Top Hoopsters of Southern Oregon Set for Finals

The leading basketball teams of southern Oregon are preparing for the final games of the season as elimination contests are scheduled in preparation for the state championship finals.

The southern Oregon B league contestant for the state honors will be determined Saturday night when the teams representing Central Point and Powers high schools meet at the Roseburg high school gymnasium. Each has won county and district championships and will meet here to determine which shall represent the southern Oregon division in the state title tourney at Salem. The game promises to be hard-fought and exciting. Local sports fans are being urged to attend the game to lend encouragement to the visiting players who will have few of their own fans present because of travel restrictions.

Klamath Falls, North Bend, Grants Pass and Medford will meet Friday and Saturday at Ashland in the district tournament to determine the A team to participate in the Salem finals. Medford, runner up in the Southern Oregon conference as a result of the two defeats suffered by the Roseburg Indians at Grants Pass, defeated Myrtle Point, Coos county second place team, in a game at Medford Tuesday, winning easily with a score of 44 to 26.

Medford will play North Bend at Ashland at 7:30 p. m. Friday and Grants Pass will play Klamath Falls at 8:30 p. m. The two Friday winners will meet at 8:30 p. m. Saturday and the victor will go to the Salem tournament.

British King Toils In Overalls in Gun Plant

LONDON, March 4.—(AP)—King George VI of England, who was a midshipman in the British navy at Jutland during the first world war, is turning out precision parts for RAF guns two nights a week in a British factory. An apt student, on the word of his foreman, he qualified for the task with a week's apprenticeship and now dons overalls from 6 to 8:30 p. m. on work nights.

Other members of the royal staff have been doing similar work and it was on a visit to the factory to watch them that the king's interest was aroused and he asked for a job. He was told he would need training. "I rather fancy I might be pretty good at the job. I think I'll start at once," he said. Off came his coat, and he took his first training in a lesson that continued for an hour.

Induction Of Some Fathers in May Is Predicted

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(AP)—Officials said yesterday it would be a "pretty reasonable guess" that some local draft boards will start taking fathers of children on May 1 or shortly thereafter and that inductions of married men with children would be fairly general by early summer. The first fathers to be inducted probably will be those in recently-classified "non-deferable" occupations, one informed but unquotable official said. He added that a number of boards have reached the bottom of their reservoirs of single men and will have to start taking fathers as soon as orders are issued from Washington instructing them to do so. Some boards already are taking married men with children, he acknowledged, but only those who became fathers after Pearl Harbor or at a time when induction was imminent.

It could not be learned whether plans call for taking men with few children first and those with large families later. It was pointed out that the drafting of fathers would not start simultaneously in all parts of the country because of the regional variations in the number of single men available and the varying necessity for deferring workers for war industry and essential agricultural work.

DARLINGTON, S. C.—Miss Mildred Kinsley of the court clerk's office asked the 80-year old applicant for a marriage license the name of the bride-elect and was flabbergasted to get this reply: "Do you have to know that?" Informed that she did, the man said, "well, I'll have to go and find out; I don't know." He left hurriedly and returned shortly with the name of his 62-year old bride-to-be. The license then was issued.

No Criminal Blame In Asylum Deaths Found

SALEM, Ore., March 4.—(AP)—The Marion county grand jury, investigating the deaths last November of 47 state hospital patients because of roach powder poisoning, recommended today that the hospital hire more employees so it would not have to depend so much on inmate help. A patient, looking for powdered milk, got into a barrel of roach powder, which was mixed with scrambled eggs and fed to the patients. The jury held that no individual can be held criminally responsible. The jury commended Dr. J. C.

Evans, hospital superintendent, for their "efficient work" in saving the lives of 400 other patients who had eaten the poison.
