and her sister, Mrs. Lou Wallace, of Bellingham, Wash., have returned to the coast, following a short stay in this city visiting friends. They are daughters of Mrs. S. E. Collier, for many years a resident of Roseburg and now a resident of Marshfield.

Out of every 100 men classified for the draft 61 have been deferred. Army officials are bothered about it for it is slowing down the building up of an army which is eventually to be eight to ten million—probably the latter. Local boards have been deferring those with dependents but there are so many with dependents of combat age that only 36 have been inducted, the single men in the draft. War department says that those with dependents must be put in uniform, and this puts the problem up to congress. The legislative branch has done nothing about dependents. A bill has been introduced increasing the compensation of soldiers, sailors and marines. Another measure provides that a soldier allot $15 a month to his family, the government matching this for the wife, giving an additional $15 a month for one child, $10 for the second and $5 for each additional child. This would give a family of four $60 a month. Still another bill proposes higher compensation. It is roughly estimated that the cost of caring for dependents will be one half billion dollars a year.

Goals of Various Units.
When all males have registered on April 27 the selective service estimates there will be 41,870,000 listed between 18 and 65 years. Out of this number the breakdown shows 5,000,000 for army, 1,000,000 for the navy, 2,000,000 for the air corps, 20,000,000 for industry, 9,000,000 for agriculture, and 4,000,000 for civilian defense. There is not yet an announced use for the men of 45-65, estimated at 10,000,000; all they are required to do is to register and indicate what their business or profession may be. In the first world war the top registration was 45 years, and they were never called upon to do anything.

It will be noted that war industries will require 15 for each soldier; almost two men in agriculture. Taking the air corps, the navy and army (8,000,000) there will be 2.5 in industry for each service man. Later, with women in war industries, including government plants, they will replace men of combat age.

New Line to Russia.
When food and munitions can be sent to Russia by northwest steamers, to the port of Vladivostok, the supplies will be shipped from the sprawling depot now under construction at Pasco. The warehouses now being built will be 1,500 feet long and into them trains will run, where they will unload materials sent from various places and assembled for the Pacific countries. When a steamer enters the Columbia river

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

"Towering O'er the Wrecks of Time"

In a changing and unstable world, strewn with the wreckage of man's folly and inhumanities, the Christian church bears living witness to the changelessness of God's redemptive love. Through long centuries of storm and stress she has held aloft the light of faith and truth, and in hours of man's direct need has stretched forth hands of compassion, comfort and healing. Today in a universe shattered by war, the church still stands, timeless symbol of divine unity and reconciliation. Let us in these dark desperate days, thank God for the witness, the challenge, the unfailing ministries of the Christian church. Let our gratitude be no passive sentiment but rather an active, motivating force. Calling us to deeper consecration and loftier sacrifice. We treasure the priceless privilege of divine worship and Christian fellowship. We still believe that under God, the church is destined to play a vital role in the establishing of a just peace and the bringing in of a more Christian world order. Let us offer the best we have to the church we love in earnest prayer, in devoted service, in whole-hearted personal practical support. If the Christian church is to remain faithful to her trust, her life must be nourished and sustained by Him Who is her founder and head. Amen.

or at Astoria a trainload of goods will be loaded in the warehouses and sent relaying to the mouth of the Columbia. Each car will be numbered and will be unloaded in the order of its numeral. If the steamer enters Puget sound the train will make that point its destination. There are four railroads serving Pasco and if a bridge goes out on one line the train can take one of the other roads.

Weather and an inadvertent blackout of San Diego's Lane field where a main power line blew out caused postponement of three of four league games last night.

At Hollywood, however, the Seattle Indians settled down to the business of baseballs and baling pitches and defeated the Stars 5 to 1.

Veteran hurler Hal Turpin, who pitched a no-hit, no-run show last Sunday, allowed five bingles as he won his third consecutive game of the season for a perfect average this year.

The Seattle-Hollywood series now stands two games to one in favor of Seattle.

Pastor Twice Floored, But Decisions Bivins

CLEVELAND, April 18.—(AP) Jimmy Bivins dynamited a surprised Bob Pastor to the floor twice last night in the first round of their Cleveland arena fight—but before warfare ended tricky Robert turned things into just another warmup for his expected summer shot at Joe Louis.

Entering the ring 115 favorite and with a weight advantage of nearly seven pounds over the Cleveland negro, Pastor quickly discovered he couldn't be careless. Pastor hit the rosin for counts of two and three in the initial stanza.

The Saratoga Springs, N. Y., scrapper lost the second round, while recovering from those jarring blows. Then he whaled away at Bivins' mid-section, gave as good as he took and on the Associated Press score sheet, won seven of the remaining eight stanzas, with the fifth even.

The New York Yankees and the St. Louis Browns continued yesterday along their unbeaten ways in the American league.

The Yanks dropped the Boston Red Sox from the ranks of the undefeated with a 1-0 shutout.

The Browns kept pace with the champions by nosing out the Detroit Tigers, 7-6, although they also were out-hit, 12-10.

At Cleveland, Ted Lyons pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 1-0 decision over the Indians. Knickerbocker's tenth-inning home
