

Flood Damage in Willamette Area Being Checked

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 1.—(AP)—State highway officials were checking roads for washed out spots today while residents of flooded areas surveyed water-damaged property, in the wake of the worst Willamette river flood in Lane county since 1932.

The river had receded to 8 feet at Eugene this morning, four feet below flood stage, and all roads, with the exception of a few logging routes which were washed out at points, were open to traffic.

The Willamette highway suffered damage at several places, but officials said traffic was going through.

The toll of bridges destroyed by the rampaging waters of the Willamette and its tributaries was raised to five, with three logging bridges on the McKenzie destroyed, a bridge at Westfir washed out, and a high water channel span at Lowell ripped out.

ALBANY, Ore., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Linn and Benton county farmers moved livestock to higher ground today as a Willamette river flood crest moved toward them.

Weather observer Seth French said the river would reach the 25-foot level, five feet above flood stage, at Albany.

Upstream, the river was dropping.

News-Review to Speed Daily Deliveries

two points and stage terminals on the highway. Efforts are being made to arrange a messenger service between Canyonville and Riddle and between Glendale Junction and Glendale.

The News-Review for many years has been proud of the fact that it has delivered papers to Pacific highway towns, both north and south of Roseburg in the early afternoon of the date of publication. In recent weeks the schedule has been disrupted by manpower shortage in the typesetting department. The News-Review, however, has employed Ross Jacobs as linotype operator to replace Harry Fletcher, who recently joined the U. S. navy, and expects to have typesetting production up to normal in the very near future.

The removal of the mail stages has created a very difficult delivery problem, which, however, will soon be relieved, it is expected, through the contract with the Greyhound lines.

Although the new method of operation will add much in the way of expense, the News-Review is hopeful that it will soon be able to restore the desired speedy delivery service to its readers.

Vichy Cabinet's Refusal To Vote War on Allies Told; Four Subs Escape

murder of the home fleet, gave the order to scuttle after making preparations for the act months before. He personally inspected the setting of explosives on the 60 odd ships in the harbor.

These sources said that none of the captains went down with their ships, as earlier reported but that "everything was scuttled—even the harbor tugboats."

They reported Admiral de la Borde was interned as a civilian at Aix En Provence.

French crewmen at Toulon were put on the alert immediately when the allies landed in North Africa, it was said, and when the Germans sent to occupy south France reached the Toulon defenses Nov. 12 and sent delegates demanding surrender of the base, the answer was: "withdraw or we fire."

The Germans withdrew and while Hitler was sending target forces to overcome the French marines, Berlin issued a statement "congratulating" the French commander on his decision to defend Toulon "Against aggression."

When the Germans returned in force, it was declared, the sea-cocks of the mighty fleet were opened and the charges exploded. Most of the ships heeled over on reaching bottom, although the superstructures of some of the larger ships are still showing.

The Vichy radio reported today that gates of Toulon naval arsenal were ordered closed until further notice yesterday when rioting broke out over an order to resume work there.

Nazis' Counterattacks To Save Rzhnev Repulsed man transport planes were said to have dropped food and munitions to encircled garrisons.

The Russians said nazis officers were trying to conceal from their men that they were cut off. However, these probably were isolated, though strong, enemy units, and soviet dispatches did not intimate that the whole enemy army had been surrounded between the Volga and the Don.

Snow and fog hampered air operations in that area, but the Russians also put planes in the air and said about 300 nazi infantrymen had been killed in two days by Red Army bombing and Aerial machinegunning assaults.

The Germans were reported to have developed fortifications in great depth to wall off Rzhnev, but the Red army was said to be penetrating them with artillery and tanks leading the way for cavalry and infantry.

Still another segment of the nazis' long line in Russia apparently was being tested out, possibly as a prelude to a new Red army stroke. There were reports of scouting operations in the region of Bryansk, about 220 miles southwest of Moscow.

Gas Rationing Starts Amid Praise, Criticism

mileage until local ration boards can issue supplemental "B" or "C" cards. Issuance of new transport ration for trucks, buses, taxis and other commercial vehicles on a basis of certified need, also was reported near completion. Commercial operators who have not yet received their certificates may obtain temporary fuel rations.

In the newly rationed areas, motorists who have not asked for the basic "A" books may apply at local boards starting Wednesday. Their dealers and distributors must register with the local rationing boards today or tomorrow to report gasoline supplies on hand at 12:01 a. m. today when the program began.

Later Inspection Deadline
If car owners want to continue obtaining gasoline, OPA reminded, they must file their tire serial numbers with local boards in time to get a tire inspection record by Dec 12. The deadline was postponed from Dec. 1 because the Railway Express agency was unable in many places to cope with a last minute rush of pick-up orders for idle tires.

