Also, on the table, a gift from their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Madison, was a lovely urn-shaped, electric coffee-maker very much in use—of chrome metal, with sugar bowl and creamer and accompanying tray. On top of the cake, carved from candied citron, were the years: 1918-1943. And from the center of the cake arose a silver-edged staff, holding by silver bows, a silvered wishbone and little booklet, wishing Charles and Hannah "Many Happy Returns of the Day." From the top of this upright were five silver ribbons running down to five white candles, one for each five years of married life, arranged at the base of the cake. Mrs. Rader was assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Madison in decorating the cake.

Guests attending later in the day were Mr. and Mrs. Fay Madison and Mr. Gale Madison. The only thing to mar the joyousness of the occasion was that Mrs. Mae Madison, teacher in the Glendale schools, could not be present.
