Huskies Get Even With OSC Quint By 44-39 Victory

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 21—(AP)—The University of Washington Huskies jumped back into the thick of the northern division basketball race last night by out-shooting Oregon State, Pacific coast champions, 44-39.

The Beavers won Tuesday night, 42-39.

The Washington victory threw the Huskies, O. S. C., and Washington State college into a tie for second position behind the current pace setters, the University of Oregon. It also lent importance in the early phases of the race to the two game series Washington will play with the division leaders at Eugene Friday and Saturday nights.

The Webfoots grabbed a bulge on the rest of the division by two victories over Idaho before the rest of the league got started. Then they split a two-game series with Washington State. The Cougars open their first series with Idaho Friday night.

Last night's was a rugged contest during which 38 fouls were called. Don Durand, with 20 points, threatened throughout to push the Beavers out in front, but better marksmanship from the field and foul line kept the Huskies in the lead.

O. S. C. led but once in the contest, 5-4 early in the game. After that the count was knotted twice at 5-5 and 9-9 before Bobby Morris, Washington guard, found the range to give his club a 13-9 lead which was never relinquished.

It was 28-22 Washington at the half after Durand had come close to closing the gap.

For the Beavers the second half was virtually a one-man show, with Durand always threatening to pull his club even. But a minute to go, the state flash scored twice to make it 39-42, but Leaske also caged one to make Washington safe.

Victory, of course. Then what? More big business? Of course. It takes big business to handle our needs and wants. But who is going to own and control these big businesses?
