Torpedoed Boat's Survivor Put In Lifeboat by Nazis

(By the Associated Press) Two young seamen from a United States cargo ship, the torpedoing of which was announced today by the navy, told a story of being taken aboard the attacking U-boat and later being put afloat in a lifeboat.

Cornelius F. O'Connor, 19, of Norfolk, Va., said the submarine was forced to crash-dive to escape navy planes shortly after it took him and Raymond Smithson, 24, of Galveston, Tex., aboard. Their ship was sunk June 3 in the Caribbean, the navy announced, with 15 seamen still missing from a 45-man crew.

The sinking boosted to 391 the unofficial Associated Press tabulation of United Nations' and neutral merchant vessels lost in the western Atlantic since Pearl harbor. The seamen when put afloat in a lifeboat were stocked with water and hardtack. The hardtack, they said, was "unfit to feed a dog."

Undersea raiders were credited with having picked off five other merchantmen in announcements yesterday but were pictured as having "missed the boat" during big transatlantic convoy operations of last winter.

The navy disclosed that a single task force has escorted 2,400 merchant craft across the north Atlantic last winter with a loss of only eight ships.

The disclosure came with announcement of a posthumous award of a distinguished service medal to the late Admiral Arthur Leroy Bristol, Jr., 55, of Charleston, S. C., who died at sea of natural causes April 20 after seeing approximately 60 convoys across the Atlantic with a minimum loss.

"I Drive Slow - Why Should I Change Oil?"

THAT'S a question some of my best customers have been asking me ever since driving under 40 became both sensible and patriotic. They've been figuring and maybe you have too, that oil ought to work longer than 1000 miles between changes. But here's the catch: With all of the starts, stops, and idling, your engine may go 1300 miles or more while the speedometer reads only a thousand! Stopping, starting, and idling not only mean extra hours of work for your motor, but increased contamination by gasoline and water. No matter how you drive, it's wise to come in for a refill of clean, fresh RPM Motor Oil every Thousand Miles!

What Does a Soldier Do On His Day Off?

WELL, what would any of us do—in a strange town, with no friends, practically no money, and orders to be back on duty in 24 hours? The USO clubs, movies, and stage shows are doing a grand job of solving this problem for the boys in the armed forces. I don't think there's any sweeter way to show our gratitude to this country's fighting men than to make a contribution to the USO! Remember—you help someone you know, when you give to the USO!

Give 'Em Water When It's Hot!

THERE are two friends of yours that get pretty thirsty during the hot weather—your battery and your dog. It's a great kindness to Fido to keep a pan of water filled around the house. (Most Standard Service Men keep a pan at the station for visiting pups.) And it's a great kindness to your battery to let us take a few seconds to check the water every week.

BELLEVILLE, Ill.—Herschel Walsh, 40-year-old electrician, is a sadder and wiser man today—and a somewhat sheepish possessor of a new pair of trousers. Scheduled to appear in court on a disorderly conduct charge, Walsh defiantly removed his pants and tore them. Police officers studied his build, purchased another pair and hauled him into court. Walsh was fined $25 for disorderly conduct, $3.40 costs—and $4.65 for the trousers.