In order to obtain gasoline, all extra tires over five each passenger car must be sold to the government.

Farm state senators, meanwhile, renewed a demand for immediate construction of plants to manufacture grain alcohol for synthetic rubber production. Chairman Gillette (D-Iowa) of an agriculture subcommittee said the group will seek to find out why Rubber Administrator William Jeffers failed to start projects to make 10,000,000 gallons of alcohol annually from grain.

LIQUOR, GAS LINKED IN SCRAMBLE OF HOARDERS
(By the Associated Press)

Nation-wide gasoline rationing became effective today, ending a wild scramble by motorists to lay in a reserve stock—liquor as well as gasoline—for emergencies.

They stored their precious fuel in everything from abandoned filling stations to open dishpans, despite frantic warnings from fire department officials.

Even before the midnight rationing deadline, two fires were blamed on the makeshift storage devices and at least one man was burned severely.

While the remainder of the nation was engrossed with gasoline storage there was another rush down in dry Oklahoma—to stock up on liquor before the four-gallon a week quota became effective and stopped travel to nearby wet states.

And state law enforcement officers fondly hoped the rationing would eliminate bootleggers—just as sugar rationing already has eliminated moonshiners to a large extent.

Already a pint of bourbon is quoted at $5, and Safety Director Walter John said that while big bootleggers might be able to pool their gasoline supplies the price of the small quantities available would be so high the average man wouldn't know any was on the market.

Texas officers reported that highways from Joplin, Mo., and Fort Smith, Ark., have been carrying heavy traffic in recent weeks, most of it motorists bringing home a case or two of liquor.

Elsewhere, though it was gasoline that was worrying motor car owners and fire departments, State and federal officials over in Potter county, Texas, were worrying right along with private motorists.

The rationing board at Amarillo voted unanimously to reject preferred mileage applications of all state and federal agencies except those engaged in police work.

Those turned down included the deputy collector of internal revenue, tax enforcement men in the state comptroller's office, and all government agencies the board considered to be competing with private concerns such as loan and investment companies.

In case you're anxious to get next week's ration ahead of time, there's a way to do it.

All you have to do is to go to San Francisco and run out of gas on the eight mile Oakland-San Francisco bridge. Bridge authorities then will take up your next coupon and sell you the gas at 30 cents a gallon.

The Italians acknowledged that the allies again hammered Sicily from the air, the targets including Palermo, Gela and Trapani. Two allied planes were reported downed in attacks on these supply bases, for the axis in north Africa.

Ankara dispatches reported that German troops were reaching Greece at the rate of a division—10,000 to 15,000 men—a week to take up the slack left by the rushing of reinforcements to north Africa.

The Berlin radio broadcast a boast that "very considerable reinforcements" of men and heavy arms had reached Marshal Rommel's Africa corps at El Aghaila, where he has pulled up after an 800-mile retreat from Egypt.

BOSTON BAKED BEANS (Patriotic too)

5 cups cooked 1/2 cup porks dried beans 1/2 cup salt 1/2 cup water 2 shape dark molasses 2 slices brown mustard 2 slices tomato

Place cooked beans in well-greased 1 1/2 qt. casserole. Thoroughly combine onion, mustard, porks, salt, water and molasses. Pour over beans. Strip with bacon. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour and 15 minutes or until browned. Serves 6.

THIS IS IMPORTANT

UP-TO-DATE bean cookery suggests that to cook navy, lima, pink and red, kidney or cranberry beans, you pick over beans carefully, removing any damaged beans or foreign particles. Wash well in sieve or bowl. *Do not soak. Improved agricultural methods have made it possible to produce more tender beans with tender skins. Soaking will cut cooking time about one-third, but makes beans mushy and unattractive. Place in kettle at least 4 times greater in volume than beans. Add hot water to cover and 1 tsp. salt for each cup beans and cover. Cook at simmering temperature until beans are tender, 2 to 3 hours. Add more water as needed to keep beans well covered during cooking.

*Limas should be soaked in water to cover 6 to 8 hours or over night as they cling to their tough outer skin.

Beans for "Pepper-Upper" Vitamins

Beans are important—now! They're chock full of nutritious goodness, especially Vitamin B— that "pepper-upper" vitamin that acts as the vitamin miracle man, stimulating run-down appetites and quieting jangled nerves. Beans also contain protein, perfect in combination with different vegetables as the main dish of a meal.

When served as in this menu given below, beans become family favorites—and interchangeable dependables.
