

Roseburg News-Review

Member of the Associated Press... The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and to all local news published herein.

Entered as second class matter May 11, 1929, at the postoffice at Roseburg, Oregon, under act of March 2, 1879.

New York—271 Madison Ave. Chicago—360 N. Michigan Ave. San Francisco—Market Street

Member OREGON NEWS PAPER PUBLISHERS ASSOCIATION

Subscription Rates Daily, per year by mail, $5.00 Daily, 6 months by mail, $2.50 Daily, 3 months by mail, $1.25

Editorials on News (Continued from page 1.)

has completed her preparation of strategic bases from which an all-out offensive can be launched against Australia "at any moment."

It adds that only Jap naval planes have been used in the South Pacific so far, but army planes are now getting into the fight—presumably from new secret bases.

KEEP your fingers crossed. The war of nerves is now going strong, and both sides are talking big in the hope of scaring the other fellow.

The real objective, of course, is fooling the other fellow and hitting him hard where he isn't looking.

ON the European side of the world, British night bombers said Cologne for the 17th time. (One was the famous 1,000-plane raid a year ago.) Hamburg is hit at the same time. It is the eighth consecutive air assault on Germany in 10 nights. Twenty-five bombers fail to return.

Our daylight-flying Flying Fortresses hit submarine docks and air fields in France. Six of them fail to return.

NOTE our persistence in the face of losses that are admittedly heavy. This is important because it indicates we have the necessary reserves to KEEP UP the air battle.

If we didn't have the reserves, we COULDN'T keep it up.

IN the Mediterranean, 100 of our Fortresses bomb the port of Leghorn, in Northern Italy. Leghorn is believed to be a base for the mysterious and elusive Italian fleet.

All the Fortresses come back safely, their crews reporting relatively little opposition.

They flew 1100 miles to make the attack.

THE steady, day-by-day bombing of Sicily, Sardinia and the toe and instep of the Italian boot goes on relentlessly.

MAJOR FERDINAND BISHOP, of the marines, back in Seattle on leave, says the Japs captured by the AMERICANS in the South seas are the lucky ones—those taken by the headhunting natives of the Solomons don't fare so well.

(In our treatment of Jap captives, he reports, we continue to adhere strictly to the provisions of the Geneva convention.)

THERE aren't TOO MANY Jap prisoners, he says, as under their Samurai code they are required to choose death in preference to capture. (Our men have been generally reported as co-operating with them accommodately on this point.)

Once a Jap IS captured, Major

has completed her preparation of strategic bases from which an all-out offensive can be launched against Australia "at any moment."

It adds that only Jap naval planes have been used in the South Pacific so far, but army planes are now getting into the fight—presumably from new secret bases.

KEEP your fingers crossed. The war of nerves is now going strong, and both sides are talking big in the hope of scaring the other fellow.

The real objective, of course, is fooling the other fellow and hitting him hard where he isn't looking.

ON the European side of the world, British night bombers said Cologne for the 17th time. (One was the famous 1,000-plane raid a year ago.) Hamburg is hit at the same time. It is the eighth consecutive air assault on Germany in 10 nights. Twenty-five bombers fail to return.

Our daylight-flying Flying Fortresses hit submarine docks and air fields in France. Six of them fail to return.

NOTE our persistence in the face of losses that are admittedly heavy. This is important because it indicates we have the necessary reserves to KEEP UP the air battle.

If we didn't have the reserves, we COULDN'T keep it up.

IN the Mediterranean, 100 of our Fortresses bomb the port of Leghorn, in Northern Italy. Leghorn is believed to be a base for the mysterious and elusive Italian fleet.

All the Fortresses come back safely, their crews reporting relatively little opposition.

They flew 1100 miles to make the attack.

THE steady, day-by-day bombing of Sicily, Sardinia and the toe and instep of the Italian boot goes on relentlessly.

MAJOR FERDINAND BISHOP, of the marines, back in Seattle on leave, says the Japs captured by the AMERICANS in the South seas are the lucky ones—those taken by the headhunting natives of the Solomons don't fare so well.

(In our treatment of Jap captives, he reports, we continue to adhere strictly to the provisions of the Geneva convention.)

