Heavier Taxes Coming

THE future holds no consolation for the American taxpayer. In fact it promises only a heavier burden, according to Dr. Henri S. Bloch, a French fiscal expert, on the staff of the University of Chicago as a research economist. Increased taxes, price control and rationing, necessitated by the war effort, are only a foretaste of what lies ahead, Dr. Bloch predicted. Asserting that present taxation is producing only one-fourth of this fiscal year's governmental expenditures, against one-third during the last war, Dr. Bloch declared this ratio must be raised to one-half if the United States is to reach the level in Great Britain and Canada.

Personal income taxes have become the biggest source of national revenue and will remain in this position with expansion in war financing, Dr. Bloch said. He went on to say:

"Pressure groups are still trying to protect the special interests. Loopholes such as tax avoidance by filing separate returns, tax exemption of state and local bonds, and the depletion allowances for mines and oil wells benefit a minority at the expense of the majority. The treasury has long demanded the closing of these leaks.

"There will probably be 'forced savings' or 'deferred pay' as it exists in Great Britain and Canada. The low income groups should get a future return on part of their tax. This would enhance their security."

Dr. Bloch said that the victory tax, a 5 per cent levy applying to wages and salaries beginning Jan. 1, "is just the beginning of current tax collection at the source and of post-war credits. Both principles soon will be applied to income taxes as well."

All of which is hardly conducive to holiday cheer, but accept such solace as you may in the thought that it is better to pay taxes—regardless of their size—to Uncle Sam, to preserve your freedom, than to pay tribute to the axis as the penalty of servitude. Digging deeper into your purse may be very unpleasant, but it doesn't carry the hazard experienced by the boy who digs in on the battlefield to make your country a safe place in which to live.—L.F.R.

Top Wages Paid Timber Workers in Douglas, Coos

Timber workers in the Coos and Douglas county areas, who once were the lowest paid in the industry are now enjoying wages in the highest brackets, where contracts have been made for representation, according to W. L. Harris, business manager of Local 140, International Woodworkers of America (I. W. O.), who was a business visitor in Roseburg Tuesday. Mr. Harris, who also is representative of the Coos bay district, states that more than 2,000 workers are now represented by the I. W. A., forming one of the largest groups of organized workers in the industry.

British would have been equally effective.

General Catroux's statement was the bitterest and most forthright yet made by any fighting French spokesman about Darlan, former commander of Vichy's armed forces who assumed powers of Chief of State in the north African colonies after the AEP landings.

Allies Should End Pact With Darlan, Gen. Catroux Says

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Gen. Georges Catroux declared yesterday that the expedient of allied collaboration with Admiral Darlan in French North Africa should be ended quickly because, "speaking on purely military grounds, I say Darlan is dangerous."

One cannot avoid feeling a certain apprehension when one considers these lines of communication under the control of a man like Darlan.

He declared that an agreement with Gen. Girault, who heads a French north African force fighting alongside the Americans and Nine cases for increases in pay from Reciprocity and Drain districts now are pending before the national labor relations board, he reports, while in addition three cases are pending: from Coos bay and one each from Copuille and Port Orford.

Harris met with the loggers of the Smith Wood Products company of Sutherlin, who will vote Dec. 10 on a bargaining agency, conforming to an order by the NLRB calling the election.

The local headquarters of the I. W. A. also was visited by Orville Smith, business agent of the Springfield Plywood local, where 700 men are organized. Smith conferred with local representatives, being interested in activities here because of the large number of peeler logs going from Douglas county to the Springfield plant.

 On the first anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor, America launched its newest aircraft carrier—the U. S. S. Bunker Hill—named for one of the most famous battles of American history, and elsewhere in the nation new launchings rose to a thunderous crescendo.

The mighty battleship New Jersey, hit the water at the Philadelphia navy yard during the day, while at Tampa, Fla., seven warships were launched and a navy receiving station commissioned.

The destroyer U. S. S. Sigsbee, named for the late Admiral Charles Dwight Sigsbee, who commanded the U. S. S. Maine when she was sunk in Havana harbor in 1898, went down the ways at the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock company, Kearny, N. J.

The Bunker Hill, sister ship of the recently-launched new carrier Lexington, was launched at Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation yards at Quincy, Mass., from which the heroic carriers Lexington and Wasp went forth to serve their country until they went down.

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

There never has been a greater menace to civilization and the cause of righteousness than the slavery and wretchedness imposed upon humanity by the liquor traffic. There never has been a land nor an age in which people have not felt the merciless grip of its fetters. It has broken homes, saddened more hearts, impoverished more families, provided more quarrels, fostered more fights, wrecked more lives, blasted more hopes and reputations, committed more crimes, lost more wars and ruined more nations than any evil agency in this world. It is the sum of all villainies, the father of all crimes, the mother of all abominations, the curse of all curses, the devil's best friend and God's worst enemy. Babylon was overthrown in a night of revelry and debauchery. The dawn found the victorious Persian in complete possession of the city. Alexander the Great and his armies were at first invincible. But after he had conquered the world, he was himself conquered by the wine cup. While he was master of the world he became a slave to alcohol and died at thirty-two in a drunken debauch. The Romans made themselves masters of the world through abominable habits, but later became effeminated and debauched. Amen.
