HELEN MARIE CATCHING BECOMES BRIDE OF SGT. EUGENE McELROY

One of the largest and most beautiful weddings of the year occurred Thursday, May 28th, at St. George's church, performed the Miss Helen Marie Catching, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Catching became the bride of Sgt. Eugene McElroy, son of C. A. McElroy, of Harlingen, Texas. Rev. Perry Smith, rector of St. George's church, performed the impressive ring ceremony at four o'clock in the presence of two hundred friends and relatives.

Large baskets filled with white peonies and sprays of pink beauty bush blossoms and the many tall white cathedral candles formed a very attractive setting for the service.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Homer Grow played organ music and accompanied Miss Marian Church, violinist, who played "O, Promise Me." Mrs. Grow played the wedding march from Lohengrin for the bride party to enter the church and played Mendelssohn's recessional at the close of the service.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was very beautiful in a heavy white crepe street-length frock, fashioned with a draped bodice and jeweled belt. Her hat was an off-the-face model with lacey brim. She wore white gloves and slippers and carried a white Bible. Her gardenia corsage was held in place by a "V" formed with tiny pink rosebuds. Her single strand of pearls was a wedding gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Patricia Quine, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and was lovely in a dusty rose chiffon print street-length frock with matching gloves and slippers and a corsage of gardenias. Lloyd McElroy of Los Angeles, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Sgt. Charles Hart and Sgt. Fritz Weber were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Coen on Overlook, to which over a hundred relatives and close friends were invited. Mrs. Coen is an aunt of the bride. Gorgeous bouquets of colorful summer blossoms were used about the rooms, while the serving table was covered by a beautiful lace cloth and was decorated with low bowls of pastel-colored sweetpeas, silver candlesticks holding tall white tapers and the attractive tiered wedding cake topped by a soldier bridegroom and bride standing in an archway of orange blossoms.

The bride and bridegroom cut the cake, which was served to the guests by Mrs. Fred Dent, Mrs. J. R. Wharton and Mrs. H. C. Church cut ices and poured and Miss Betty Mae Whipple and Miss Marian Church assisted in serving with Mrs. Fred Lockwood and Mrs. George Wharton assisting about the rooms. Mrs. Kenneth Quine, an aunt of the bride, poured the punch and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Quine, uncle and aunt of the bride, had charge of the many beautiful wedding gifts.

Following the reception the bride and bridegroom left on their honeymoon, after which they returned to Roseburg to make their home. For traveling the bride chose a brown chiffon frock with deep-ivory polka dots. Her hat, shoes and gloves were of deep-ivory and her coat was stone blue in color with a fox collar.

The bride, who is one of Roseburg's most beautiful girls, was graduated from senior high school here and later attended Oregon State college. The bridegroom attended high school in Harlingen, Texas, and is now stationed in the U. S. service with headquarters in Roseburg.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included: Lloyd McElroy, of Los Angeles, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Morian, of Portland, uncle and aunt of the bride.
