Bond Record Possible

DOUGLAS county has an opportunity this month to achieve nationwide attention in the purchase of war bonds. With sales already nearly three times more than the established monthly quota, a supreme effort is now in progress to stimulate sales to a point that will see the county safely out in front in both the state and nation. To aid the final sprint to the goal marker, the county chairman has named a special committee and is calling upon every Douglas county resident to do his or her utmost in the closing few hours of the campaign.

November bond sales in Oregon will be credited toward a ten million dollar fund to start construction on a battleship which will bear the name of the state and will succeed the vessel which was such great fame in the Spanish-American war by its heroic race to join the battle of Santiago.

To the county setting the bond sale record in Oregon will go a beautiful chest of drawers from the famous old ship, now being reduced to junk to provide needed metal for the current war. That trophy would go well with the other historic relics at the Douglas county courthouse. We are out in front now. Let's stay there.—C.V.S.

To share THE coffee with your neighbor, you need not share YOUR coffee with him. Regulate your periodical purchases to meet current needs and enough will be left at the retailer's for your fellow consumer. In all probability this suggestion may prove futile, because the coffee rationing order, effective next week, was not caused by a real shortage of a shortage that precipitated a torrent of buying, and it is quite probable that resumption of sales will witness a hangover of such "mob psychology." Bear in mind there is no shortage of coffee. The trouble lies entirely with lack of adequate transportation for normal requirements. Coffee roasting firms of the country are appealing for public restraint and consideration when the beverage product is again open to sale to consumers. "Don't use the first ration stamp immediately if not necessary," epitomizes their plea. Sound judgment, based on full realization of wartime difficulties, deserves endorsement of this plea. If you believe in the tenet, "love thy neighbor as thyself," give him an equal chance to regularly replenish his supply of fresh coffee; don't compel him to increase his "daily dozen" to 13 the coffee "stretch," meaning reuse of grounds or a warmed-up left-over quantity. The resultant bitter taste in his mouth might engender a bitter thought in his mind toward the selfish neighbor who went "whole hog."—L.F.R.

Editorials on News

patches say, are fighting stubbornly. They are burying tanks (to be used as stationary pill boxes) in groups of 30 to 50 around the outer edges of the pocket in which they are caught and are throwing all their available air strength into the fight to prevent the Russians from drawing the string.

In the news today, there are no signs of German demoralization.

In Tunisia, the big battle for control of the air is still on. The land battle hasn't got under way as these words are written.

But it seems likely to start at any moment.

The quicker our side can strike, after getting set, the less time the Germans will have to reinforce themselves from across the Sicilian strait.

THE Japs on the Papuan peninsula on New Guinea are hemmed into a narrow jungle area from one to three miles wide and about 12 miles long, with MacArthur's men pushing them hard. It is straight jungle fighting at close quarters.

Desperate efforts are being made to reinforce the beleaguered Japs from the sea. In this effort the Jap navy has LOST in a week one cruiser, four destroyers and two landing boats (all sunk) with an additional destroyer hard hit and probably sunk and another one badly damaged. They are still getting their taste of Bataan.

THESE words are written on Thanksgiving day. All through the month of November the news has been good. We are TEMPTED to give thanks for that.

Let's resist the temptation. Hard experience is teaching us that a wave of good news is apt to be followed by a wave of bad news. War has always been that way.

Let's save the shouting until we are CLEAR OUT OF THE WOODS.

INSTEAD, let's give thanks for the plain demonstration that our fighting men HAVE WHAT IT TAKES in these days when fighting is the chief business of the world.

Let's give modest thanks, tempered with humility for our many shortcomings, that we at home are SLOWLY beginning to grasp the meaning of OUR part in the war and are giving faint (very faint as yet) signs of willingness to throw ourselves into our tasks as wholeheartedly and unselfishly as our boys on the fighting fronts are throwing themselves into theirs.

We haven't much cause for thanksgiving on that score, but at least a beginning is SOME cause.

Gossip of the Gridiron

SEATTLE, Nov. 28. (AP)—Once-beaten Washington State's Rose Bowl hopes were at stake against a dangerous Washington team here today in the 36th renewal of the annual cross-state gridiron classic.

The power plunging of Fullback Bob Kennedy was conceded generally to be the margin in favor of W. S. C. A link has kept State from winning on the Washington field since the Cougars' 3-0 victory in 1930 on the way to the Rose Bowl.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28. (AP)—Notre Dame and Southern California, football rivals of 16 years' standing, went at it again today.

The fighting Irish had a six pounds-per-man weight advantage in the starting line but the Trojans hoped to offset this with an array of fast stepping backs.

EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 28. (AP)—Michigan State's football team played host today to the 1941 Rose Bowl champions, Oregon State.

Oregon State, which last sent a team here in 1915, rated the edge. Dick Kieppe, triple threat star of Michigan State, is injured and probably won't play.

Ex-Judge D. R. Parker of Condon Passes Away

CONDON, Ore., Nov. 28. (AP)—Funeral services for David R. Parker, 65, former Gilliam county circuit judge, will be held here tomorrow. He died Thursday.

