DOUBTS CAST ON JAP BOAST

EDITORIAL

By Charles V. Stanton

CHINA'S great victory over the Japs has won increasing ac- claim for our long-suffering, neglected ally. It is always a thrill to see a badly mauled boxer rise from the ring canvas to deliver a knockout to his opponent. When he achieves such a victory without help from his corner, it is a sure sign of stamina and fighting heart. The Chinese, it is true, had some help from American fliers, and undoubtedly had been carefully concentrating supplies from the meager trickle received from other United Nations powers for the purpose of the come-back blow, but the Victory credit belongs to the Chinese nation.

The American people are impatiently awaiting a concerted United Nations drive to relieve the desperate Chinese. In fact, our war leaders are being vigorously "needled" to do more for China. A more aggressive war in the Pacific is most earnestly desired, but our military leaders are the ones best qualified to know where our efforts can do the greatest good and most quickly end the war.

The Chinese victory has definitely proven that the war with Japan will be well on the way to an end when the time comes that modern military weapons can be put in the hands of the Chinese soldiers in ample quantity. Admiral Tojo of Japan recently told his people this would be a 100-year war, but he wisely omitted saying which 100 years, and, anyway, none of the present crop of Japs will ever know whether or not his predictions come true. But we imagine the Chinese as well as MacArthur's men in the South Pacific and the forces in the Aleutians already have caused plenty of doubts in the Japanese minds.

The OPA issues a ban on pleasure driving and warns that anyone whose car is found along a trout stream will have some explaining to do to his ration board. Ickes, national director of fisheries, urges everyone to go fishing to supplement his diet and issues a long diatribe on the excellence of scrap fish scorned by most Americans. Rubber Car Jeffers informs the public the rubber program is coming along nicely, while the ODT cries that "there ain't going to be no tires for nobody." The president orders his teamates to "Hold That Line" to prevent inflation, so they roll back prices and pay subsidies to processors who weren't doing so bad in the first place, socking the taxpayer more than the commodity price would have risen and leaving the poor farmer to struggle along without machinery, farm help or profit. One branch of the government raises wages and another says the people are making too much money and taxes must be increased to skim off the surplus. We see good reason for the comment in the Reader's Digest on the government's evaluations: "Three points on brains, six points on tongue."

Female Deer, Elk May Be Opened To Oregon Hunting

PORTLAND, June 14.—(AP)—There'll be more meat on the tables of Oregon hunters this fall if tentative regulations are approved by the state game commission here June 28.

The commission, after appealing to federal officials for additional gasoline and ammunition for hunters Saturday, proposed to liberalize regulations.

An open season on doe deer was authorized for three new areas with 9,900 doe tags to be issued compared to 3,000 last year.

The pheasant season was lengthened generally from two to three weeks.

The antelope season in southeastern Oregon was extended from 7 to 16 days.

Two thousand special coy elk tags were set aside for the Minam, Wenaha and North Powder areas of northeastern Oregon.

The deer season was scheduled from October 1 to November 3, a week later than usual, in an attempt to decrease early autumn fire hazards. Doe tags to be issued for the Stevens mountain area will total 1,000. Hart mountain refuge 400, Lake county area 6,000, and Grant county area, the only doe area open last year, 2,500 tags again.

The antelope season will be from September 18 to October 3. Dates for the western Oregon pheasant season include:

Jackson, Josephine and Douglas counties—October 16-November 7 with the limit four birds a day, eight in possession but no more than one hen in possession at any time.

Because of a small crop of birds the season was ordered closed on snooty or blue grouse, but regulations otherwise remained the same for grouse, quail and partridge.

Throughout the state the open season for bull elk having antlers will run from October 26 to November 30.

the students learn governmental principles through actual administrative practice.

Umqua post representatives are Randall Young, Lee Holmes, Don DeBernardi, Jim Beitton and John Mowrey.

Social Security Agent Dates Roseburg Visit

A representative of the Eugene, Oregon, field office of the Social Security board will be at the United States Employment service, Roseburg, at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday, June 15.

CIVIL WAR AIDE NOW GARDENER AT 122

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—(AP)—Uncle Mark Thrash, whose claim to 122 years of age is supported by War department records, helped bury the dead on the Chickamauga battlefield, but right now he's more interested in helping win world war II.

"I'm praying three times a day and planting a Victory garden," the aged man said.

2 Reedsport Men Missing in Action

REEDSPORT, Ore., June 14.—Reports that two Reedsport men have been reported missing in action have been received here recently. William Monroe Spicer, 21, was reported missing in action May 29 in the Aleutian area. Willis J. Dow, 24, a waist gunner on an army bomber, failed to return from a bombing mission over Europe May 29.

