BUTTERMILK FOR TURKEYS

Mother Nature never intended for little turkeys to drink milk. If she had, she would have made the proper anatomical arrangements.

BUT, neither did the wise old lady intend for us to raise turkeys by thousands on a limited space. Yet, we do, and we have to make some sort of compromise with Mother Nature.

Wild turkeys get lots of big fat worms and bugs. And, up to the modern days of rationing, OPA, and a million other governmental regulations, the feed companies were giving the little tame pouls a very good substitute in the way of meat scrap, fish meal and dried milk.

But the "Brain Trust" has done its work thoroughly. (If not well), and we have to look elsewhere for substitutes. Nothing seems to do the job better than milk of some kind. If you have skim milk, by all means use it to the fullest extent. It has proved its efficiency for many years.

But not all turkey growers milk cows, so we have to find a "sub" for skim-milk too. Creamery buttermilk is the closest second, and we hear it advertised over the local radio. When, and if, you can't get enough of that, or if you live too far out to get it every other day, the next sub is semi-solid buttermilk.

ARE YOU VITAMIN CONSCIOUS?

We hear and read about vitamins a dozen times a day. More vitamin pills are being sold and used than anything except booze. But the vitamin most often deficient in our daily lives is B1.

Umpqua Chief Flour, manufactured right here in Roseburg at the Douglas Flour Mill, compares very favorably with any flour you can buy anywhere at any price. In addition, when you use Umpqua Chief Flour you are stepping up your intake of this important vitamin. For Umpqua Chief is richly fortified with Vitamin B1.

Assure yourself of your full requirements of B1 by using Umpqua Chief Flour in all your home cooking and baking. Ask for it at your favorite grocer's. Like all Umpqua products, it will give you the best, while saving you money.

MINERALS FOR LIVESTOCK

Douglas County is unquestionably the finest place in the world to live in. But we do have one little trouble; not enough minerals in our soil. Fortunately this one trouble can be easily overcome.

Lack of minerals in the soil means deficiencies in our grasses and grains; consequently our livestock has to be fed minerals. The Douglas Flour Mill sells Cudahy's Minerals, probably the best mineral mixture on the market, at $3.50 per hundred. Keep Cudahy's Minerals before your stock at all times, and watch them make more money for you, while you save ten dollars a sack.

SOMETHING NEW

Thanks to the loyal co-operation of our customers, we have only now had to start using new white cotton sacks for Umpqua Feeds. But the time has come. These sacks will be taken back for cleaning and re-use the same as burlap sacks have been, at 10c each. PROVIDED that they are CLEAN AND FREE OF HOLES when returned. Please take good care of them, in order to prevent them being wasted. Remember, everyone should save.

Save, save, save, should be the watchword. Save all the feed you can. Not by skimping feeding, for there is no saving in feeding too little. Just see to it that no feed is wasted. Don't overfill the feeders, don't slop feed around, and don't feed rats. Make every bit of feed count.

HATCHING EGGS

Any kind of eggs are big money these days, but hatching eggs are pure gold. There is a tremendous demand, and many buyers are offering deals which are preposterous. Before tying up with any egg dealer, be sure not to buy any gold bricks.

Some day the bubble is going to burst. If you are lined up with a good conservative dealer, who is handling only good eggs, and makes no wild, impossible promises, you may feel sure he is going to be handling eggs after the crash comes, simply because he has always considered quality. In an overstocked market, quality goods have always sold at good prices, even when inferior stuff had to be dumped in the Bay.
