More lives are lost in the lowlands of confusion and small living than in all the dangerous exploits known to man. Our primary need is for altitude. A dear friend (now gone), took as his goal: "My face is toward the heights."

There is a trail within your life
Where you can climb above the crowd,
Where you can rise above the earth,
And look far down on haze and cloud.

There is a trail within your soul
Where you can climb right up to God,
And know the source whence blessings flow,
To quicken life in seed and sod.

There is a trail that calls to you,
Come climb, and conquer heights unscathed,
That you may see with vision true,
And find life's goal where others failed.

There is a trail that you can climb,
What though death come on mountain peak;
The vision comes to those who climb;
Christ's mantle falls on those who seek.
Amen. (F. S. B.)

Net Income Limit Of $25,000 Meets AFL Opposition

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (AP)—The American Federation of Labor notified congress today it was opposed to a limitation of net incomes to $25,000 annually, as proposed by President Roosevelt and supported by a spokesman for the congress of industrial organizations.

Raymond G. Cranch of the Washington research staff of the AFL told the senate finance committee his organization realized that many independent business men would find it necessary to restrict their activities, reduce their war work and decrease their employment of labor under such a limitation.

He commented: "The nation would indeed be shortsighted to limit productivity of its business men by such an arbitrary and inflexible rule."

The chamber of commerce of the United States presented testimony in favor of a flat 10 per cent retail sales tax and a five per cent withholding tax.

Cranch said the AFL approved the levying of high taxes to win the war "but can see no justice in arbitrary wage freezing, either for the worker or for the employers."

The AFL representative opposed suggestions for an "excess profits" tax on increased individual incomes and urged post-war rebates for corporations paying over 75 per cent of total net income in taxes.

Would Up Security Levy.

Opposing other payroll tax deductions Cranch said the AFL believed social security levies could be increased. He urged that in individuals be permitted to take deductions from income taxes for medical care and the payment of life insurance premiums. Cranch expressed opposition to a general sales tax.

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) asked if the AFL would favor a sales tax over a payroll withholding levy if forced to choose between the two. The witness replied his organization would take a sales tax in that case, so long as it was not applied to food and low cost clothing.

The AFL representative urged the committee to force all corporations to compute their excess profits tax on the basis of invested capital.

Portland Jobs at $160 A Month Fail to Attract

PORTLAND, Aug. 11. (AP)—Jobs that pay $160 a month no longer are very attractive, even to women, the municipal civil service board admitted today.

Only four applications have been received for motor vehicle inspector, open to women for the first time.

Women Volunteers to Aid Salem Restaurants

SALEM, Aug. 11. (AP)—Many women have volunteered to accept part-time work in Salem restaurants to relieve the critical shortage of waitresses and cooks during rush hours, the Salem Restaurant association said today.

The women will be given short training courses before going to work.

May Slow War Plants to Ease Drain on Material

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—War plants which are running far ahead of schedule may be closed deliberately or slowed down for a time to ease the drain on scarce materials, under plans now being considered by the war production board.

The production cuts would be brought about by curtailments in the allocation of materials to such firms for the last three months of the year, it was disclosed by an official who requested that his name be withheld.

In any case new or converted war plants are discovering that their output exceeds earlier expectations, with the result that parts they produce lie idle for weeks or months before they can be incorporated in the finished product.

"There is growing recognition that it is just as wrong to tie up materials in the form of component parts as it is to tie them up in stocks of unprocessed metals," the WPB source said.

WPB's requirements committee, which allocates materials among industries, is expected to request the army and navy to furnish lists of their contractors who are in excess of present need, either because of unbalance in the production of parts for a weapon or because strategic developments have made the weapon itself of less immediate importance.

The committee, soon will have in its hands the estimated requirements of virtually every contractor using large amounts of metals, through priority applications submitted under the production requirements plan.

Expansion Lack Blamed for U. S. Steel Shortage

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—Chairman Truman (D., Mo.) of the senate defense committee yesterday attributed the steel shortage which he said was hampering America's war production to a lack of "real expansion" in the steel industry.

Senator Truman, after more than six months of inquiry, told reporters he had concluded that there was no real expansion in the industry, but merely an "integration" of the plants of the big companies, while they "choked" the smaller rolling mills out of existence.

He said Donald Nelson, director of the war production board, "should exercise his authority and reorganize the iron and steel division of WPB" to get action.

The blunt-manner Missourian said that so far as his committee had learned not a single new iron mine or blast furnace had been built in any new place, although lower California, the state of Washington and British Columbia contained an abundance of untapped raw materials.

Says Expansion Balked
He added that he was greatly impressed by the story of a west coast promoter, Henry J. Landahl, who told the committee of trying for 40 years to raise money for a blast furnace in the Pacific northwest, only to be constantly balked by the United States Steel corporation and the J. P. Morgan banking interests because the project would compete with their properties.

The larger steel corporations, such as U. S. Steel and Bethlehem, had "integrated" their own facilities to handle the war orders, Truman said, while the testimony of small independent rolling mill owners showed a shortage of raw materials that was threatening them with extinction.

