Admiral Gives Recipe For Anti-Jap Labor

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 31—(AP)—Rear Admiral Francis W. Rockwell left with shipyard workers at the San Diego Marine Construction Co. his recipe for rivet driving and nail pounding.

Rockwell, one of the men who left Corrigidor in motor torpedo boats with Gen. Douglas MacArthur spoke at the launching of a minesweeper yesterday.

"See the face of a Jap on every rivet and nail you pound," he advised recalling Japanese atrocities in the Pacific warfare.

Sprague Asks Education Week's Observance

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 31—(AP)—Governor Sprague yesterday urged Oregon residents to observe Oregon American education week November 8-14 by "learning more about their schools, what their program is, and what their needs are."

The governor added that "a strong public school system is essential for a successful democratic government. We must maintain and perfect the free educational system of our state and nation."

Holman Asks Civil Air Patrol for West Coast

PORTLAND, Oct. 31—(AP)—Senator Holman believes a civil air patrol should be started immediately on the Pacific coast.

Pointing out that Oregon territory has been subjected to enemy shelling and bombing and that at least two ships have been torpedoed off the coast, he suggested the patrol's establishment in a letter to Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold, army air force commander.

He praised such patrols now in operation along the eastern seaboard and the gulf coast as "helpful to the military forces and effective in the defense of military and civilian interests."

The estimated number of daily workers and visitors at Rockefeller Center in New York is 151,000, or more than the population of all but 51 cities in the United States.

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

In that great classic war epic, Homer's Iliad, the victory of Greece over Troy is postponed for eighteen books out of twenty-two, because two army generals of the Greeks quarreled over the very same issue that brought the war between the two countries. Isn't this an example of our human inconsistencies? How easy sometimes, to see truth in the ideal and miss it in the real. Many a Sir Launfal travels afar in search for the Holy Grail, only to find that he passed it by over his own threshold. It was Hogarth, the artist, who pictured a man in stocks for a private debt, working on paper a scheme to pay the national debt. It is not growth when we lack power to control power. Yours is a great mission. Nothing short of a universal recovery of conduct; of the recovery of sacred human rights; of regard for persons as persons, and not for sex, color, or caste, and of the protection and preservation of life has taken you from the restraining influences of home and loved ones. God give us all integrity that we shall not practice any means that will cancel such noble ends. By His supreme sacrifice our Saviour showed that there were values greater than mere existence. Most people die of something. He died for something and all who have His spirit share a dedication for the kind of a world He believed in. Amen.

Tells How Nazi Swam Rio Grande To Escape FBI

CHICAGO, Oct. 30—(AP)—A private in the U. S. marine corps testified yesterday that Herbert Hans Haupt, one of six Nazi saboteurs executed last August, had boasted that he escaped FBI agents by swimming the Rio Grande river under fire.

Wearing a marine corps uniform, William Leibl, related at the treason trial of six Chicagoans that he had met Haupt in Stuttgart, Germany, May 1, 1942. He added Haupt made a "purely social" visit at the Leibl home, where he boastfully averred that he had been forced to flee the United States because the FBI was trailing him for spreading German propaganda.

Leibl said Haupt told of swimming the Rio Grande with two companions, one of whom was shot. Haupt told the Leibl family that he was given money by the German consul in Mexico City—this was in June, 1941—and sailed for Yokohama, Japan, by way of San Francisco. In Japan, he received more money from the German consul and sailed to Germany on a blockade runner. The entire trip took 180 days and he arrived in Germany just before Christmas.

Leibl, a native Chicagoan, said his father, Joseph Carl Leibl, had lived in South Bend, Ind., from 1931 to 1939, when he accepted a position in Stuttgart as a translator with the German labor party. Leibl was one of the Americans returned last summer on the diplomatic exchange ship Drottningholm. His parents and a brother remained in Germany. Leibl's testimony concerned Haupt's trip from his Chicago home to Germany, where he was trained for sabotage duties.

Snell Broadcast Set For Monday

Local headquarters of the Snell-for-Governor club announced today that a special five-minute transcription broadcast by Earl Snell, republican candidate for governor, will be released over Station, KRNZ at 6:15 p. m. Monday, Nov. 2.

This broadcast has been arranged by the various Snell-for-Governor clubs of Douglas county. Paul Geddes, local attorney, is chairman of the local organization and Mrs. Roy Young is serving as secretary. Other clubs have been organized in each precinct of the county, with the respective republican precinct committeeman acting as chairman and the committeewoman as secretary. An extensive personal campaign has been conducted by each of these groups in an effort to give Snell an overwhelming vote in Douglas county.

These clubs, Attorney Geddes states, are urging all voters to listen to the special broadcast Monday evening.

Nazi Persecution Of Jews Cited At Protest Meeting

LONDON, Oct. 30—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill yesterday declared in a statement that "when this world's struggle ends with the enthronement of human rights racial persecution will be ended."

The prime minister's statement was read by the Archbishop of Canterbury before a meeting convened as a demonstration of protest against Nazi treatment of Jews.

"The systematic cruelties to which the Jewish people, men, women and children, have been exposed under the Nazi regime are among the most terrible evils of history and have placed an indelible stain upon all who perpetrate and instigate them," the Churchill message added.

Premier General Sikorski of the Polish government in exile told the assemblage that "tens of thousands" of Polish Jews had been exterminated and others "driven further east in appalling conditions, treated far worse than herds of cattle."

The Archbishop of Canterbury urged the public today to face the fact of monstrous evil in Europe—"such an eruption of evil as the world has not seen for centuries."

The archbishop, Dr. William Temple, declared that what was happening on the continent was "so horrible that the imagination refuses to picture it."

"The sufferings of 1914-18 and of much of the period between the two wars led to hardening of hearts," he continued. "The drain upon sympathy began to be unbearable. We are in danger of becoming morally numb."

Dr. Temple declared there was every reason to fear that a large proportion of Jews "from two years old and upwards" being deported from France were destined for "the ghastly ghetto in eastern Galicia (Poland) where thousands of Jews already have perished."

"It is hard to resist the conclusion," he said, "that there is a settled purpose to exterminate the Jewish people if it can be done."

BEGGAR BUYS BONDS

NEW YORK—(AP)—Clutching a paper shopping bag, the panhandler walked into a bakery and ordered a loaf of bread freshly sliced. The clerk bleed the bread. The panhandler said he had no money. The clerk called police.

Police saw the contents of the bag, called treasury officials. They left the panhandler minus the bag but with $683 in war bonds.

The bag had contained that sum in old gold-back bills, called in by the treasury, which the panhandler had been hoarding. He didn't get the bread.

Civilian Defense Commission Of New Type Axis Bombs
SALEM, Ore., Oct. 30.—(AP)—State Civilian Defense Coordinator Owen warned all county defense councils today of four new-type incendiary bombs now being used by the axis.
The new types are:
A Japanese 110-pound bomb, containing rubber pellets impregnated with phosphorus, designed to ignite on exposure to air. This bomb may be extinguished by a jet of water.
A German five-pound bomb, which contains both explosive and incendiary charges. The bomb, which burns immediately on impact, many explode in one to seven minutes. This bomb is best fought by using a jet of water, but fire fighters were advised to keep low to avoid the explosive effect.
A 100-pound bomb containing 60 thermite containers and six magnesium containers. A 12-pound charge of TNT in the nose of the bomb explodes on impact.
A bomb containing both phosphorus and oil, and a small bursting charge to scatter the inflammables. The fires will go out when thoroughly soaked, but will re-ignite when the water dries off.
