From where I sit... by Joe Marsh Every Friday night a bunch of us fellows get together over at Bill Webster's place. You wouldn't miss those weekly get-togethers for anything. There are seven in the group—Bill Webster, Judge Cunningham, Pete Swanson, Old Doc McGinnis the dentist, and young Doc Mitchell the M.D., the government man Hob Newcomb, and myself. We don't play cards. We don't sing or carry on. We just sit quietly and talk—and drink a glass or two of beer. I guess we discuss just about everything under the sun—politics, business, family affairs, music, farming, hunting, fishing, and what not. But mostly we like to chew the fat about life's experience and a man's philosophy in these times. You mightn't think that just settin' and talkin' would be so much fun. But it is. Particularly when a man begins to get around to the age of reason. Like us. And it's wonderful how a few glasses of good beer help bring out good talk and good sense when men get together. There's something peaceful and friendly and human about beer that brings out the best in a man. They call beer the "beverage of moderation." That "moderation" idea is good philosophy... maybe that's why good beer and good fellowship go together so well. Seems to me there ought to be more of this quiet talk over a glass of beer. It sure straightens out a man in his thinking. Anyhow, men ought to get together and be friends. That's the way we were made. Why not try it more often—all of you? Joe Marsh
