

Mrs. Roosevelt Christens Carrier Built by Kaiser

YANCOUVER, Wash., April 6.—(AP)—Sidelights of the launching of the U. S. S. Alazon Bay, first Kaiser-built aircraft carrier, which was christened yesterday by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The first lady looked as though she had been in a snow storm after the christening of the ship. Her chic black suit and black hat were dotted with the white foam of the champagne which showered after she swung the bottle across the bow with a baseball swing. Henry J. Kaiser and his son, Edgar, general manager of the Portland-Vancouver area Kaiser yards, dabbed at the flecks of foam with their handkerchiefs. Reporters noted that both the Kaisers needed shoeshines—proof to them that the shipbuilders get around in the yards and mingle with their workmen.

While the dictionary permits rations to be pronounced "ray-shun" or "rashun," Mrs. Roosevelt called it "rash-un" at her press conference.

The carrier's name comes from an old Mexican legend which accounts for an inlet on the Texas gulf coast being called Alazon bay. A century or so ago, the story goes, a beautiful coral station roamed that area but never was there a man skillful enough to capture him although countless attempts were made. The station finally became known as Alazon, the unconquerable.

totalled $15.

Mayor Harris also reported that work of reconstructing the footbridge across the South Umpqua river to Umpqua park had been completed. The city is to share in the cost of the repairs, but the bill for the city's part of the project was not received.

Attention also was called to the fact that liquor drinkers are breaking bottles on streets and sidewalks. This practice, it was reported, is becoming increasingly serious all over the state. The police department was instructed to endeavor to apprehend offenders.

Streets To Be Improved

Councilman C. W. Wharton, chairman of the street committee, reported he had conferred with state highway department officials concerning expenditure of funds to be allocated to the city from highway revenue and that arrangements had been made for improvements on Second avenue, South; Harvard avenue, Washington street and Jackson street. The city anticipates receipts of about $3,000.

Construction of a culvert to carry off surface water in front of the service station at E. Sixth St. and Second avenue was ordered. The culvert to be installed by the property owner. Surface water is causing damage to the street, it was stated.

Garbage Rates Upped

New provisions for disposal of garbage were given consideration in an ordinance read for the first and second times. The ordinance continues the present rate of $1 per month for weekly and semi-weekly collections from residential property. Collections from non-residential properties would be on a basis of $1 per month for weekly collection of one can, $1.50 for two collections weekly, and $2.00 for three collections per week, with a charge of 50 cents per week for each additional can. For daily collections the rate would be $2.50 for one can, $3.25 for two cans, and $4.00 for three cans. A can is fixed at a maximum of 26 gallons capacity, and an added charge is provided for cans of larger size. The ordinance also is permitted by the ordinance to make charges for extra services, such as carrying cans up and down stairs, taking refuse from bins, etc. It also is provided that garbage must be wrapped in paper or sacks.

The council in further consideration of the garbage problem, repeated the ordinance passed several years ago establishing a dump ground east of town.

Subpoena Threat Brings Price Czar to Inquiry

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(AP)—The senate agriculture committee brought Price Administrator Prentiss Brown before it for testimony today under threat of subpoena and then voted to excuse him until Thursday.

Brown and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard agreed to appear after Chairman Smith (D-S. C.) described their failure to appear as a refusal and raised the possibility of subpoenaing them.

The committee met to consider the administration-opposed Price bill to include farm labor costs in computations of parity prices, even as the senate approached a vote on overriding President Roosevelt's veto of the Bankhead bill to prohibit deduction of government benefit payments before fixing parity price ceilings.

The author of the latter bill, Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), said today the outcome of the attempt to override is in doubt.

NICE JOB

TACOMA, Wash.—Gus Vogelers, real estate dealer, returned home late and saw a man standing in his garden.

He shouted but the mysterious figure ignored him.

Vogeler hurried into the house to get his shotgun.

His wife spared him greater embarrassment as he complimented her on the excellent scarecrow he'd erected.

northern France today, indicating new attacks on the German-occupied continent.

