Funeral Services Set For George C. Miller

Funeral services will be held in Community church at Yoncalla at 2 p. m. Thursday for George Chester Miller, 52, who died at his home in the Hayhurst district Sunday from what was reported by the county coroner to be a self-inflicted gunshot wound. Born at Yoncalla, December 18, 1890, he had been a continuous resident of Douglas county except for his period of service in the first world war. He was married in Roseburg, November 7, 1925, to Edna Louise Myers. Surviving are the widow, a son by a previous marriage, Benjamin Veri Miller, now in the U. S. navy, and three daughters, Clara Louella, Ida Louise and Georgia Mae Miller, all at home. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Ida Mae Jones, Chico, Calif., and Mrs. Rachel Eola Kruse, Yoncalla, and a brother, J. Fletcher Miller, Yoncalla. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World lodge. The funeral arrangements are in charge of Stearns Mortuary, Oakland.

A Natural Under the Basket

Eight and three are 11, and 7-foot-11 Sid Otten is natural under basket for Bowling Green, O., University. Better on defense than offense, lowering center simply bats out would-be goals. Teammates are Joe Siegfert, left, and Capt. Mike Kish.

Don't Look Now, But—

Lumber tycoon A. Stanwood Murphy, left, doesn't seem particularly interested that former Movie Actress Madge Bellamy looks his way as they appeared in San Francisco Municipal Court, where Miss Bellamy was to answer charges of assault with a deadly weapon—with Murphy as the object of the shooting. At right, Murphy's attorney, Harold Faulkner, appears puzzled about something.
