POET'S CORNER

"ACTION PLEASE"

(By Wilbur Williams)

Before you gripe of how things are run,
Answer these questions true.
The trouble might be, back in old D. C.,
But perhaps it is here with you.

Did you write to McNary and air your views?
Did you even take time to vote?
If you haven't done this and still want to talk,
I'd say, it's a heck of a note.

If you take no part in guiding the ship,
What matters the course she takes.
Stand up to the helm and do your part,
Or be still for goodness sake.

Oh, well; you say what the use to vote,
What good would one vote do?
Remember, my friend, our nation depends
On you, and you, and you.

Don't you know the grafters are tickled pink,
As long as you take that view?
With no one to stop them or question why,
There's nothing they cannot do.

Old ship of state has a load today
Come help to keep her afloat.
There's one thing mighty important to do,
The Jonah's must leave the boat.