Antwerp Damage Heavy.
U. S. army headquarters announced today that photographs showed Fortresses and Liberators made many direct hits on the Erla plane engine works in the Antwerp raid yesterday and that the resulting fires burned out the main building.

Many other buildings were set afire and heavy explosives damaged several parts of the plant.

The nearby Govaert photographic products plant, northwest of the Erla works, also was badly hit and the main building set afire.

The Erla plant was a small target compared with the great Renault factory outside Paris so successfully bombed by American aerial fighters Sunday, but is an important depot for repairing German planes operating on the western front.

The German-controlled Paris radio, meanwhile, reported that the raid on Antwerp caused the death of 221 persons and injured 385.

The same source reported that casualties resulting from the American air raid Sunday on the Renault armament works near Paris had killed 300 persons and injured more than 700.

DNE, in a Berlin broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, asserted 180 children were trapped and killed in an Antwerp school during yesterday's raid.

It said 19 allied planes were downed in the Antwerp attack and elsewhere over occupied territory yesterday.

Nazi Propaganda Seen.
At the same time the Berlin radio said the Vichy government had decreed a national day of mourning in France tomorrow, when a state funeral will be held for those killed in the Sunday raid.

The running fire of comment by German-controlled radio stations on the damage and casualties caused by these raids was regarded by observers here as an attempt of Nazi propagandists to stir up bitter feeling against the allies in France, Holland and Belgium.

In contrast, these observers noted the tight control which the Germans have maintained over reports of the results of raids on Germany itself.

'Mistake,' Indictes Says
In Kansas City, officials of the United States Packing Co., Inc., and the Kansas City Dressed Beef company said there was some mistake about federal grand jury indictments charging their organization with conspiracy to violate OPA regulations governing meat prices and quotas.

Fire Victim Sister of Resident of Roseburg

Mrs. Walter Oliver of Trail, Jackson county, Oregon, who died in a Medford hospital last Saturday of burns received from exploding kerosene while trying to build a kitchen stove fire, was a sister of Mrs. Charles Insley of Roseburg. Other survivors include her husband, who only two days prior to the tragedy, was discharged from a hospital after undergoing a major operation; two children and a brother, the latter, George Evans, of Tule Lake, Calif. Mrs. Oliver, 59 years old, had taught school in various Jackson county districts.

Mrs. Oliver was a resident of Roseburg until she moved to Trail about a year ago. She was a member of the Episcopal church and was known to many in the community.

A put up job for grapefruit

With fruits and juices rationed, it's going to be a put up job for grapefruit to be Home Canning Success Number One. Right now is the time to seal away the delicate flavor of this fruit while it is cheap and good. Why don't you try canning your grapefruit today, following the simple complete directions given below.

CANNED GRAPEFRUIT SEGMENTS

12 large firm grapefruit, 1/2 cups sugar weighing about 11 lbs. 1/2 cups water

- Peel grapefruit with large sharp knife, cutting deep enough to remove the thin skin which separates the fruit flesh from the rind.
- Section grapefruit over large bowl, to retrieve juice by cutting carefully between dividing membranes and fruit segments. Lift out sections separately. Squeeze out as much juice as possible from remaining membranes, saving to add to segments in jars.
- Pack grapefruit segments into hot sterilized jars to within about 1 inch of top.
- Combine sugar and water in 1-qt. saucepan and bring to a boil, stirring until sugar is dissolved.
- Add about 1/4 cup of the syrup and 1/4 cup of the grapefruit juice to each pint jar of fruit, so that liquid fills jar.
- Seal jars and process in boiling water bath 10 minutes. For water bath: Fill container with water deep enough to cover tops of jars by 1 to 2 inches. Heat almost to boiling. Carefully lower hot and partially sealed jars into the hot water, placing them so that they do not touch each other. Cover container, heat to boiling and keep boiling vigorously for 10 minutes, counting time from minute when water begins to boil vigorously.

Note: When canning in altitude, increase processing time 10% for each 500 feet over 1,000 feet elevation for water bath canning. For half pints and pint jars, increase time only 5%.
