

Millions More to Be Asked of U. S., Morgenthau Says

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—America is responding with a flood of dollars, the treasury reported today, to the greatest appeal for funds in history—the government's $13,000,000,000 second war loan campaign.

The drive was opened officially last night by Secretary Morgenthau, but even before the secretary addressed a rally in New York reports began pouring into the treasury indicating a tremendous public response.

"This is a people's war—so all of the people ought to have a part in financing it," Morgenthau told the New York rally in urging full participation by everyone.

Stressing the treasury's urgent need for funds, the secretary warned that heavier financial sacrifices will be required of the people to meet the growing demands of the war.

"Ten per cent is no longer enough," he said. "We are asking everyone to buy extra bonds this month, even workers who are now participating in the payroll savings plan."

More Must Be Raised.

Coinciding with opening of the three-week campaign, the treasury disclosed tentative plans to raise a total of $70,000,000,000 this year—plans which will strike heavily at individual pocket-books.

Morgenthau explained that the government expects to spend about $100,000,000,000 this year and that only $30,000,000,000 of this will be provided by taxes. That means, he said, that $70,000,000,000 must be borrowed, unless existing tax rates are revised upward.

In order to keep down inflationary forces, the treasury wants to get the major part of this money from non-banking sources—at least $48,000,000,000. Of this amount the treasury has set a tentative quota of $25,000,000,000 to be obtained from individuals, $13,000,000,000 from corporations and $3,000,000,000 from insurance companies while the banks will be expected to supply $22,000,000,000.

To Touch Little Group.

This means, say treasury officials, that every person receiving income above the barest subsistence level will have to be reached. The bulk of the $25,000,000,000 expected from individuals must come, they say, from persons earning from $1,000 to $5,000 because it is this group that will have three quarters of the year's current income after taxes.

The treasury estimates that 19,600,000 persons with incomes of $1,000 or less will have total income this year after payment of taxes of $14,400,000,000.

In the $1,000 to $3,000 wage level there are 37,100,000 persons whose total income after taxes is estimated at $67,900,000,000, while the income of 5,200,000 in the $3,000 to $5,000 bracket is estimated at $21,000,000,000 after taxes.

been listed as destroyed by navy guns, torpedoes and bombers in the Aleutian theater.

The Kiska runway is being built by cut-and-fill tactics along a ridge. Bulldozers, 50 light trucks, hand-propelled trucks and narrow-gauge rails are believed to be in use in the all-out effort. Four heavy anti-aircraft batteries have been throwing heavy fire at our aircraft and another appeared under construction today.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—Navy Secretary Knox today said that so far as he knew there was nothing new to the fact that the Japanese were trying to build air bases at Kiska and Attu in the Aleutians. Told that a columnist had said recently that the Americans had new air bases in the Aleutians, Knox replied "columnists don't have to worry about the facts." He would not confirm or deny that particular report.

Glide

GLIDE, April 13.—Mrs. Anna Doyle has returned from Portland to make her home in Glide. Her son, Fred, returned with her and will work for the forest service. He has been employed in the shipyards.

NORWAY AFTER THREE YEARS

FOR three years since the fateful April day in 1940 when German invaders came by air and sea across the Skagerrak, Norway has been an unconquered nation merely occupied by the Nazis. Fully 95 per cent of her 2,500,000 population has continued fighting back with sabotage, work slowdowns and guerrilla warfare. Meanwhile Quisling and the Nazis have plundered 1½ billion dollars from Norway.

fighters and bombers on Oro bay, where allied airmen knocked out 24 enemy planes.

The repulse of the Port Moresby raid, described officially as "a complete defeat" for the Japanese, was accomplished at the cost of relatively light allied losses, allied headquarters said.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—Navy Secretary Knox said today it is impossible for him to determine whether the Japanese have built up strong points north of Australia for attack or defense.

"You must remember," Knox said, "that an attack on Australia must be accompanied by a tremendous sea force and there is no indication of a concentration pointing to that."

The secretary had been asked to comment on a statement in Australia by General Blamey, commander in chief of allied ground forces there, that the Japanese had massed 200,000 first line troops and a great air force north of the island continent and could be expected to undertake an offensive at any time.

Specifically discussing Blamey's statement, Knox said he did not know what forces the Japanese had nor what they would do with them.

It is known, he added, that a number of places on New Guinea are strongly garrisoned, but "I don't know whether they are there for attack or defense."

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—Japanese anti-aircraft guns were silenced and fires were started in camp areas when army and navy bombers struck five times Sunday and Monday at enemy positions in the Solomon islands, the navy reported today.

In the north Pacific, meanwhile, army planes continued their almost incessant pounding of enemy-held Kiska island with four raids which resulted in direct hits and the starting of fires in the camp area.

Sicily where a number of powered barges and a large tanker were smashed up.

The axis air forces suffered further crippling assaults from Wellingtons, Baltimores and Halifaxes which attacked the airfield at Ste. Marie Du Zit, 27 miles south of Tunis. At least 19 fires sprang up in the wake of heavy loads of high explosives and incendiary bombs dropped in Sunday night attacks and other fires were started when Mitchells blasted the place twice yesterday.

The axis landing ground, 12 miles south of Tunis, also was torn apart in a raid by Bostons and Mitchells.

Other allied planes from Malta attacked railways and factories at Pozzallo on the southeast coast of Sicily and shipping at Marsala on the Sicilian west coast.

Ancient Sousse, founded before Carthage, echoed with cheers for allied troops as Eighth army elements pressed through to the north.

The fortress walls, dominated by a high tower, and the native quarter showed little war damage although black ruins along the waterfront testified to the effectiveness of allied air attack.

"The whole picture presents an accurate illustration of good and unfruitful bombing," said one of the first RAF officers to enter Sousse.

An axis naval fuel station in a corner of the harbor and troop barracks were shattered.

American Mitchell's and Bostons, commanded by Col. Frederick R. Terrell of Los Angeles, won praise from Air Vice Marshal Coningham, commander of allied air forces in Tunisia, for their "persistent and successful" attacks on La Fauconnerie airfield where he said upwards of 25 destroyed enemy aircraft had been found.

"The combined air and army operations which led to the breakthrough at Gabes were materially assisted by your action," Coningham said.
