He gave no hint as to what A. A. Plerson, senior engineer in charge of construction, said the damage was 'fully two-thirds' of the building's cost—$26,000. He said the blaze was caused by an electric stove which had been left on in one prestruction. power, however, to order govern-ment seizure and operation of the mines.

Coal production must go on, he said, because war industries can not turn out tanks, guns and ammunition without it, and without the weapons, he added, "our sail-ors on the high sees and our armies in the field will be help-less against our enemies."

Mr. Roosevelt said he was sure the miners, with sons and brothers in uniform, do not want to retard the war effort to which they have contributed loyally and ir which they, with all other Ameri cans, have so much at stake. Fair Hearing Assured.

After reciting some of the recent history of the coal dispute, the president called attention to the membership of the panel appointed by the WLB; Davie B.