Spicer, born at Twisp, Washington, had been a resident of Reedsport since 1928. Surviving are his wife, Helen Ley Spicer; his mother, Mrs. John Bernhard, both of Reedsport, and a brother, William, serving in the navy. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Rowe, Reedsport.

Sergeant Dow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dow, former Reedsport residents who now live in Portland, and a brother of Mrs. Medford Fuller and Charles Dow, both of Reedsport and Mrs. Paul Benede, Jr., Astoria.

Leroy Dean Huckins, Infant, Passes Away

Leroy Dean Huckins, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Huckins, died at Mercy hospital Friday evening. He is survived by the parents and a brother, Clyde Irving, all residents of Oakland. Funeral services were held in the Fair Oaks cemetery today. Rev. J. B. Needham officiating. Arrangements were in care of the Stearns mortuary, Oakland.

The red fox is also colored silver, black and yellow.

Japs Use Hand Grenades in Mass Suicide on Attu

By WILLIAM L. WORDEN
 CORIES LAKE, Attu, May 30 (Delayed)—(AP)—On this bloody Memorial day, when the navy department announced the annihilation of the last organized enemy resistance on this Aleutian island, the Japanese disclosed a new technique in mass suicide—with hand grenades.

After being surprised by a desperate Japanese counterattack yesterday that brought temporary gains, the Americans rallied to rout the Japs and slaughter them by hundreds in the fighting that ended today.

The final Japanese resistance began yesterday morning at 4 a. m., a madly yelling mob of Japanese army and navy personnel and civilians—apparently every man who could be mustered into action in the Attu village sector—rushed American positions above Cories lake. They succeeded in reoccupying positions from which they had been driven days before.

That attack took American forces by surprise. At an advanced command post near here, sleeping soldiers were bayoneted and grenaded in their pup tents and in fox holes. At least one American small field gun was turned against our own forces. A few snipers penetrated even beyond Gen. E. M. Landrum's headquarters, to the west and east.

Their attack stopped, the desperate Japanese died, almost to a man. Hundreds were killed by our fire. Some killed themselves.

One last hopeless Jap attack by about 50 men was made at 5 a. m. today on a command post above Cories lake. But there was no surprise this time. American fire swept through the ranks of the yelling Japs.

They broke, ran into gullies and there in grisly masses held their own grenades against their chests after banging them against their helmets to start the detonating mechanism. Their bodies lie in piles tonight.

DIAL LOG

By SUSAN

The newest of our new commentators, Gabriel Heatter, created quite a furor when he dropped in to the six o'clock spot Monday, Wednesday and Friday, but after a general tearing to pieces and putting together of the program again, we think we have evolved a better evening schedule than we had before. Your state and local news will come to you now each evening at 7:15, which means of course, that Eye Witness News had to find another spot—and you'll be hearing it on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6:00 o'clock from now on. Boy's Town goes into the 7:30 slot on Tuesday, to be followed by Dr. Wainwright's Health Talk at 8:00, and Lest We Forget—your Lest We Forget makes its third move in a week and now will be heard at 8:15 on

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

For The Fallen

With proud thanksgiving a mother for her sons,
 America mourns for her dead
 across the sea.
 Flesh of her flesh they were,
 spirit of her spirit.
 Fallen in the cause of the free.

They went with song to the battle, they were young,
 Straight of limb, true of eye,
 steady and aglow.
 They were staunch to the end
 against odds uncounted,
 They fell with their faces to
 to foe.

They shall grow not old as we
 that are left grow old,
 Age shall not weary them nor the years condemn
 At the going down of the sun
 in the morning
 We will remember them.

As the stars that shall be
 bright when we are dust
 Moving in marches upon the heavenly plain
 As the stars that are starry in the time of darkness
 To the end, to the end they remain.
 Amen

Tuesday evening. If this sounds confusing, just stay tuned to 1490 and eventually all your favorite programs will turn up—in fact, the greatest change is in Eye Witness News which has moved to another day, the rest of the programs are still on the same day but at new times. Don't forget the new morning programs—Shady Valley Folks at 8:00 and Luncheon With Lopez at 10:30, which make nice listening for the mornings; and perhaps Pegreen Fitzgerald will be back later in another spot. At least we can keep on hoping that she will.

Leave for North—Roy Strong and his brother-in-law, Jack Whitfield, left Sunday for Eugene, following a stop over here en route from California north, to visit the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Strong and family. Mr. Strong and Mr. Whitfield are painters of bridges and will be employed in the Eugene territory for the next six months. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Strong and daughter moved to Roseburg this spring from Los Angeles and purchased the A. J. Tuck residence and tract of land in Eden-bower. They have made considerable improvements in the residence and to the property.
