PUBLIC INVITED TO BENEFIT EXHIBIT AND TEA ON THURSDAY

The Roseburg W. C. T. U. has issued a most cordial invitation to the public to enjoy its second annual old-fashioned arts benefit tea to be held Thursday from two to five-thirty and from seven-thirty to nine-thirty o'clock at the Methodist church parlors. The usual benefit charge will be made for admission to the affair and a part of the proceeds will go to the Children's Farm Home at Corvallis.

Special features of the affair in the afternoon will be a demonstration of braiding a rug without sewing to be demonstrated by Mrs. Arthur Marsh and a spinning demonstration by Mrs. Jeff Williams.

Mrs. J. D. Osborn and Mrs. V. J. Miceli are general chairmen and will be assisted by: Mrs. Fred Fisher, cashier; Mrs. R. A. Hercher and Mrs. L. F. Wilson, literature; Mrs. C. H. Wickham and Mrs. H. A. Canaday, program; Mrs. G. W. Leeper, tablecloths; Mrs. Earl Ages, bedspreads and quilts; Mrs. Arthur Marsh and Mrs. J. D. Osborn, antiques; Miss Alice Bostick, rugs and needlepoint; Mrs. Edwin Rice, refreshments; Mrs. L. Kohlhaugen, Sr., punch; Mrs. Grace Pope and Mrs. J. H. Wolford, recipes of non-alcoholic beverages.

Collecting of articles to be exhibited is taking place at this time and anyone desiring to leave their articles at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Edwards on South Kane street any time before the exhibiting day, may do so.

The committee is working especially hard to make the exhibit not only large, but interesting and enjoyable to the public.

New Addition to Cheer Hero Bulkeley

(NEA Telephoto) A new son, only 19 days old, news of whose birth probably has not reached his hero-father, is held by Mrs. John D. Bulkeley of Long Island City, N. Y., as she receives news of her husband's latest foray into enemy waters where a unit of his Philippine torpedo boat command badly damaged a Jap light cruiser off the island of Cebu. The baby's name is John D. Bulkeley Jr. and that's a picture of his illustrious father at the right. The Bulkeleys also have an 18-month-old daughter.

morning at 11 o'clock. The arrangements are in charge of the Douglas Funeral home.
