LEMOLO AND TOKETEE! FALLS, on this spanking trip you and I are taking through the Diamond Lake area of the Cascades. The picture appearing at the top, above, is of Lemolo: that below it, of Toketee. The latter lies some twelve or fifteen miles below Lemolo on the North Umpqua river, in the gorge bordering the famed Fish Creek Desert.

Many more of us have visited Lemolo than Toketee, the reason being, I suppose, that the one half mile trail by which it is reached from an automobile road is not a very difficult one. Not about a quarter of a mile towards very difficult one. Not the Toketee trail. In spots it is tough going.

Rubber Industry Offers Plan To Boost Tire Output

WASHINGTON, July 21-(AP) The rubber industry today pro-posed a plan which it said would provide usable tires for everybody for at least the next two

This became known in connec tion with an exhibit prepared by the industry in Washington to demonstrate to government officials and the press means of utilizing the industry's facilities to make as many tires as possible under war conditions.

The plan, it was learned from sources who declined to be quoted, would provide for rationing tires under an entirely new system, and would enable every one to get tires provided he took good care of his rubber.

A feature of the program is that new tires would be made out of thiokol, a substance heretofore WASHINGTON, July 21—(AP)
