TIMBER SALE IS PLEASING

EDITORIAL

By Charles V. Stanton

SALE of 7,000 acres of county-owned timber lands in Siuslaw-Smith river area this week to Howard Hinsdale, president of the Gardiner Mill company, is the most satisfactory deal the county has consummated, members of the county court agree. Not only is it one of the largest sales to be made, amounting to about $300,000, but the fact that the timber is to be cut and manufactured into lumber by a Douglas county concern, which is assuring itself of a perpetual supply by adoption of a sustained yield program, makes the transaction especially pleasing.

County Commissioner H. B. Roadman, who has been very active in forming the county's timber policy, said: "It has been our purpose, wherever possible, to insist that any timber we sell shall be cut into lumber right here in Douglas county. We feel that this policy has been very largely responsible for the rapid expansion of the lumber industry. We have rejected a good many opportunities to sell county-owned timber when we discovered the logs were to be shipped outside the county. Whenever possible, we have shown preference to those concerns operating here, if all other factors were equal. We are particularly pleased that this fine timber has been bought by the Gardiner Mill company and that it is being put on a sustained yield program, for that means these lands will be on the tax roll and will be perpetually producing crops to maintain one of our fine sawmilling operations."

The deal with Mr. Hinsdale is one in which certain stumpage values were agreed upon. The full amount of the purchase price will be determined by a timber cruise, expected to require more than one year. The county has received a down payment of $30,000.

The property secured from the county, however, is not all of the land going into this project. Mr. Hinsdale also is purchasing private timber holdings and is working on arrangements with the O. and C. administration whereby the re-vested lands within and adjoining the huge tract will be grouped with the timber acquired by the mill company to be included in the sustained yield cutting plan.

Under this program a certain amount of timber will be cut each year, the blocks scheduled for cutting being so arranged that by the time the entire tract has been covered, the first area cut will have had time to grow new trees to maturity.

The county court and the Gardiner Mill company are both to be congratulated on this type of business transaction, which includes conservation with sound lumbering policy and at the same time puts idle land to productive purposes.

The period from June 8 to 14 is being celebrated as National Flag week. The event this year is attracting little attention in the way of formal ceremony, but that is as it should be. Those of us at home can dispense with flag waving while we use our hands and our strength to produce those things necessary to keep the flag waving in lands where the cause of freedom is being defended. It is not necessary this year to wave a flag to celebrate Flag week. You can best celebrate the occasion by buying another war bond, which is the ideal way to assure many future Flag weeks.

Post-War Sale of 50 Billion Worth Of Goods Problem

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Over administration opposition, congress was in the process today of setting itself up as the super-salesman of all time, with an estimated $50,000,000,000 of surplus war material as the bill of goods to be sold.

The house passed and sent to the senate late yesterday legislation to set up the machinery for disposing of the surplus as soon as the last gun of the war is fired, and the selling probably will be under direct congressional control.

The preliminary measure provides for creation of a joint committee of five representatives and five senators to study the situation and recommend a suitable setup.

Ignoring a presidential suggestion that the budget bureau take over surplus equipment, members of the house committee on expenditures in executive departments declared the sales program, if not properly handled, could wreck the nation's economy.

While the exact value of surplus material expected to be on hand after the war cannot be determined, Rep. Manasco, a committee member, said indications were it would be not less than $50,000,000,000.

"That's a lot of money and a lot of material to be disposed of," Manasco commented, "and unless it is handled properly the effects could be disastrous. When you consider the fact that there was only about $4,500,000,000 worth of war material sold after the last war and the trouble it caused, you can get an idea of how vast this problem is."

Mansco estimated there would be 20,000,000,000 pairs of shoes, 30,000,000,000 blankets, thousands of jeeps and other vehicles, and such miscellaneous items as concentrated foods, machine tools and other articles, in addition to buildings.

Payments of five cents per pound will be made on all butter produced by manufacturers with a monthly output in excess of 1000 pounds under the program administered by the RFC's defense supplies corporation.

The subsidy remains the same regardless of grade.