THERE aren't TOO MANY Jap prisoners, he says, as under their Samurai code they are required to choose death in preference to capture. (Our men have been generally reported as co-operating with them accommodately on this point.)

Once a Jap IS captured, Major

NO DICTATOR WANTED

EDITORIAL

By Charles V. Stanton

AS we talk with the man on the street, we find many widely divergent opinions concerning the action of congress in overriding the presidential veto of the anti-strike bill, the rejection of the food subsidy plan, the curtailment of the domestic branch of the Office of War Information and other recent actions indicating a revolt in the Congress of the United States.

We may differ in our beliefs concerning whether or not congress has acted wisely, but, regardless of the effect of these legislative acts on domestic life, we believe the danger of dictatorship and one-party rule in these United States has been completely eliminated.

Congressman Harris Ellsworth, in his interesting news letter from Washington, said: "Congress, particularly the house of representatives, has suddenly become aroused to the facts of life." He might well have added that congress has been hearing voices—the voices of the people who have shown signs of becoming restive under the rule of bureaucracy. This restiveness has been shown in state legislative sessions. It was plainly evident in the last elections. It has been demonstrated by increasing criticism. We do not refer to the whinings and complainings of individuals, but to the showings made by industries, by producer groups and by others of artificial shortages created largely by bureaucratic mismanagement.

Congress, closer to the people than the administration, has realized the trend of popular opinion and is reacting politically. The overwhelming vote in opposition to the administration's wishes indicates congress is not dividing on party lines but, instead, is ignoring political adherence to line up with the demand for the reestablishment of the democratic principles laid down in the Constitution of the United States.

This country was dangerously close to one-party rule and dictatorship. We saw a "rubber stamp" congress—a legislative body with no will of its own. We have the history of court packing, the attempted political purges, the establishment of executive bureaucracies with legislative and judicial powers. The trend was toward complete one-party control, which inevitably would have led to dictatorship had the progress in that direction remained unchecked.

The present congress, however, has placed effective barriers against that danger. The voice of the people was expressed in the election of opposition candidates to the house and senate. The increased rumbling of general dissatisfaction has undoubtedly had a part in further encouraging congress to resume its rightful place as a major branch of government. A political aspect adding to the administration's embarrassment is the gathering revolt of the democratic Solid South against the New Deal party. Southern Democrats, strongest exponents of party tenets, have been antagonized by administrative acts and policies. They have shown they are not to be shoved around without at least a vigorous protest.

The political processes of democracy are often slow and unwieldy, but they eventually achieve results. From the congressional defiance of the administration the form of democracy can be seen reappearing from the political mists by which she has been obscured. Good or bad in its immediate application, the congressional revolt has, for the time being at least, repelled the danger of dictatorship.

Bishop says, he ceases to look upon himself as a superman and becomes just an ordinary human being. But, he adds, the Jap captives appear to be calmly confident of Jap victory.

GETTING back to the home front, the coal miners are reported to be straggling back to work. About 149,000 of them, the dispatches say, still remain idle out of more than a half million. The weight of public opinion is beginning to be felt.

THE British have a new quip, and London is reported to be chuckling heartily over it. It runs: "The trouble with Hitler's fortress is that it LACKS A ROOF."

New Methodist Pastor, Wife Reach Roseburg

The Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Feenstra have arrived in Roseburg to assume the pastoral work of the Roseburg Methodist church. In Roseburg at the recent Methodist conference, an exchange of pastors was authorized between Rev. Mr. Feenstra and the Rev. Melville T. Wire, former pastor here, who will occupy the pulpit of Clinton Kelly Methodist church in Portland, where Rev. Feenstra has served for the past seven years. Rev. and Mrs. Feenstra were honored at a potluck dinner at Portland Sunday and were presented with gifts prior to their departure.

A native of Holland, where relatives still reside, the Rev. Mr. Feenstra is a graduate of the Chicago Evangelistic institute. He came to the Oregon conference in 1924 from North Dakota. Mrs. Feenstra, who also is an ordained minister, conducted week-day religious instruction in Portland schools last winter. Both are very active in work with young people.

