Shipbuilder Kaiser Scores Another Feat

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 7. (AP)—Shipbuilder Henry J. Kaiser has accomplished another of those jobs that "can't be done." This time it was building a tank landing vessel where there were no apparent facilities for building it. The craft was launched 125 days after construction of the yard began.
 The shipbuilders couldn't construct working docks because there was no lumber available. Instead, they dug a hole, lined it with concrete and built the ship on sleds. When it was completed it was pulled out by cables.
 There were no cranes obtainable to handle the heavy materials for the ship.
 "So," said Kaiser, "we picked up some scrap steel and made three 150-ton cranes in two months ourselves."
 The ship, which can carry and land tanks, was pre-fabricated in yards and shops throughout the state and brought piecemeal to Richmond for assembling. It was built in 61 days.
 "This," said Kaiser, "is one of those jobs that can't be done."

JOIN Red Cross Notes

An example of the part Red Cross is playing in the lives of the American people is the gain in first aid certificates granted. During world war I, 57,000 certificates were issued by the Red Cross. In 1942 more than 5,000,000 certificates will have been issued. Douglas county has a very fine group of instructors in first aid.

Norman H. Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross, announces that Walter S. Gifford, of New York City, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, has accepted appointment as chairman of the 1943 Red Cross war fund. Mr. Gifford's services were sought with the cordial approval of President Roosevelt, said Mr. Davis. He also stated that the president had designated March, 1943, as Red Cross month when the Red Cross war fund campaign will be held.

The motor corps members have just received the various insignia for use on their uniforms and are about ready to make an appearance in "full dress."
 The nutrition class is now in full swing under capable instruction from Mrs. George E. Houck. The class in home nursing being conducted in senior high, Mrs. Grant H. Moore, instructor, is progressing very satisfactorily. There are a number of classes for adults also.
 The canteen corps held the monthly meeting at the Red Cross rooms, courthouse, October 7. This organization is ready to function on very short notice.
 The hospital and recreation corps (Gray Ladies) started the fall and winter work at the veterans' facility on Monday of this week.

Vicious Rumors Aiding Hitler in United States

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—(AP)—A "flood of vicious rumors" is circulating through the United States and aiding the axis, Robert H. Knapp of the propaganda research division, Massachusetts committee on public safety, reported today.
 A nationwide analysis of false stories heard in cocktail lounges, across bars, in barber shops and over back fences, he said, showed that:
 "The most effective propaganda that Hitler has in America today he is getting free.
 "It is the flood of vicious rumors which are being spread by other-wise loyal Americans, rumors directed against our allies, our government, and racial and religious minorities in our country."
 The "most striking regional differences" shown in the survey, Knapp said, were:
 New England—"This region is conspicuous for the great number of anti-British and anti-semitic rumors current, while those directed against the administration and army and navy are fewer than elsewhere."
 South—"This region is conspicuous for the high frequency of fear-inspired rumors (plagues, suicides, etc., among soldiers). Stories of spy and fifth column activities are unusually high.
 Far west—"The far west shows a high frequency of wedge-driving rumors. Particularly rumors directed against both business and labor."
