

News of Men From Douglas County In War Service

Lieutenant Bill Campbell, son of City School Superintendent and Mrs. W. M. Campbell, has completed officers' training at Fort Benning, Georgia, and has been assigned to duty at Camp Butler, Durham, North Carolina. He has been made an officer in the 78th division, which was activated last Aug. 15. Lieutenant Campbell is a graduate of Roseburg high school and University of Oregon. Following graduation from the university, he was employed as an accountant with the Willamette-Hyster company, farm implement manufacturers, at Peoria, Ill., where he was called into active service with the army. He held a reserve commission as the result of his work in the R. O. T. C. at the university. His wife, the former Mary Julia Miller, also a former resident of Roseburg, has moved with Lieutenant Campbell to North Carolina.

According to word received here, Leland Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Russell, of this city, passed his examinations at officers training school at Camp Roberts, Calif., with a grade of 94, which was the highest in his class, and left this week for Fort Benning, Ga., to continue his course at the officers training school there.

Silver navigator's wings are the goal of Navigation Cadet Clair L. Shirey, 24, former Roseburg boy, who recently started his training at the world's largest navigation school at Hondo, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl L. Shirey, 108 Washington street, Eugene, formerly of this city. He was graduated from University of Oregon in 1941. After 15 weeks of intensive training, covering the entire field of aerial navigation, he will graduate as a second lieutenant and be assigned to active duty.

tent to perform more highly skilled work than his current employer is able or willing to provide; (2) When the worker is employed for a substantial period at less than full time; (3) When the distance between the worker's home and his place of employment is unreasonably great; (4) When the worker has compelling personal reasons for wishing to change; (5) When the worker is employed at wages or under working conditions substantially less favorable than those prevailing in the community for the kind of work on which he is employed.

Employers and workers alike may present cases for review and appeal to area war manpower committees. These committees will include equal representation for labor and management.

"It is important to note," McNutt said, "that nothing in the employment stabilization plan will affect the collective bargaining agreements now in force, or established in the future, between unions and employers."

The war labor board now is considering a series of union demands for wage increases in the non-ferrous metal industries. Union leaders have called wage increases necessary to prevent further loss of vital manpower.

Naval Cadet Bid Is Extended To Student Pilots

Opportunities for student pilots and aviators with a limited amount of flying time to receive commissions in the United States navy, obtain additional flying time under the direction of the government and serve their country in the war emergency are open in a new order designed to accelerate the program to obtain naval aviation instructors, Commander Bert H. Creighton, senior member of the district naval aviation cadet selection board announced.

Those who have completed the elementary civilian pilot training or have approximately 50 hours of flying time are eligible to apply. Candidates selected will be ordered to active duty with pay immediately and will receive additional training from the navy. This includes the CPT secondary course, cross country, the flight instructor's course and then training at the naval air station at Pensacola, Florida.

Candidates meeting requirements and between the ages of 19 and 33 years will receive commissions as ensigns and those with additional professional experience and not more than 33 years old will receive commissions as junior grade lieutenants. Only candidates who are not eligible for aviation cadets due to overage, marital status or minor physical defects will be eligible for this training.

The general requirements include approximately 50 hours of flying time, a minimum of high school graduation, meeting the existing physical standards, citizenship in the United States and meeting qualities of desired officer material.

This program opens a wonderful opportunity for men, who have previously been disqualified due to insufficient flying time, marriage or minor physical defects, to enter naval aviation, Commander Creighton said.

Applications for this program will be received at the office of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board, 117 Marion street, Seattle.

grades. Classes will be held twice each week and may be carried in addition to the regular subjects. Partial credit will be granted to all girls who successfully complete the course.

Registration for students in senior and junior high schools will be held Monday to Wednesday, September 21, 22 and 23. At the senior high school, seniors will register Monday, juniors Tuesday and sophomores Wednesday. Ninth grade students will register at the junior high building Monday, eighth grade Tuesday and seventh grade Wednesday. No advance registration will be held in the elementary schools. Each elementary student will be registered in his own grade on the opening day, Monday, September 28.

New Teachers Listed.

New teachers for Roseburg this year include Ruth Hodson and Ruth Roberts at senior high and Janice Findtner, Catherine Found and Reta Fry at junior high. No teacher has been employed to replace Herman Schwartzkopf and his class will be assigned to other members of the staff for the first part of the year.