WARNING! BEWARE OF BOWEL WORMS Roundworms inside you or your child can cause real trouble. And you may not know what is wrong. Warning signs are: "picky" appetite, nervousness, uneasy stomach, itching parts. Get JAYNE'S Vermifuge right away! JAYNE'S is America's leading proprietary worm medicine, used by millions. Acts gently yet expels roundworms. Be sure you get JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE!

Display Only One Gasoline Sticker, Autoists Warned

Do you have more than one gasoline ration sticker on your automobile? If so, you had better remove immediately all except the sticker denoting the highest authorized allotment. Such is the advice of L. V. Hammock, chairman of the Roseburg rationing board.

Checks are now being made in Oregon of automobiles on which stickers are improperly displayed, Hammock reports.

A holder of a B cards should display the B sticker. He should not display an A and B. The same holds true of the holder of a C sticker. Where extra allotments of gasoline have been issued on either B or C cards there should be no A sticker on the windshield. The rationing board is instructed, Hammock said, to declare forfeit the extra allotments of gasoline to cars displaying more than one sticker. It also is improper, Hammock said, for a car to display an A sticker, if B or C books have been issued for the vehicle and forfeiture of the supplemental rations can be declared.

KRRR Mutual Broadcasting System, 1490 Kilocycles.

- BEST BETS TODAY 6:30—Harmony Hall. 7:30—Your Date With Fort Lewis. 8:30—Let's Talk It Over. FRIDAY 10:30—Luncheon with Lopez. 11:45—Rose Room. 2:30—Dream House of Melody. 5:15—Superman. 6:30—Music That Endures. 8:00—Oregon on Guard. 8:30—Music Without Words.

REMAINING HOURS TODAY

- 4:00—Fulton Lewis, Jr., Plough Chemical Co. 4:15—Dance Music. 4:30—Quaker City Serenade. 4:45—Musical Scoreboard. 5:00—Moods in Music. 5:15—Superman, Kellogg's Pep. 5:30—Highway Patrol. 5:45—Norman Nesbitt with the News, Studebaker. 6:00—Eye-Witness News, Copco. 6:15—Faces and Places. 6:30—Harmony Hall. 7:00—Raymond Clapper, White Owl. 7:15—State and Local News, Keel Motor Co. 7:20—Musical Interlude. 7:30—Your Date With Fort Lewis. 8:00—Treasury Star Parade starring Frederic March in "This Is America." 8:15—Talk by Congressman Samuel Dickstein. 8:30—Let's Talk It Over, Lockwood Motors. 9:00—Alka Seltzer News. 9:15—Round-Up in the Sky, E. G. High, Insurance. 9:30—Uncle Sam. 9:45—Fulton Lewis, Jr. 10:00—Sign off.

FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1943

- 6:45—Rise and Shine. 7:00—News, Los Angeles Soap Co. 7:15—Stuff and Nonsense. 7:30—State and Local News, Boring Optical. 7:35—Judd Furniture Store. 7:40—Rhapsody in Wax. 8:00—Shady Valley Folks. 8:30—Yankee House Party. 9:00—Musical Interlude. 9:00—Bookie Carter. 9:15—Man About Town. 9:30—Bob Crosby's Orchestra. 9:45—Edgewood Arsenal Band. 10:00—Alka Seltzer News. 10:15—Shoppers' Guide. 10:30—Luncheon with Lopez. 11:00—Wheel of Fortune. 11:45—Rose Room, Kellogg's cereals. 12:00—Interlude. 12:05—Sports Review, Dunham Transfer. 12:20—Parkinson's Information Exchange. 12:25—Rhythm at Random. 12:45—State News, Hansen Motors. 12:50—News-Review of the Air. 1:05—Musical Interlude. 1:15—Sweet and Sentimental. 1:30—Theme and Variations. 2:00—Sheela Carter. 2:15—Welcome Inn. 2:30—The Dream House of Melody, Copco. 3:00—Phillip Keyne Gordon. 3:15—Johnson Family. 3:30—Mutual's Overseas Reporters. 3:45—Tone Poems.

