F. R. Vows Aid to China as Soon as "Lord Lets Us"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek said at the white house today that Americans could help the Chinese best by sending more implements of war and President Roosevelt declared this was going to be done as quickly as the Lord will let us.

Mr. Roosevelt reemphasized the intention of the united nations to use China actively as a base for attacking Japan, while efforts continue to destroy the Japanese lines in the Pacific islands.

To a question as to how aid to the Chinese might be stepped up, Madame Chiang referred to the president's remark about as soon as the Lord will permit us and said she would append the saying that the Lord helps those who help themselves.

The conference turned to the question of the size of the American army and Mr. Roosevelt asserted that the goal was still 7,500,000 men in khaki by the end of 1943. He said that he could not now figure beyond that point. At that time, he said, there will be approximately 10,800,000 in all the armed services.

Transportation Major Factor—Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that transportation is the key to getting more assistance to the Chinese, whom Madame Chiang said has been fighting for years without overhead protection and sometimes only with swords.

Asked whether China is using all her manpower effectively in the effort to smash the Japanese, she replied that all the manpower is being employed to the extent that munitions are available for it. The Chinese, she said, can not fight bare handed.

Mr. Roosevelt said the American people are all for sending more munitions to the Chinese, but he pointed out that this can not be done directly except by air over the route from the southwest. Transport planes, he said, must carry not only enough gasoline to get them into China, but enough for their return to their bases, and still find room for munitions and the supplies to keep fighting planes going in China itself.

Straightener Of Bale Tie Easily Made of Lumber

A few two-by-fours and other pieces of scrap lumber, a pair of strap hinges, a half dozen bolts, and a piece of old file are about all the material needed for making a simple but successful bale tie straightener that will put old baling wire into perfect condition for use again. Directions for making and using this simple tie straightener are contained in a new station circular No. 145, just issued by the agricultural experiment station at Oregon State college.

With the critical shortage of new materials for making baling wire, farmers were urged some time ago to save all the old ties and use them again. Immediately plans for straightening were forthcoming from several sources but all of them were fairly complicated and required considerable steel in their construction. Men in the agricultural engineering department at O.S.C. set about making one that would be simple, effective, and almost completely constructed of wood.

The result is a model now described in this new circular by F. E. Price and Dale E. Kirk of the department. The circular contains detailed drawings, the bill of materials, and other necessary directions. The device is so easy to operate that two boys or girls can keep all the baling wire on any farm straightened with a few minutes work from time to time.

The circular may be obtained free from any extension office or direct from the college.

Roseburg Indians, Ashland Lithians To Clash Tonight

The Roseburg high school Indians tonight and tomorrow will play their last home basketball games of the season's schedule. They will meet the Ashland Lithians at 7:30 o'clock tonight and their final home game of the season will be played against the same team Saturday night starting at 8:15 o'clock. Saturday night's game will be preceded by a preliminary between the junior high school team, coached by Dr. G. C. Finlay, and a team of sophomores. The preliminary will start at 7 o'clock.

The Lithians, who have shown rapid improvement throughout the season, hold two victories over the Indians, and Roseburg is anxious to secure revenge for the two losses suffered on the trip to Ashland. The only two games won by the Lithians in conference play were at the expense of Roseburg, but Ashland has dropped several very close games and is a much stronger team than its position in the league standings would indicate. The Lithians lost to the strong Klamath Falls Pelicans by only one point, and Medford had a hard time beating Ashland on the Medford floor, 25 to 22, last week.

Ashland's team lacks the height of the Indians, but the squad is exceptionally fast. The players are clever ball handlers and good shots.

Tonight's game, starting at 7:30 o'clock, promises to be a very heated contest and fans are assured of plenty of action, according to Hod Turner, local coach.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"How soon do you leave for camp, Bob?"
"Next Tuesday, Judge. Bill and George are leaving the same time. We're hoping to wind up in a tank outfit."

"Well, the way I've seen you handle a tractor, Bob, you ought to be right at home in one of those tanks. You're going to like the service—they're a great bunch of fellows. Just last week I went down to camp to see a young nephew of mine and he introduced me to some of his buddies. Fine fellows—real he-men just like you and Bill and George—from good American homes. Handle themselves well, too."

"You know, I've been checking up on it, Bob, and I've found out that the American army today is healthier, better disciplined, better trained, better taken care of than it has ever been in its history. And you can take my word for it, Mary, he'll come back to you a fine man in great shape. Best of luck to you, Bob."