Armstrong Questionable Winner Over Angott

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP)—Henry Armstrong left Madison Square garden last night with a ten-round decision over Sammy Angott in the blood-and-thunder battle of the "comeback kids".

Yet, in spite of the unanimous verdict of two judges and a referee, there were more than enough ring-siders believing Sammy Angott to be the "comeback kid".

As a matter of fact, the Associated Press score card gave Sammy the fight, five rounds to four, with one eye.

Another resolution opposed the return of Japanese from relocation centers to the coastal area.

Another advocated a peace settlement of which the principal features were:

1. That conquered nations be permitted to sit with the United Nations in judgment of axis nations.

2. An organized international police force control axis powers for at least 25 years.

3. Axis leaders be tried before an international court.

4. Carrels and secret industrial agreements be abolished.

5. Colonies be encouraged to political and economic freedom.

6. Agriculture and labor be represented at the peace table.

7. Munitions plants in aggressive nations be dismantled.

Other resolutions asked the state to assist counties offering bounties on coyotes, and urged the Commodity Credit Corporation to release wheat for use as livestock feed.

Batch of Demands Listed by Oregon Grange Convention

EUGENE, Ore., June 12.—(AP)—Redistricting of the Multnomah county's state legislative representation was urged in a resolution adopted last night during the closing hours of the State Grange convention.

The grangers criticized the present system for throwing the balance of power to Portland while the rest of the county "goes begging." The resolution called for the grange "to lend its every effort to have legislation enacted which would revise the voting system of the city to eliminate confusion now existing, and to insure the areas outside of Portland representation on the basis of their population."

In cases of joint senators or representatives the grangers want assurance that counties joining with Multnomah be given adequate voice in their selection.

Another resolution condemned legislators who serve on state boards and commissions while retaining their legislative seats. It urged that men holding such dual jobs resign from one or the other.

The grangers, in another resolution, called for improvement of conditions in some state institutions, particularly the eastern Oregon State hospital.

Other resolutions demanded that the U. S. Department of agriculture fulfill agreement with hog producers and maintain minimum price levels promised; protested the sale of government property at below value; request appointment of an emergency post-war planning committee; an investigation of the sugar storage situation.

Another resolution opposed the return of Japanese from relocation centers to the coastal area.

Another advocated a peace settlement of which the principal features were:

1. That conquered nations be permitted to sit with the United Nations in judgment of axis nations.

2. An organized international police force control axis powers for at least 25 years.

DIAL LOG

By SUSAN

Do you remember we said, not so long ago, that life was dull around here because there hadn't been any changes in the programming for a few days? We're sorry we mentioned it, because, evidently we tempted fate a bit too much, and now we have all sorts of changes to take care of—some of them still in the stage of wondering what to do about it. However, this much seems to be sure: Starting on Monday morning at 8:00, you'll get "Shady Valley Folks" in place of the Cheer Up Gang, and, as far as we know now, we won't be able to carry the Gang since they've changed their time. Horse Loser At Victory Show to Be Reimbursed

The Portland entertainers who were in Roseburg Thursday night to participate in the American Legion Victory show at Finlay field started a purse to reimburse the loser of the potato race, staged for the entertainment of the large audience, Sheriff Bud Carter announced today. The fund was started by Carl Warner, who acted as master of ceremonies, and the visiting troupe subscribed a considerable sum. The action was not revealed until after the troupe had departed. Fellow members of the mounted posse have added to the amount.

Sheriff Carter reported that he is publicly announcing the fact because various persons present at the entertainment have shown a desire to participate.

"I believe the members of the Portland troupe are entitled to credit for their kindness," Sheriff Carter said, "and, because other persons have come to me with donations, I am letting it be known that this fund is being collected so that those who desire to join may have the privilege of doing so. Sabala suffered a considerable financial loss while gladly assisting in an entertainment for a worthy cause. We do not feel he should bear all of the loss."

Contributions may be given or mailed to Sheriff Carter at the courthouse in Roseburg.

To Bring Daughter Home—Mrs. S. W. Van Voorst and her daughter, Evelyn Newell, left today for Portland and will return Sunday with their daughter and sister, Miss Ethel VanVoorst, who for the past two years has been a student at Cathlamet School for Girls in Portland. During her junior year she was given an award for her work in the Victory corps and was chosen a commissioner in the dramatics club to serve during her senior year. She will spend the summer at her home here.

