Army Needs 18-19 Age Recruits, General Says... WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP) Major General James A. Ulio, adjutant general of the army, asserted yesterday that the army "wants and needs" for immediate training "every available young American 18 and 19 years of age."

Editorials on News (Continued from page 1)... most ridiculous of earth's spectacles. They are used expertly, efficiently and gracefully by the Chinese, giving rise to the thought that a people that can master the use of chopsticks is too resourceful to be tackled safely by the Japs or anybody else.

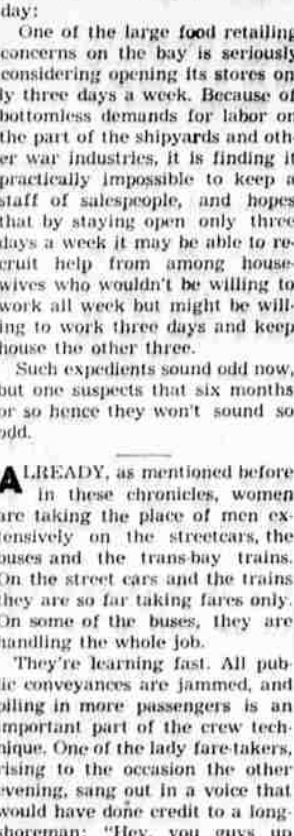

Get two or more people together here (as elsewhere) and it's a safe bet that the conversation will turn soon on the labor shortage and its general effects. This one came up at lunch today: One of the large food retailing concerns on the bay is seriously considering opening its stores only three days a week.

Concerning the NORTHWEST As Viewed at the National Capital By Paul Dunham... WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—War manpower in the western states continues to be one of the most acute problems presented in the national capital from that area.

Byrnes Begins Job To Halt Inflation; Aides Increased

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—James F. Byrnes, who gave up a lifetime job on the supreme court to become director of economic stabilization, assumed yesterday a status equivalent to that of a cabinet member. Byrnes took the oath of office for his new position at the white house late yesterday, and learned then for the first time that his salary would be $15,000 a year. That is $5,000 less than he received as an associate justice, but as much as any cabinet member makes.

Like Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the war production board, Byrnes expected to attend cabinet meetings. He was sworn in just after announcing that President Roosevelt had appointed the last six members of a 14-man board which will help him control the economy of an entire nation for the duration of the war, with the objective of holding down living costs and preventing inflation.

Two representatives each from labor, agriculture and management accepted membership on the board. They were: Labor: Philip Murray, president of the CIO, and William Green, president of the AFL.

Agriculture: Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, and James G. Patton, president of the Farmers' Cooperative union.

Management: Ralph E. Flanders, president of the Jones & Lamson Machine company, Springfield, Vt., and Eric A. Johnston, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States.

They will serve with eight government officials previously named to the board in a presidential order putting the new stabilization program into operation. The government officials are the secretaries of the treasury, agriculture, commerce and labor, the federal reserve board chairman, the price administrator, budget director, and chairman of the war labor board.

Ervin Short, commander of the local chapter, says: "I have seen several examples of the humanitarian service rendered by the D. A. V. which have not only helped the unfortunate individuals directly concerned, but have converted them from community liabilities to commodity assets—relieving the burden of local charity by transferring it to the federal government, where it rightfully belongs, thus bringing new purchasing power into this community."

"I wish all of you could become personally acquainted with these problems. Your eyes would be awakened to the truth that we have not yet fulfilled our generous war-time promises. Your hearts would then prompt you to open your pockets when you buy forget-me-nots next week. Buy a forget-me-not and help a disabled veteran."

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Coach Lon Stiner isn't at all pleased that his '42 Rose Bowl champion, '43 Rose Bowl-gunning Oregon State footballers are favored over U. C. L. A. in their Pacific Coast conference tussle Saturday.

But even Lon cannot dispute the fact that the staters are shooting for their ninth straight victory, having won the final five last season and two thus far this year—plus January's starting 20-16 win over Duke in the transplanted Rose Bowl tilt.

At UCLA yesterday Coach Horrell recognized that "Oregon State is the toughest yet; a win for us would be one of the biggest upsets," and aimed at that upset by putting his squad through a tough two-hour defense scrimmage against Oregon plays.

Lon commented that "the Bruins are vastly underrated; I look for trouble," but he appeared to be packing his own brand of trouble when he brought along 200-pound line-busting Fullback Louis (Choc) Shelton—previously troubled with a leg injury.

Shelton's presence will mean an all-coast fullback candidate, Joe Day, can now get a breather when necessary. Only third string right tackle Lewis Kaplan, suffering a turned right knee, will be absent when UCLA takes the field, Horrell said.

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 9.—(AP)—University of Oregon's football squad took it easy today, awaiting the clash at Portland tomorrow with the University of Washington, while Coach Warren remained undecided on his starting lineup.

The Webfoots, who will be captained by Tommy Roblin, ace left half in the Husky fray, went through their final drill yesterday with Merritt Kufferman in the place of injured Dick Ashcom at right tackle.

TACOMA, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Taking advantage of a fourth quarter break, the College of Puget Sound pushed across a second touchdown to defeat Whitman college, 12-6, in Northwest conference football here last night.

SEATTLE, Oct. 9.—(AP)—With the University of Washington football squad leaving today for Portland, Coach Welch expected to put the Huskies through a final limbering-up workout at Portland for tomorrow's clash with Oregon in the Multnomah stadium.

There was a possibility that Pete Susick, who may start at either quarterback or right half, might be designated captain in his first starting role in his home state. He is from North Bend, Ore.

Move To Roseburg—Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Good and son, Roger, have moved from California to Roseburg and plan to make their home here. Mr. Good is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Good, of Riversdale, and Mrs. Good (Emma Fullerton) is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fullerton of this city.