Parker, a member of the selective service board, formerly was district attorney and mayor of Condon. A son and a daughter survive.

David R. Parker's early life was spent at Yoncalla, Ore., where he will be especially well remembered. His death followed by only a few weeks that of the man who succeeded him as circuit judge, Carl Hendricks, who was killed in a hunting accident during the deer season.

Miss Holmes Assigned to Training in WAAC

Miss Maurice G. Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Holmes of Lookingglass, the first Douglas county candidate to be enlisted in the WAACs, is now located at Fort Lee, Mo., according to word received by her parents. She arrived at the post Nov. 16 and was immediately assigned to training with the 15th company, 3rd regiment.

Here On Business—Clarence Tolson and daughter, Mrs. J. C. Livingston, and her small son, John of Glendale, were visitors in this city yesterday.

Concerning the NORTHWEST As Viewed at the National Capital By John W. Kelly

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—Laying a little groundwork in anticipation of the Bonneville power administration effort to acquire properties of the Portland General Electric Co., the securities and exchange commission (SEC) will hold supplemental hearings in Portland sometime in January. Presumably, there is no such understanding between Dr. Paul Raver, Bonneville administrator, and SEC, but in the long run it amounts to just that.

Hearings by SEC have just been concluded in Philadelphia (where SEC was transferred from the national capital in the recent decentralization program), and on the witness stand was Dr. Dittmer of Bonneville, who testified that the P. G. E. properties were worth only about $50,000,000, and while he appeared as an authority he could not tell how many lawyers are on the Bonneville payroll nor what they do. Company witnesses contended that the properties are worth between $64,000,000 and $65,000,000, based on earnings.

Mikado Is Negligent

Officers of the American air force in Alaska are awaiting a reply from the mikado of Japan. A group of fliers sent a letter to Hirohito, inviting him to come and visit them, or if he is too busy he can send substitutes in any number by air, surface or undersea vessels. The letter was mailed, but whether the U. S. postal department will be able to transmit it to Japan is another matter. However, the fliers are hopeful. And in Alaska are four dozen fighter planes, winterized, that the Russians asked for under lend-lease and which they now say they do not want, giving no explanation as usual.

Big Shop Era Passing

About six weeks are required for a steamer to go from the west coast to Australia. Since the Solomon Islands campaign, General MacArthur sent for important supplies. Within 48 hours a large transport plane was loaded with these essential items and took off from an unnamed port on the Pacific coast. In 41 days the plane delivered its cargo at General MacArthur's headquarters. This is the kind of overseas service that can be expected when peace comes again. There will be no more mammoth ships like the Queen Elizabeth built; export companies are planning on flying freighters and passenger sky-liners. Instead, (Queen Elizabeth arrived a few days ago with crew members of American merchant ships which had been sunk in the north Atlantic; these survivors were returning to their homes in Oregon and Washington).

Copper, Zinc Neglected

It is impossible to make brass shells without copper and zinc, both of which are found in the northwest. Fifty fighter planes in the Solomons shot away several tons of copper in a minute;

DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

When past generations in America were growing up they were educated in faith. Reading, writing and arithmetic were essential parts of the curriculum, but so was faith, which taught children that they possessed the power to use what they had learned. That was part of every child's heritage as an American and it still ought to be. The times today call for men of faith, and if the church was essential to the life of America in the past she is many times more essential in this present time. What we need is more knowledge called from books. We need the thing that makes us men, the knowledge of the life of God in us, and the faith that can move mountains. We need to know more about those men and women of whom the eleventh chapter of Hebrews speaks, who by faith "subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouth of lions, quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in flight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens." This kind of education takes us to the roots of life, and action. Without it we cannot fulfill our duty to this generation of Americans. May God help us.

without copper there can be no flying fortresses built by Boeing nor any Liberty ships built by Kaiser, nor submarines, nor aircraft carriers. The powers that be are scratching their heads to discover how they can produce copper—and the copper and zinc still remain undisturbed in the mountains of Washington and Oregon.

The copper branch of metals reserve says that it wishes to develop these latent properties, but to this moment nothing has been done. The war effort starts with the miner who digs the copper and zinc from the ground (highest priority is now given to purchase mine machinery repairs and operating supplies, formerly held by air craft) but somehow, for some reason there is delay in putting these miners to work.

Perhaps before the war is over the federal government will get around to seeing that the northwest mines are developed.

News of Men From Douglas County In War Service

According to word received here, Robert Harris, son of Mayor and Mrs. W. F. Harris, of this city has been advanced in rank to first lieutenant. He is stationed at Camp Bowie, Tex., and with his wife (the former Patricia Turner of Roseburg) resides at Brownwood, Tex.

Reedsport Pay Dispute Certified to Labor Body

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—A dispute over wages and vacation pay, involving eight lumber and logging operators near Reedsport, Ore., and CIO woodworkers, was certified yesterday to the war labor board.

Leave For School—Charles Beckley and Tommy Shrum, students at O. S. C., spent the Thanksgiving holiday here with relatives.