Other new feature, beginning on Monday a. m., is a half-hour of music, "Luncheon With Lopez"—and it looks like your good friend, Pegeen Fitzgerald, won't be with us any more. We're awfully sorry about it because we know how much you enjoy her ten minutes of chatter. We are still hoping that further changes in the network programming will bring her back, but at present there isn't a thing we can do about it. As to the rest of the changes, we'll have to give them to you later when we've gotten them straight.

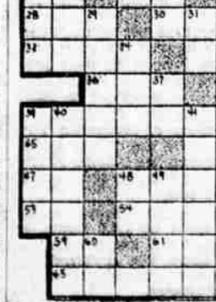

Sunday's programs remain intact as far as we know, and we're pretty sure of Monday's Bulldog Drummond (8:00) and Double or Nothing (8:30); beyond that we refuse to commit ourselves—the programs grohms have us baffled.

Here's another new bit of programming hot off the wire—hereafter, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6:00 o'clock, you'll hear a new commentator, Gabriel Heatter. He's new to us, but well known in the east, and is one of the top-notchers in the newscasting circle.

Youths May Keep Up School Course As Navy Enlistees

Full information for those desiring service in any branch of the naval service will be provided in Roseburg on June 15 and 16, when Chief Specialist William Bell of the Eugene navy recruiting station maintains office hours at the navy recruiting office at the Roseburg chamber of commerce.

Chief Bell is particularly desirous of meeting with young men of 17 who may still choose their branch of service. New educational opportunities in the navy have created a great deal of interest for these young men and their parents since announcement was made of these features by the navy department. In brief, a man may now continue his education while in the service, with some seventy high school and seven hundred college courses offered.

Men with experience along construction lines are also invited to call at the chamber of commerce office to obtain information on the famous Seabees of the navy. A new booklet, fully explaining this branch of the service, has just been received and will be available for all who care to call for it.

Chief Bell also calls attention to the pressing need for women in the WAVES and SPARS, women's reserves of the navy and coast guard. New quotas make it imperative that all eligible women between the ages of 20 and 36 answer the call to the colors. Exceptional opportunities are now available for women with training in many fields to carry on with a similar job in the service and thus release a man to fight at sea. In addition, many women are now receiving training in jobs in which women have never been trained before. Recent lowering of physical requirements for WAVES and SPARS opens up opportunities for many women to enter the service and do their part in the complete all-out war effort. It is hoped by the navy recruiter that many women of Roseburg and Douglas county will call at the chamber of commerce on the 15th or 16th in order to receive more information on the WAVE and SPAR program.

Camp Family Expelled In Row With Mexicans

YAKIMA, Wash., June 12.—(AP)—Charles Paddock, superintendent of the Farm Security administration camp at Grand Coulee, reported last night that a disturbance which threatened to break into a race riot had been settled in conference.

At the meeting, it was decided to expel the seven members of the Edward Davis family and reduce from 70 cents to 25 cents the weekly amusement fund contribution, he said. The Davis family was reported as having quarreled with Mexicans in the camp.

DENVER, June 12.—(AP)—Another trainload of Mexican nationals passed through Denver yesterday en route to agricultural employment in Idaho, Oregon and Washington.

Charles F. Brannan, regional director of the farm security administration, said there were 1,050 in the group, the second in recent weeks.

Stimson Hits Rumors Derogatory to WAAGS

WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today that "insister rumors aimed at destroying the reputation" of the WAAGS through charges of immorality "are absolutely and completely false."

"I refer," Stimson said, "to charges of immorality and particularly to the allegation that the war department has agreed to the issuance of contraceptives and prophylactic equipment to the members of this corps."

He added that "anything which would interfere with their recruiting or destroy the reputation of the corps and, by so doing, interfere with increase in the combat strength of our army, would be of value to the enemy. The repetition of any unfounded rumor concerning this corps lessens confidence in it and is actually an aid to the enemy."