In addition to the five new teachers, there will be two members of the staff who have previously served in the local schools, Adeline Stewart, who taught at Rose school for a number of years, prior to 1938, has accepted the second grade position at Rose for the coming year. Dora Braughton, who was granted a leave of absence for the 1941-42 school year, in order to complete requirements for a degree at Oregon State college, will return to her former position in the third grade at Rose school.

Ruth Hodson taught last year at Garibaldi, Ore. She received her B. A. degree from Pacific college and has taken additional work at Northwestern School of Commerce and the University of Oregon.

Ruth Roberts has been attending the University of Oregon. Previously Miss Roberts had teaching experience in elementary schools and in the high school of Elk Creek, Neb. She received her degree from the state teachers college in Peru, Neb.

Janice Findtner is a graduate of the University of Oregon and taught last year in the high school at Philomath.

Catherine Found is a graduate of Linfield college and for the last three years has been teaching in the Amity, Ore., high school.

Reta Fry is a graduate of the University of Oregon. She has also studied at the McPhail School of Music in Minneapolis at South Dakota State college and at Northern State Teachers college. For the last two years Miss Fry has been teaching in the more frontal attacks, had been compelled to retreat and that German troops flowed into the gap.

Then, at mid-day, the Russian command announced that massed German frontal assaults, attempting to deepen the wedge, had been repulsed in fierce fighting.

South of the imperilled metropolis, soviet troops struck out at the axis, destroyed a Rumanian headquarters, killed 80 Rumanian officers and men, and blew up seven ammunition trucks.

Nazis Gain In Caucasus

In the western Caucasus, the situation remained acute.

Soviet accounts acknowledged that the Germans had wedged deeper into Russian lines on the approaches to the Black sea naval base at Novorossisk.

The German high command, which announced the capture of the base Sunday, said 6,758 Russians had been taken prisoner in the battle for the city's fort and harbor but admitted that fighting was still in progress around the seaport "with the enemy troops bitterly defending themselves."

Deeper in the Caucasus, the nazis made an unsuccessful counterattack along the Terek river, just above the Grozny oil fields, and asserted that 65 of 100 soviet tanks in the assault had been destroyed.

Rommel Plans New Blow

Egypt—Linked with Wendell L. Willkie's statement that Marshal Rommel had suffered a heavy blow, dispatches from Cairo said the axis chieftain was now regrouping his battered main forces near the starting-point of his ill-fated second bid for the Nile valley.

Front-line reports said axis anti-tank batteries were deployed in an apparent attempt to hold open a passage in the British minefields on the southern sector of the 35-mile El Alamein line, 80 miles west of Alexandria.

Allied planes, light tanks, armored cars and mobile guns maintained their pressure, but there was still no indication that British Gen. Alexander was planning a real counteroffensive.

In London, Prime Minister Churchill told the house of commons that the British Egyptian army was "now stronger actually and relatively than it ever has been" and expressed full confidence "in our ability to maintain a successful defense of Egypt not for days or weeks but for several months ahead."

Mr. Churchill also termed the recent arrival of convoy reinforcements at Malta a guarantee of "life and resistance of the heroic fortress" for "a good many months to come."

a disaster which would interfere with the winning of the war.

"I cannot tell," he said at another point, "what powers may have to be exercised in order to win this war."

Warns On Inflation

In his demand for legislative control over the cost of living, with particular emphasis on farm prices, the president gave solemn assurance that "failure to solve this problem here at home—and to solve it now—will make more difficult the winning of this war."

"If the vicious spiral of inflation ever gets under way," he said, "the whole economic system will stagger. Prices and wages will go up so rapidly that the entire production program will be endangered. The cost of the war, paid by taxpayers, will jump beyond all present calculations. It will mean an uncontrollable rise in prices and in wages which can result in raising the over-all cost of living as high as another 20 per cent."

"Overall stabilization of prices, salaries, wages and profits is necessary to the continued increasing production of planes and tanks and ships and guns."

Bomb Planted as Joke Causes Worker's Arrest

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 8.—(AP)—Discovery of a powerful time bomb in the Western Electric company's vast Kearny plant was disclosed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation today with the arrest of an employee who supposedly had found it.

E. E. Conroy, assistant FBI director, said the bomb was turned over to company guards by Bernard Joseph O'Donnell, 21, of Teaneck.

Had the bomb exploded in a strategic spot it could have killed 100 persons.

O'Donnell was charged with attempted sabotage, but the prisoner protested he had made and planted the bomb only as a joke and to demonstrate that it could be done.
