Zip Your Lip

THE lives of relatives, friends, neighbors—even of stranger Americans one never has met—make up too high a price to pay for the pleasure of gossiping. Loose talk may continue for weeks without the slightest concrete damage. Then a bit of gossip, no more important seeming and just as innocently meant, may give the Germans or the Japs a tipoff that can result in the sinking of a ship, the death of brave men, the defeat of an important military or naval venture.

All of us know this. It is in tend to be discreet. But we love, most of us, to seem important. We dote on knowing inside stuff, and proving that we know, by telling it. Usually we stop to consider who it is to whom we are telling our supposed war secrets. But often we haven't the slightest idea who may be listening in.

In California, whose citizenry has been more danger conscious from the beginning than are the residents of most areas, the Monterey Peninsula folk have done an outstandingly good job at controlling this sort of dangerous gossip.

Their slogan, apt if not genteel, is Zip Your Lip. The campaign, brain child of the Fort Ord public relations man, was inspired because soldiers in their casual gossiping downtown were keeping the entire peninsula informed about everything that happened at the fort.

Newspapers, civic groups, radio stations, chambers of commerce, the mayors of Monterey and Salinas, telephone and telegraph companies co-operated.

As a result of this co-ordinated community effort, a complete stranger no longer can drop into Monterey or Salinas, keep his ears open, perhaps buy a drink and ask a comradely question, and go away with all the information he wants about troop movements into and out of Fort Ord.

"Spilling inside dope" has ceased to be the mark of a "big shot." Instead of creating admiration for the talker's "pipelines," gossip on the Monterey Peninsula has become very bad form, an indication of ignorance or dangerous exhibitionism.

ping the blitz.

RED STAR, the Russian army newspaper, relates that at one point the Germans, using heavy concentrations of tanks supported by artillery batteries and more than 400 planes, penetrated deeply into the Russian line.

At this moment the Russians counter-attacked with tanks, and Russian planes WRESTLED CONTROL OF THE AIR from the Germans and helped the red tanks break up repeated attempts by German reserves to widen the initial wedge.

YOU will appreciate the significance of all this when you remember that since the war began ONLY THE RUSSIANS have had any success at all in stopping these German blitz assaults by plane-tank-motorized infantry teams.

THE German purpose is to break through the defending Russian armies and get to the Caucasus, where the oil is. The Russian purpose is to stop them AT ANY COST. Intervening territory is relatively unimportant.

ON May 1, the soviet merchant ship Angarstroi was torpedoed and sunk 32 miles off the Jap coast while it was homeward bound, following a course prescribed by the Japs and presumably guaranteed by them as safe from attack by their warships.

The Japs blamed the U. S., saying we were scheming to fan enmity between Russia and Japan. The Russian radio (official) says bluntly that this version doesn't coincide with the facts.

It is added that immediately after the sinking two Jap submarines came to the surface and followed the survivors until they were picked up by another soviet ship.

The implication is that Russia is taking no lip from Japan.

MORE than a thousand British bombers raided Germany again Thursday night, with Bremen (submarine base) as the principal target. In addition, hundreds of fighter planes and fighter bombers made harassing attacks on German air fields.

Fifty-two British planes were lost (for once the British and German versions agree.) The British say this was a loss of about 5 per cent. The Germans, intimating that there WEREN'T a thousand bombers, say the loss was around 25 per cent.

Note the stress placed on percentage of loss. It spells the difference between success or failure of these big air raids.

The Germans quit bombing England because their losses were heavier than they could stand.

WATCH these demonstrations of allied air strength. When our side gets and can HOLD control of the air we may invade Europe.

But NOT until then.

OUT OUR WAY

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Concerning the NORTHWEST As Viewed at the National Capitol

By John W. Kelly

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 29

That Japanese submarines sent shells in the general direction of Fort Stevens, near Seaside; blazed away at Estevan point on Vancouver Island, and probably sank a merchant ship near Neah bay, at the entrance to the straits of Juan de Fuca, caused a little surprise in the national capital, but it renewed the cry that "something be done." All this year, from shortly after Pearl harbor, reports have circulated here of the appearance of Japanese submarines off the coast of Oregon, Washington and Alaska. Some of these reports have gone into detail, but no official word came from the Pacific coast with the single exception of the submarine which shot at an oil dock in California while President Roosevelt was making a fire-side chat.

After the Japanese secured a foothold on Attu and Kiska, in the Aleutian Islands, came rumors from the Pacific northwest of submarines. None of these rumors had an official basis, but they were stories of Japanese submarines being seen off Gold Beach, at the mouth of Rogue river; the Tillamook county beach; of undersea craft supposed to be lurking off the Washington coast; of a sub moving near the mainland of Alaska; of another near Grays Harbor, etc. Coupled with these have been yarns of the air patrol operating daily from all of the air bases from Pendleton to Everett in a constantly searching sweep of the sea.

