Girl's Purse, Lost During Rubber Salvage, Is Found

Ernest Pearson, who served as chairman of the rubber salvage campaign here, reported today that a purse, lost by a local girl at the time the rubber matinee was held at Hunt's Indian theater, has been recovered. At the time the matinee was held, children were admitted to a special show by donations of rubber. After the rubber had been loaded on a truck, one girl discovered she had left her purse in a package of small articles and, although search was made, it was not found.

Yesterday, the rubber was loaded for shipment, and loaders were asked to keep a lookout for the purse and succeeded in finding it. The name of the girl was not kept, but the purse has been left with the Indian theater management, Pearson said, and can be recovered by the owner making proper identification. It contained a small amount of money.

Troops May Take Over Plant Tied by Strike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Chairman William H. Davis of the war labor board indicated after a white house conference today that troops might be sent to the strike-closed General Cable company plant at Bayonne, N. Davis said the same situation existed as at the North American aviation plant at Inglewood, Calif., the first taken over by the federal government, where troops moved in after rioting broke out. The North American plant subsequently was returned to private operation.

Naval Recruiting Quota in Oregon Is Doubled

PORTLAND, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The navy's Portland recruiting district, already leading the nation in enlistments per capita, was called upon today to double the number of men it is sending into Uncle Sam's sea forces. The new goal was set by Lieut.

Cmdr. Glenn H. De Grave, recruiting officer for the district which includes all of Oregon and parts of Washington and Idaho. Volunteers previously rejected may now be accepted under revised physical requirements, he said. Another aid to achieving the new quota will be the new navy regulation permitting men to enlist up to the time of induction by draft boards.