INSURANCE FIRE - LIFE - AUTO R. H. PARKER 631 So. Stephens St. Phone 835

- 4:00—Fulton Lewis, Jr., Plough Chemical Co. 4:15—Dance Music. 4:30—Quaker City Serenade. 4:45—Musical Scoreboard. 5:00—Moods in Music. 5:15—Superman, Kellogg's Pep. 5:30—Highway Patrol. 5:45—Norman Nesbitt with the News, Studebaker. 6:00—Frank Singiser, Kremi. 6:15—Faces and Places, Chevrolet Motor Co. 6:30—Music That Endures. 7:00—John B. Hughes. 7:15—State and Local News, Keel Motor Co. 7:20—Musical Interlude. 7:30—Lone Ranger. 8:00—Oregon on Guard. 8:15—Will Osborne's Orchestra. 8:30—Music Without Words. 9:00—Alka Seltzer News. 9:15—Hi Neighbor, McKean and Carstens. 9:30—Uncle Sam. 9:45—Fulton Lewis, Jr. 10:00—Sign off.

Ex-Pastor of Methodist Church Here Passes

Rev. George H. Bennett, pastor of the Methodist church in Roseburg about 35 years ago, died last Monday at Forest Grove, Ore., where he had lived for the last 20 years. Death followed by a week a fall at his home which resulted in a fractured femur. Mr. Bennett wrote for Methodist publications and also published a number of pamphlets on "Radio Energy Converted Into Life." Immediate survivors include his wife, with whom he celebrated a golden wedding anniversary in 1938; two sons and two daughters.

Infant Daughter Of Morgan Lawsons Dies

Burial services were held Tuesday at the Masonic cemetery for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Lawson of Roseburg. Born at Mercy hospital, Sunday, June 27, the girl, Susan Gay, died shortly after birth. Arrangements were conducted by the Douglas Funeral home.

Recognition of Aircraft Will be Taught in Douglas

Robert H. Lyon of Oakland, who has been in attendance at the Aircraft Warning Service recognition school at Eugene, is opening the first recognition school for observers in the Roseburg area starting at the Oakland school building July 2, at 8:30 p. m., it was announced today from local headquarters. Other schools are planned in each district included in the Roseburg area, it is reported.

The school is being held for all persons serving the Oakland observation post. The observers will be trained to recognize aircraft by type, rather than as a single motor, bi-motor or multi-motor, as in the past.

"It will be very advantageous to the army to have a report that a plane over an observation post is a P38 or a B17E, rather than having it reported as a single motor or a multi-motor when there are dozens of different single and multi-motored planes in the air," Lieutenant Paul C. Grotzsch, area field ground observer officer, said. "We hope to have observers trained so they can distinguish between the types of our own planes, and can also identify enemy aircraft," the lieutenant stated.

"We hope," he said, "that all observers in the Oakland district will attend the school and cooperate with Mr. Lyon, who has been especially trained by the army to serve as an instructor. Similar schools will soon be held in other districts, and we are urging the attendance of all observers at their local schools."

Turkey Improvement Assn. Meeting Stated

CORVALLIS, Ore., July 1.—(AP)—The annual meeting of the Oregon Turkey Improvement association will be held at the poultry building, Oregon State college, Friday, July 9, Dr. C. E. Holmes, supervisor of the improvement program, announced today. The association members are turkey breeders and hatcherymen of the state who handle more than 100,000 birds annually. The feed situation, marketing turkey eggs, and turkey disease control are among topics to be discussed. An address by Dean W. W. Schoenfeld and election of officers are also scheduled.

Are your lunches pointless—or good, energy-giving, without points? For the latter, use Patterson's Model Kream Bread as the foundation—energy-packed, good-tasting, fresh from a Roseburg bakery, not rationed— Ask your grocer for PATTERSON'S MODEL BREAD

Explosives chemist from Ohio decides he's a "BROWN DERBY MAN"

Newcomers aplenty favor this famous beer, Brown Derby—the Pilsner that experts say equals the old-time imported kind! It's a top-notch beer with dinner. And it's a real refresher of an afternoon or evening at home. Get acquainted at our risk. Buy a quart or two of Brown Derby today. If you don't agree it's just the kind you've been looking for, simply return the empties to the store and they'll refund the full price you paid.

at SAFEWAY Make your dollars fighting dollars; BUY BONDS till the Axis hollers!

GET HEP! When you serve beer at home, do like hundreds of thousands of Westerners do: SERVE BROWN DERBY "THE PILSNER THAT EQUALS OLD-TIME IMPORTED"