By coincidence, the merchant ship torpedoed near Neah bay was within a few miles of the landing place of the first known Japanese in North America. In January, 1854, a Japanese junk piled up on the rocks 15 miles south of Cape Flattery; the three surviving seamen reached the shore and were promptly captured and made slaves by the Indians. The junk had left Yanagawa for Tohyo (Yeddo) with a cargo of rice and porcelain; was damaged by a typhoon and for a solid year was adrift until it was wrecked on the northwest corner of Washington. Dr. John McLaughlin, at Vancouver, Wash., heard of the captives and sent famed Tom McKay to bring them to Columbia river, but McKay was turned back and McLaughlin had a sea captain ransom the three Japanese. They attended school at Vancouver; later were sent back to Japan via Formosa.

Blow At Russia Expected

From the first attack on Dutch Harbor, June 3, when there were casualties, the navy has minimized the activities of the enemy on the Aleutian islands and at one time denied that the Japanese had gained a foothold on American territory; "not a rock" had been taken, asserted a navy spokesman. Later the navy disparaged the invasion of Attu and Kiska—the latter an old navy coaling station; reported weather conditions as being "dirty." Weather, as pointed out by Alaskans

NEWSPAPER'S HELP IN RECRUITMENT PRAISED

EUGENE, Ore., June 25.—Editor News-Review: Again, we, the recruiters for the U. S. navy recruiting district of Eugene, Lane county, and Roseburg, Douglas county, wish to extend to you the thanks of our commanding officer, Lieutenant Commander Glenn F. DeGrave, USN (Ret.), and of our medical officers of the Portland main navy recruiting station for the state of Oregon, under whom we serve, for the whole-hearted and valuable service rendered by you, for your country, and for your navy, in so fully cooperating and aiding us in our recruiting enlistment program, just completed, in which over 900 Oregon boys and men have been enlisted in the U. S. naval service between the dates of June 12 and June 25, 1942. This brings a total enlistment record of 9,000 Oregon men enlisted since July 1, 1941, to date.

This is, indeed, a proud record for the state of Oregon, and these men enlisted on this occasion will be known as the Oregon Avengers.

Without your help, it would hardly have been possible to accomplish so much in so little time.

Yours for Victory, D. B. LOCKWOOD, CWT USFR BENNY HALL, CSM USFR O. L. ANDERSON, CY USN Ret.

Yanks Drop Their First Twin Bill; White Sox Victors

Larry French Saves Another Game For Brooklyn After Cincinnati Takes Opener

(By Austin Bealmeier)

(Associated Press Sports Writer) It begins to look as if the New York Yankees expected by many to be naming a starting pitcher for the world series by the Fourth of July, won't even be in first place at that fast approaching stage of the campaign if they don't pull out of their current spin.

Kicked around at three stops out of four on their two-weeks swing to the west, the Yanks hit bottom yesterday when the Chicago White Sox mauled them twice, 6-2 and 13-1.

Not only did the sixth-place White Sox sting the champions of the world with their first double defeat of the year, but they did it at the expense of top notch pitchers, Ruffing and Bonham.

As a result, the Yankee lead shrank to five and a half games and would have dropped to four and a half if the Cleveland Indians had not become tied up with the treatment they were receiving from the second-place Boston Red Sox and salvaged the final contest of a four-game series.

Lyons out-pitched Ruffing in the first game, scattering eight hits, putting his team ahead to stay with a two-run double and drawing even with the Yankee hurler's lifetime record of 251 triumphs.

After pounding Ruffing for 14 hits, the White Sox landed on Bonham for seven blows in the first three innings of the night-cap, driving him off the mound and continuing their assault with six more hits of Branch and Lindell. Rolfe made his first appearance after a year when Rizzuto twisted a knee in the second game. Rolfe went to third and Crosetti moved to Rizzuto's shortstop post.

Indians, Red Sox Split

At Cleveland, the Red Sox took the first game, 8-3, by scoring all their runs in the fifth inning, but the Indians took the second when pinch-hitter Chubby Dean singled the winning run across for a 3-2 decision.

Don Dimaggio led the scoring spree against starter Jim Bagby and two relievers in the opener, driving in three runs with a triple and a single.

The Detroit Tigers also split a pair with the Philadelphia Athletics and missed a chance to climb over the Indians into third place. Newhouser pitched three-hit ball in gaining a 3-2 decision for the Tigers, but Harris blanked them on five hits in the afterpiece, 3-0.