The senator said it was time to "quit thinking of both guns and butter" and about keeping the business after the war.

"If we don't win the war," he said, "there won't be any business to keep."

Fuel Shortage Threat Draws Federal Action

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13. (AP)—Secretary of Interior Ickes announced today that he had dispatched to Seattle a representative empowered to take action to "avert a threatening coal and wood emergency in Washington and Oregon."

Brigadier General Brice P. Disque, assistant director of the office of solid fuels coordinator for war, was named as the representative.

The two states probably will require more than 1,000,000 tons of coal in excess of the amount which can be produced by local mines under wartime conditions, Ickes said. An acute firewood shortage also is reported to be threatening, caused by heavy increases in purchase of the fuel by the army and by the scarcity of labor in the woods.

Ickes, who acted in his capacity as solid fuels coordinator, advised Oregon and Washington house-holders to increase the purchase and shortage of coal from other states immediately.

The production cuts would be brought about by curtailments in the allocation of materials to such firms for the last three months of the year, it was disclosed by an official who requested that his name be withheld.

In any case new or converted war plants are discovering that their output exceeds earlier expectations, with the result that parts they produce lie idle for weeks or months before they can be incorporated in the finished product.

"There is growing recognition that it is just as wrong to tie up materials in the form of component parts as it is to tie them up in stocks of unprocessed metals," the WPB source said.

The committee, soon will have in its hands the estimated requirements of virtually every contractor using large amounts of metals, through priority applications submitted under the production requirements plan.

Cubs Down Cards By Score of 13-5

(By the Associated Press)

In the only game in the National league yesterday the Chicago Cubs ended a four-game losing streak by walloping the St. Louis Cardinals, 13-5, and dropping the second-place Red Birds eight and a half games behind the Dodgers.

Passeau notched his 16th pitching victory of the season against eight defeats, although he had to weather a ninth-inning Cardinal uprising which produced four runs on as many hits.

In the American league, the Cleveland Indians came from behind in the ninth inning to edge out the Detroit Tigers, 3-2, for their first victory in their last eight starts, one of which ended in a tie.

The St. Louis Browns crushed the Chicago White Sox, 8-3, largely through the efforts of Cliff who hit a home run, double and two singles and drove in four runs.

American league games between Boston and New York and Washington and Philadelphia, and a National league affair between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh all were postponed.

Court Martial in Britain Frees American Soldier

SOMEWHERE IN BRITAIN, Aug. 13. (AP)—The first United States army general court martial in Britain today acquitted Private Travis P. Hammond, 25, of charges of criminal assault.

Hammond, whose home is in Keltys, Texas, was accused of assaulting a 16-year-old English shopgirl who said she met him at a Y. M. C. A. canteen and accompanied him and another couple to several pubs and then to an air raid shelter.

The 11-man court deliberated two hours before reaching a verdict. The trial lasted four days.

Hammond was not released immediately. The court said only that he would not be freed "at this time."

North California Deer Hunting to End Aug. 21

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13. (AP)—The state fish and game commission announced today that deer hunting in the currently open counties of northern California would close officially at Sunset Friday, August 21.

The announcement followed a ruling by the attorney general's office which, barring direct intervention of the military, apparently had assured hunters a few more days of their favorite sport.

Los Angeles Takes Revenge, Beating Portland 12 to 0

(By the Associated Press)

The Los Angeles Angels, leader of Pacific Coast league baseball, apparently have to be nettled slightly before they go to work on an opponent.

Portland, the cellar club, has worried the Angels plenty this week, taking two games and just missing a third win.

Last night, the Angels put on the pressure and the result was a 17-hit assault which white-washed the Beavers, 12-0, and made Lynn's three-hit performance look easy.

Olsen, slugging outfielder, accounted for six Los Angeles tallies as he paced batters by pounding out four hits in five attempts.

The Angels move to Seattle tonight for a four-game series.

Rainiers Beat Seals

The Rainiers last night bested the San Francisco Seals, 4-2, in a pitching duel with each team getting six hits. The Seals scored twice on three hits off Guay in the third after the Rainiers had scored a run in the second.

Stickle tripled in the fifth to set-off a three-hit Rainier rally good for three tallies. It was the third loss in four games for the Seals who start a series with Portland tonight.

Oaks Given Victory
Oakland won the first of three games from Sacramento, 5-3, with the winning margin going to the Oaks without a hit in the fifth inning when Nelson walked three as his teammates made two errors.

The Oaks had opened the game by scoring twice on four hits off Lyons. They added the final tally in the seventh.

Kleinke and Chelini held the Solons to seven safeties. Sacramento finishes the week at Hollywood.

The Stars and the San Diego Padres collected eight hits, but the Padres bunched them effectively in the first and eighth innings to win out, 5-2.

The Padres opened the game by scoring two runs on three hits and a Hollywood error. Calvey homered to add a run in the fifth. The Padres move to Oakland for a series tonight.
