Ex-Congressman Pierce To Live Near Salem

DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

He takes the sound of the dropping nuts And the scent of the wine sweet air. In the twilight time of the year's long day. When the spent earth kneels in prayer; He takes a thousand varied hues, Aglow in an opal haze, The joy of the harvest gather ed in,

And makes the autumn days,

He takes the peace of the snowy fields, Asleep 'neath the clear, cold moon, He takes the grace of the leaf less trees That sways to the wind's wild The frost made lace on the window pane, The whirl of the starry flakes The joy of the rest when toil

And the quiet winter makes. He takes the years-the old the new. With their changing scene and brief, close-shut bud and the truiting bough, Flower and fading leaf; Grace and glory and lack and toss. The song, the sigh, the strife, The joy of hope and the hope fulfilled— And makes of the years a life. Amen.
