We Can Take It FULLY realizing that it will not do the slightest good...

It began with Pearl Harbor. The first hour or two after the attack the news reports were interesting...

Since then we have had delayed, contradictory, misleading, and outright false reports from the navy. The last of those charges...

THE Chinese claim to be driving the Japs out of Chubsein, which is only 600 miles from Japan. Six hundred miles is easy bombing range...

INCIDENTALLY, scanty dispatches indicate that the Jap attack on Milne bay was carried out in thick clouds and rain...

THE situation at Stalingrad grows more serious daily, but the army headquarters says: "We are holding the enemy onslaught and WEARING DOWN his manpower."

There are four passes through the Caucasus range—one along the Black sea, one along the Caspian and two crossing the range at better than 8,000-foot elevations.

FOR the moment, the news seems a shade better for our side. But don't let yourself go up and down with the news of each day. That's a BAD habit.

As a matter of cold, brutal fact, it is pretty hard to escape the impression that someone in authority is afraid to trust the American people to have news other than news of victories...

Let's have the TRUTH about this war in the Pacific—whatever it is. We can take it—and the fellow who says we cannot is a traitor to himself and his country.

allies (our boys and the Australians) put up a hard air fight, but the Japs apparently got ashore. They too, you see, are gunning for new bases.

What they have in mind, it is guessed, is a new base for attacking Port Moresby without going over the 8,000 foot range of mountains that so far has given them trouble.

Port Moresby is the allied outpost base on New Guinea. Follow your map if you want to understand the situation involved.

SOMETHING new has been added to the Russian situation. The Germans have been telling for a couple of weeks (in a back-handed sort of way) of a Russian offensive westward from Moscow. Today the Russians enter the news with a report of progress there.

They claim in the two weeks to have liquidated 45,000 Germans, to have advanced 25 to 30 miles, to have taken back 610 communities and to be advancing on a 70-mile front.

There are reports (seemingly authentic) of stirrings in Egypt. Unusual activity has been noted behind Rommel's lines.

There is a feeling of tension in the news regarding Egypt. The Japs are smart at using fogs and clouds. Witness the Aleutians.

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

Christianity is the power of God in the soul of man.

In the personal experience of the Christian, it ought to provide inner resources of spiritual power for daily living.

If it does not do this for us our Christianity is not functioning properly, and we have failed to respond with adequate faith to what God in Christ so freely offers us.

Down the centuries multitudes of people of every condition and station have found through Christian faith resources for triumphant daily living.

Beset with difficulty, suffering, trial and disaster, tossed hither and yon by life's changing circumstances they could not be beaten.

In every situation "they endured as seeing him who is invisible." Listen to one of these heroes of the faith.

"I know how to be abased, and I know also how to abound in everything and in all things have I learned the secret both to be filled and to be hungry, both to abound and to be in want.

I can do all things in him that strengtheneth me. So completely had the great apostle learned this secret, that at the close of his life looking back he could say "I have fought the good fight. I have finished the course. I have kept the faith."

What Christianity meant for Paul, it can mean for us, if we trust in God for power. Amen.
