

Sunday at the Churches

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

The inner life must be pure if we find the upper light. Jesus loved men, but despised sham, cant and hypocrisy. Only life that is utterly sincere and rings with deep righteous conviction can behold the beauty and holiness of God. We may be generous with our money, devoted to our church, loyal to our creeds and rituals, but unless our motive is genuine and our purpose unselfish, all these things become as "sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal. All of us in the chambers of our hearts sometimes long to be completely pure. I question whether there is any exception. The Hindu fanatic, crawling through the streets of Benares that he may wash at last in the sacred streams, has the same desire, though faintly, that the psalmist had when he cried: "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me." But life must first be emptied of all uncleanness and then be filled with the spirit of Him who is able to keep it clean. Make sure of this, no matter how often we may invite the Holy Spirit to dwell in our lives. He will not enter until there has been a thorough heart cleansing. "One thing I, Lord, desire, since all my way, hath my been, be it by water or by fire, O, make me clean, O, make me clean." Amen.

Bible School to Open At Presbyterian Church

The Presbyterian church announces the opening of its daily vacation Bible school on Monday, June 8th. Miss Helen R. Carlson, who has conducted very successful schools here for the last two years, will again be the director. This year the theme will be "Journeying Through Genesis—The Land of Beginnings." The school will be held Monday through Friday of each week, and will close on Friday, June 19.

Miss Carlson is registrar of the Multnomah school of the Bible in Portland, and teaches courses in daily vacation Bible school work in that school. In past years Miss Carlson has taught the children the Gospel of John and the Acts of the Apostles. This year course in the book of Genesis promises to be equally fascinating and instructive for the children.

The school will open at 9:00 a. m. and close at 11:45 a. m. each day. The closing demonstration will be held on Friday evening June 19th. All children from 4 to 14 years of age are welcome to attend.

Local Radio Operator To Enter Naval Service

Senate Votes Pay For Kin of Men In Armed Forces

WASHINGTON, June 5.—(AP)—The senate yesterday passed a bill providing cash benefits for dependents of men in the armed forces.

The measure would apply to men in the four lower grades in the army, navy, marine corps, and coast guard, or those receiving base pay of $78 a month or less.

Under the proposal, passed by the senate without a record vote, the service man would have $22 a month deducted from his pay for a dependent wife.

The government would supplement these deductions with $28 a month for a wife with no children, $40 for a wife and one child and $10 for each additional child.

The bill authorized the selective service system to set up a new priority system for drafting married registrants when they are needed.

Pay Holist Plan Waits.

Senator LaFollette (Pro., Wis.) told the senate yesterday he would withhold until Monday a motion to force a senate vote on increasing pay of men in the armed services, which would make the base rate $50 a month. LaFollette said he believed "an overwhelming majority" of the senators now favored the $50 rate voted by the house in preference to the $42 scale originally approved by the senate.

His motion would be to discharge the senate conferees, who have insisted on the senate figure, and if he is successful LaFollette said he then would move to instruct them to vote for the $50 rate.

What to do In An Air Raid

1.—In any air raid or blackout, take cover immediately.

(a) If you are away from home, get off the street. You are 10 times safer in a building than standing or walking on the street. If you are in a car, pull to the side of the road immediately. Do not double park. Keep clear of fire plugs. Get out of the car, bus, or street car and take shelter.

(b) If you are at home, take immediate blackout precautions. Extinguish all lights. Have your fire protection equipment ready. Go to your blackout room; it should be the safest room in your home. Stay away from windows. Bomb explosions shatter glass for considerable distances.

2.—Don't use the telephone. Remember those persons who have been trained to protect you—the air raid wardens, fire watchers, auxiliary firemen, auxiliary police and many others, must be able to get really important messages through. Your personal calls have got to wait until after the all-clear signal.

3.—If you are caught in the open lie down on your stomach. You are twice as safe lying down as standing up.

4.—If incendiary bombs fall, play a coarse spray of water on them. Put out the fires started by the incendiaries first, then devote your attention to the bomb. The coarse spray of water burns the bomb up faster. A heavy jet, stream or bucket of water will make the bomb explode. If you have no way of treating the bomb with water, cover it with dry sand. Then with a blunt nosed shovel scoop the bomb onto a pile of sand, dump the sand and bomb into a pail and take it outside.

5.—Remember obey your air raid warden and other members of the United States citizens defense corps, they are trying to help you.

6.—Above all — keep cool — stay home — put out lights — take shelter — lie down — stay away from windows. You can help.

This information is published at the request of the United States Office of Civilian Defense. It is recommended that these instructions be conspicuously posted and that they be read and memorized by every member of each family.

What to Do In A Gas Attack

1.—Serious injury may result from exposure to liquid gas which may fall from airplanes. It is, therefore, imperative to remain indoors and keep the windows closed.

2.—War gases are heavier than air. If you are inside a building remain there, and, if possible, go upstairs. Do not complicate the military effort by leaving your house unless circumstances make it absolutely necessary. If you are outside and not able to immediately go indoors walk—do not run—get out of the gas area. Avoid puddles of liquid gas, basements, valleys and other low places.

3.—If the windows of your room are broken, go to another room, or get out of the building.

4.—If you have been exposed to a war gas—

a. Breathe through cloths wet with baking soda solution.

b. If you can go inside a building, do so, but first remove your outer clothing and leave it outside.

c. Wash your hands and then your face with laundry soap and water.

d. Wash your eyes at once with a large amount of a solution of baking soda; one teaspoonful of baking soda in a glass of water.

e. Take a bath using plenty of laundry soap.

f. Wash your eyes again with baking soda solution.

5.—If splashes of liquid gas have gotten on you—

a. Using small pieces of cloth, cleaning tissue or toilet paper, blot up as much of the liquid as you can, being careful not to spread it.

b. Dab the contaminated area with cloths wet with Clorox, Purex, Sani-Clor, etc.

c. Steps b, c, d, e and f in above.

6.—Do not get excited. Lie down and cover yourself with a blanket. Your air raid warden will summon medical aid.

There is no immediate serious danger from exposure to any known war gas if you follow these simple rules.

Clip them out and memorize them.

(This has been approved by the Medical Division of the United States Office of Civilian Defense.)
