

Primaries Held In Nevada, Utah

RENO, Nev., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Nevada and neighbor Utah held primary elections today, with but few colorful issues to stir a war-busy electorate.

Democrats had no competition whatsoever on the Nevada slate. Of principal interests was the U. S. senatorial race between Berkeley L. Bunker, the young incumbent who was appointed to succeed the late Sen. Key Pittman, and former Governor James C. Scrugham, a Nevada congressman the past ten years.

Three candidates sought Nevada's lone seat in congress—State Senator Archie C. Grant, Lieut. Governor Maurice Sullivan and Mrs. Harriet Spann, former state WPA official.

E. P. Carville, the incumbent, was opposed by Roland H. Wiley, Clark county district attorney, in the gubernatorial race.

In Utah, only two congressional seats were at stake aside from minor posts, and a scant 25 per cent vote was forecast.

Rep. Walter K. Granger of Cedar City was unopposed for the first district democratic renomination.

for civilian use will be curbed by a war production board order assigning marketing quotas. The order, expected in about two weeks, will apply to beef, veal, pork, lamb, mutton and sausage.

MANUFACTURE OF HARD LIQUOR TO HALT NOV. 1

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Manufacture of whisky, gin and other beverage spirits was ordered halted by Nov. 1, but the nation was advised today there was no threat of a hard drink drought.

Matthew J. Mac Namara, of the war production board's whisky conversion branch, informed the National Alcohol Beverage Control association that by Nov. 1 all of the nation's 128 distilleries would be converted to the production of war alcohol to meet a requirement for 476,000,000 gallons next year.

He explained that more than half of that amount would be needed to make synthetic rubber—butadiene—and the balance would be used to produce smokeless powder and for other essential military and civilian uses.

Mac Namara said there was enough distilled spirits stored in warehouses to tide over the tippers for five years, stocks amounting to 550,000,000 gallons—mainly bourbon and rye whisky.

spite the long sea journey from the united kingdom.

On the Soviet front, Marshal Timoshenko's valiant defenders of Stalingrad fought German attacks northwest of the key Volga industrial city but acknowledged that the naxis had deepened a wedge toward Stalingrad from the southwest.

The Russian command said at least 48 German tanks were destroyed and 2,000 nazis killed.

German infiltrations in the city's northwestern defenses were admitted.

Black Sea Embattled

In the Caucasus, the Germans declared Rumanian troops had captured the Black sea port of Anapa, near the Kerch straits across from the Crimea, 30 miles north of the Russian naval base at Novorossisk. The red fleet abandoned the base several weeks ago.

Dispatches to Pravda said German naval parties were attempting to raid the western Caucasus coast, but said the attacks were being crushed while Soviet gunboats, torpedobots and planes blasted nazi-held ports from which the sallies were apparently being made.

Russian cossacks were credited with wiping out 200 German parachutists south of Krasnodar and recapturing a populated point in a stiffening defense of the western Caucasus.

patch reported that Japanese troops had opened a strong attack in the Kokoda sector of New Guinea, 60 miles west of the key allied outpost at Port Moresby.

The dispatch said Australian vanguards fell back under the initial momentum of the enemy attack but restored their positions in heavy, close-quarter fighting.

In the battle of Milne bay, on the southeast tip of New Guinea, Australian troops were reported mopping up scattered enemy forces in the jungles, and dispatches said the enemy had lost the initiative throughout the area.

Japanese Bases Blasted

Meanwhile, united nations fliers dropped ten tons of bombs on the Japanese air base at Lae, northwest of Port Moresby, leaving fires visible 30 miles, and blasted an enemy encampment at Buna, the beachhead of the Kokoda salient.

In Chungking, China's wartime capital, a government spokesman declared that Japan's "rising sun" had already begun to set—"it has certainly passed the noon hour," he said—and predicted that more islands in the southwest Pacific would be wrested from the Japanese.

On the China front, Chinese forces storming across Chekiang province were reported to have intercepted and routed Japanese reinforcements rushed up in a frantic attempt to halt Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's offensive against Kinshwa, one of the last enemy-held air bases in Chekiang.

Chinese dispatches said the Japanese were ambushed as they moved up.

Other Chinese troops were reported to have captured Tangki, 15 miles west of Kinshwa.

Prosecutor Alleges Libel, Asks $150,000

SEATTLE, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Alleging that he had been libeled by an income tax story during the current political campaign, Prosecuting Attorney B. Gray Warner filed suit against the Hearst Publications, Inc., and John Boettiger, publisher of the Post-Intelligencer, for $150,000 damages.

Transient Who Robbed Soldier Given 2 Years

SALEM, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Robert A. Parker, a Texas transient who pleaded guilty to taking $58.50 from a Camp Adair soldier while both were in the Salem city jail, was sentenced to two years in prison yesterday by Circuit Judge Page.

The soldier's money was found on Parker, and the serial numbers of the bills were checked at Camp Adair.

Profiteering, With Nation's Safety At Stake, Rapped by Justice Douglas; Best Material Needed to Beat Axis

PENDLETON, Ore., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Tell the American people what needs to be done to win the war and they will do it, U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said last night.

With his appeal for national guidance, made at a war bond dinner, the justice warned:

"This is no time for haggling over profits, jockeying for personal advantages. We survive as a nation or the Japs and Germans dictate the peace in Washington. The stakes are as large as that; the issue is as bold as that.

"We hear that America is not awake, that it is playing war, that it is not taking seriously either the war or the probable sequel to the war," he said, then admonished:

"Those who think America is complacent about these matters do not know America. The four million American families who have contributed sons and fathers to the armed services have a flesh-and-blood stake in this war. They know what the issues are."

"Those who charge the American people with complacency do not know the eagerness in the hearts of millions upon millions to serve their country in some capacity. They do not know the spirit which pervades the small towns and villages in this land. It is the will to win that counts and that will to win pervades our entire nation."

The vacationing justice, Oregon's lone member of the high tribunal, warned that the only way to beat the axis is with better tanks, airplanes and guns; Best Material Needed.

"All know now what a few predicted—that America, the richest of them all, is the ultimate goal of these modern international gangsters. That realization has brought about the will to win because we know we are fighting for our very lives, our homes, our land and our free institutions.

"Our forces in the field must be equipped with the best material in the world and in the greatest quantities. All this takes money. There are dollar signs on aluminum, steel, magnesium and the other raw materials of war, but there are no dollar signs on freedom."

Palmer Hoyt, Portland publisher and state war bond campaign chairman, told the meeting that the state and Umatilla county will not fill their bond quotas for August. He appealed that the September quota be exceeded by $1,500,000.

Montana Game Surplus Offers Big Food Supply

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 31.—(AP)—You've been hearing about this incipient meat shortage? Well, just in case it comes, nature—assisted by the federal forestry service—has cached away some emergency rations in the western woods.

The annual big game surplus in this area could feed 5,000,000 soldiers for two months without touching the basic herd stock, federal officials estimate.

The surplus in Montana, alone, could supply 2,300 tons of dressed meat annually, releasing sufficient beef, mutton and pork to feed more than 340,800 soldiers for one month, says State Game Warden J. S. McFarland.

to begin promptly the reconsideration of registrants in classes 3-A and 3-B who have collateral dependents.

Registrants with collateral dependents, Horshey said, are to be inducted ahead of men who maintain bona fide family homes.

Collateral dependents, include wives or children with whom the registrant does not maintain a family relationship, and other persons supported by him.

Hershey declared that of registrants between 18 and 20 years "only those who have actually reached their 20th birthday are subject to call until such time as congress may modify the law."