Washington's Senators scored out the St. Louis Browns, 14-13 and 7-6, in a pair of games that saw 13 pitchers bombarded for 60 hits, including 18 doubles, two triples and two home runs.

Larry French Saves Game

The Brooklyn Dodgers, leaders of the National league, narrowly escaped the Yankee's fate when Medwick tripled to give them a 2-1 triumph over Cincinnati in the second game after the Reds had bagged the opener, 6-3.

Derringer pitched five-hit ball in the first as the Reds chased Wyatt and kept up a 16-hit barrage. Larry French gained credit for his eighth victory without a defeat when he replaced Higbe in the eighth inning of the night-cap.

Seven home runs carried the Pittsburgh Pirates to a double victory over the New York Giants, 8-7 and 9-3.

Hughes pitched the Philadelphia Phils to a 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in 15 innings, going all the way and yielding only ten hits, but the Cards took the second game, 3-1, behind the five-hit huriling of Warneke and stayed nine games behind the Dodgers.

Tobin tossed a three-hitter as the Boston Braves blanked the Chicago Cubs for the second straight time, 3-0 but after 21 scoreless innings the Cubs rallied to win the nightcap, 5-1.

Herman E. Lafkey Named Oregon VFW Chief

News of Men From Douglas County In War Service

Lieutenant Maynard Bell, a former member of the Roseburg News-Review staff, now located at Columbia army air base, Columbia, South Carolina, has been transferred from the 17th group of the 95th bombardment squadron to the 310th bombardment group, according to word received here today. He still is located at Columbia air base. Lieutenant Bell reports that he has been particularly proud of the organization to which he has been attached as it was the 95th squadron and 17th group which furnished a large part of the personnel that made the sensational bombing raid on Tokyo. However, his transfer gives him a place of increased responsibility, as he has been assigned as adjutant of the 310th bombardment group.

Paul Ludwig, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ludwig, former resident of Roseburg and Yoncalla, now at Tacoma, Wash., recently arrived in Australia, according to word received by his parents. Another son, Stanley Ludwig, is in the U. S. navy and is now at San Diego.

Due Formality

LONG BEACH, Calif.—Mrs. John Phipps took a good, healthy cut with a bottle of champagne, missed, and—

The 38-ton ferry boat she was christening slipped away unchristened.

A shipyard worker, Joim Harvey, seized the champagne bottle from the startled Mrs. Phipps, chased the boat down the ways, and, wham! Laid the bottle open against the prow just in time.

Sacs, Angels Win 2 Apiece; Seattle, Stars are Losers

(By the Associated Press)

It was close to 7:30 p. m. when Sacramento and Seattle finished five hours and 22 minutes (playing time) of Coast league baseball.

But to a pair of righthanded pitchers and their employers, the extended effort seemed eminently worthwhile. For Beers his two hours and 20 minutes' work meant a 9-3 Sacramento victory over Seattle. For Donnelly, his three hours and two minutes' toil was rewarded with a 3-1 decision over the same club.

These are the two flingers who more than any others have been responsible for Sacramento's phenomenal rise from last place to first. Yesterday they were in fine form, each outlasting three Seattle pitchers on the long march to victory.

Beers, in action for nine innings, gave up eight hits. But none was good for more than one base, and only two came in the last five innings, during which Seattle went scoreless after establishing an early 3-2 lead. Barrett, driven to cover in the sixth, was the loser.

Donnelly had been slated to work seven innings but 13 were played before he was through. In that time he was reached for only six hits. Like Beers', all were singles, and never did the Rainiers get more than one an inning.

At last the Senators paid their pitcher off for his persistent effort by cracking Budnick, third Seattle moundman, three times in a row.

The double victory gave Sacramento the series, four games to two, despite a 5-0 defeat Saturday, but even so the Senators lost ground for the week to the second-place Los Angeles Angels, who, likewise double winners yesterday, finished with a 5-2 record against Hollywood. Scores were 11-10 and 8-0.

Padres, Beavers Split

A split yesterday with San Diego assured Portland an even 3-3 series division, something of a "moral victory" for the last place and customarily trampled northerners.

Olsen of San Diego outpitched Orrell, six hits to eight, in the 2-1 opener, in which Mazzera's homer proved a decisive blow. Cohen blanked the Padres, 2-0, on three hits in the seven-inning night-cap. Portland got only five safeties off Dasso, but four came in the sixth inning for both runs. The Beavers also won Saturday, 2-1.

San Francisco swept its two-bill with Oakland, 8-2 and 4-0, thus rallying to take the series, four games to three.
