Criminal Neglect Shown in Slowed Shipbuilding Pace

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—A house naval subcommittee reported today that the American shipbuilding industry, "almost criminally neglected" after the first world war, could produce up to 20,000,000 tons of shipping this year if what it described as "undue and unnecessary" delays are corrected.

The committee, reporting on an investigation made last December of west coast shipyards working on naval contracts, urged that an "over-all shipbuilding supervisor" be placed on the Pacific coast and that field representatives be given more authority to straighten out allocation and priority snarls.

The committee, consisting of Rep. Magnuson (D-Wash.), chairman, and Rep. Anderson (R-Calif.) reported finding "considerable confusion as to the authority and discretion allowed navy supervisors of shipbuilding in the field, particularly with respect to authority in the supervisors to permit substitutions for specified materials presently unavailable."

"Much testimony was heard to the effect that a serious bottleneck has occurred in many of the yards because of men having to wait too long to get materials out of the warehouse. Especially does this arise when material allotted for specific ships, which is not immediately needed for those ships, cannot be transferred to other ships where the material might be utilized immediately."

The committee strongly recommends a relaxation of such a rigid system of allotments, in the discretion of the supervisor of shipbuilding.

Other findings—on a nationwide basis—included:
1. Manhours lost because of absenteeism totaled 12,700,000 in December alone, compared with 170,000 manhours lost as a result of shipyard strikes during the entire year of 1942.

2. Strikes in other industries making materials for shipyards resulted in a lag "far behind schedule."
3. Although selective service hasn't crippled the industry, it has caused much unrest among workmen "due to their uncertainty" regarding draft board policies.

4. At least 15 per cent of total shipyard employment will consist of women by the end of February.

5. All standing closed-shop agreements with recognized labor organizations should be frozen for the duration.
6. Criticism of cost-plus contracts were "for the most part unfounded and due to misconception."

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

NIGHT COUGHS

YOUR CHILD'S coughing at night—caused by throat "tickles" or irritation, mouth breathing, or a cold—can often be prevented by rubbing throat and chest with Vicks VapoRub at bedtime.

VAPORUB'S poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation, helps clear upper air passages, thus tends to stop mouth breathing and invite restful sleep. Try it!

List of Eligibles for "C" Gas Books Enlarged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The OPA today made thousands of additional motorists eligible for "C" book gasoline rations.

"C" books formerly could be issued only to drivers on a preferred list, such as physicians and essential war workers.

Today's order provided that, under certain circumstances, persons who could not get enough gas on a "B" book to drive to and from work could get "C" books, regardless of occupation. Applications, however, must be approved not only by local ration boards but also by district OPA offices.

The applicant must prove that his driving is in connection with his work, including driving to and from work, that he pools his car with others and that no reasonably adequate alternative means of transportation is available.

Surviving are his wife, a resident of Alameda, Calif., his parents, a brother, Kenneth Miller, now at Pearl Harbor, and three sisters, Mrs. William Bromps, Roseburg; Mrs. L. P.
