

Poised in front of my trusty (at times) Underwood it's time to knock out another batch of "what's doin'." Seems as if I just recovered from the knocks of one week's scandal when rolls "round" the client" and again I weaken at the knees. The kick off of this wash-day's chatter is a bit of a suggestion from the Coen's of local building material fame. Contrary to any ideas you might have picked up in the columns of this journalistic enterprise heretofore (and it's not our fault) you can still get materials for repair and limited building. So in the interest of keeping the homestead in first class shape for another of those famous Oregon winters, I propose that you make a list of the things you need done and consult the boys at Coen's about the doing of it. All now, don't pull a "put off," let's get this thing done—AND NOW.

THE TOWN CRYER

Regardless of any ideas you might get from reading this column I peddle I've sat on the front row of a good many classrooms and shot paper-wads at several "unappreciative" school marmes. Now, with this bit of explanation I hope you'll accept my word when I say that whether it's grade school, high school, or college there is nothing quite so valuable to the student as a leather zipper notebook. Sam Shoemaker, high mogul of the Roseburg Book Store, is of the same opinion so he asked that I announce a real BARGAIN that he is offering early buyers of school supplies. Because they're on the government's "no make 'em any more" list it's an offer that won't be made again until Hitler and Hiro—what's his name are pushing up daisies. Here it is! A sturdy black or brown notebook with a genuine Talon zipper and two inside pockets for the attractive price of $1.69 PLUS, mind you, the student's name engraved in gold with NO extra cost. Take it from me, that's one real buy.

THE TOWN CRYER

I warned Shorty Guy that he might incur the wrath of the local patrons of learning if he even so much as mentioned the coming opening of school. The favorite local merchant of leather, however, is one of those customers that is always right so ye Town Crier must abide. I'll address that appeal to mom and pop—might cushion the blow. Shorty says that as a matter of economy those old shoes of the kids in the far corner of the closet can be dug out and reconditioned good as new for months of comfortable school-day wear. The miraculous recovery that Shorty can bring about in a pair of leathers is rapidly becoming one of those well known facts. Drop in the friendly door next to Fisher's Dept. store and give the Guy a try.

THE TOWN CRYER

Go ahead and call me slow on the draw—boy, am I! I've been all these weeks catching on to the right time and the right place to catch the Mr. Horn on my weekly sort to his House of Super-Cream. My last visit netted me the opportunity of munching the most "delish" spud chips while pressing Harold for this week's "let me tell you about it." Caught with a guilty conscience, however, I was talked into trying one of his special Peach Sundae (cash on the line)—and my friends, am I glad I was sold. If you want a 15¢ treat, get a double dip order of vanilla smothered with fresh peaches—they can take any day of the week on it. Sunday, Monday, or Tuesday, but it couldn't be any better. Put it on your must list for the next California afternoon. (Editor's note: The sunny south's chamber of commerce can remit any appreciation in the form of War Stamps.)

THE TOWN CRYER

According to the last report from the local draft board there are some 1225 men from Douglas county in our armed services—trans-lated in terms of letter writing that means you fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, and friends of these fellows are doing one heck of a lot of mailing. Now, if you really want a tip on how to add a little zip to this writing busi-

NAVY VISITOR IS HONORED AT DINNER

YONCALLA, Aug. 17.—Honoring their son, Verle Miller, who is with the U. S. navy and who was home on a furlough, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Miller entertained at a dinner, Sunday at their home in Hayhurst. Those present included Verle Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Schoss, Gertrude, Shirley and Ted Schoss of Drain, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Reese and daughter, Dianne of Tionesta, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. George Meyers and son, Max, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Miller, Clara, Ida and Georgia and Fletcher Miller. Friends calling during the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morin, Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Long and son, Alvin, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Long, Ilah, Wanda and Donna, Mr. and Mrs. Tom C. McKirdy, Homer, Kenneth and Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hubbell, Dorothy and Myrna Hubbell.

MRS. RAPP HONORED AT LOVELY SHOWER

SUTHERLIN, Aug. 17.—Mrs. Mildred Culver and Mrs. Gertrude Hobard were joint hostesses at a shower in honor of Mrs. Eileen Norton Rapp of Roseburg, at the Culver home Tuesday evening, August 11.

Those present were former Sutherlin high school friends of Mrs. Rapp and presented her with many lovely and dainty gifts.

ness I've got it straight from the Roseburg Pharmacy. Bob Harris has one swell supply of extra-clever novelty cards for service men. These aren't just for birthday or special events but for more interesting daily or weekly letters to the boys in the training camps or on the battle fronts. Ask Bob to see these nifty folding cards—you'll have to admit that your soldier, sailor, or marine would a lot rather be on the receiving end of one of these new gossip carriers.

It will be more true than pun to say that many of you will be "alarmed" at this bit of propaganda. If you've been shopping for one of those necessary annoyances of morning slumber (better known as an alarm clock) you are aware that they have been as scarce as tire rationing certificates. News from M. Lawson's is that they have received several clocks, both alarm and beautiful mantle pieces, and they're available while the supply lasts. There isn't any price boosting to accompany the shortage, however, and you can (if you hurry) get one of these quality clocks for as little as $1.65. If you've been troubled with that popular pastime of "sleeping in" these lazy summer mornings better hustle down to M. Lawson's on Cass at the first opportunity.

I've been thinking of asking the Senator's permission to give Tom Atkins a special rate on this "col-um-nated" course in advertising. Why? Well, darn it, I've never yet had one little bit of trouble finding something new to expose at the Jackson street center of cigars, cigarettes, candy, magazines, ice cream, pop, popcorn, and what have you appropriately called The Handy Stand. Lend your ears to this week's communique concerning Tommy's new stock of pocket edition books. For just 25¢ each you can build a library of mysteries, short stories and the leading novels. Each book is complete and will afford you hours of the best in reading. (And say, Tom, the Senator just yelled in and vetoed the proposal.)

Officer in charge at Gomes Upholstering and Mattress shop was the Mrs. Gomes—Mike was out wearing down the family tires. One of the not so well known services of their shop, she explained, is that of making slip covers—the defense against dirt and prematurely worn upholstery. These new one-piece covers are made to fit your individual pieces of furniture. The Gomes tradition of exceptionally good tailoring on a covering of your own selection can be your answer to the question of how to keep new furniture in the pink and refresh the more ancient living room nightmares. Ask the operator for number 161 and ask about 'em. So comes our moment of parting. Break down and be with me for another installment next week. Remember—there's always a chance it might improve!
