Farm WAR NEWS

FEED WHEAT HALTED

Government stocks of wheat again have been cut off as a source of feed for Oregon livestock and poultry. Commodity Credit was forced to discontinue feed wheat sales this week for the third time, when the 50-million bushel allocation authorized by congress last month was exhausted. A total of 275 million bushels of government wheat have been sold to feeders since the program started in March, 1942.

'43 WHEAT INSURANCE GOOD

Oregon wheat growers are assured that they will receive full protection of their federal all-risk crop insurance on their 1943 crops. Discontinuance of the program, ordered by congress, will have no effect on this year's insurance. Insured growers will receive prompt adjustment of losses on the 1943 crop.

1944 FERTILIZER SUPPLIES

Larger fertilizer supplies than ever before will be available to help Oregon farmers get maximum crop production next year. Supplies of nitrogen will be the largest in history—about a third more than this year. More phosphate will be available this year, but potash supplies will be somewhat less than this year. To put chemical fertilizer where it will do the most good to boost war crop production, distribution will again be controlled by War Food administration regulations. As this year, crops will be divided into A and B groups. A crops will get first priority, but growers of B crops will not be required to show that they have used fertilizer in the past in order to get supplies for 1944 production.

BERRY CEILING PRICES

Here are the prices processors may pay growers for seven kinds of berries under an OPA ceiling price announcement: Red raspberries, 15 cents; black raspberries, 13 cents; youngberries, boysenberries, loganberries and blackberries, 12 cents; gooseberries, 8 cents.

FARMSTEAD WIRING

WPB regulations (Order P-144), which provide farmstead wiring material for farmers certified by county USDA War boards as eligible for electric service, have been extended until July 31. The order, which permits eligible farms to apply an AA-3 rating for up to 75 pounds of copper wire, originally expired June 30. It will be shortly replaced by an allocation program which will enable farmers to apply to the county USDA War Board for a purchase certificate to obtain copper wire.

FARM BATTERY PRICES

Farmers need not pay more than the March, 1942 prices for farm batteries—for radios, telephones, ignition systems, fence controllers. Sellers asking increased prices are violating OPA ceilings, and should be reported to the War Price and Rationing board.

PRICE SUPPORTS FOR SPUDS

With large supplies of new crop potatoes coming into market, the War Food administration has announced that it intends to provide full support to market prices at previously announced levels. Support prices for Oregon for No. 1 potatoes are $2 a hundred, Klamath county basis, and $1.80, Malheur, with 15-cent increases as the season progresses.

CANNERS' PRICES APPROVED

So far 38 Oregon processors have been certified by the Oregon USDA War board as paying at least specified approved prices to growers for seven vegetables. Certified canners will be eligible for a Commodity Credit purchase and resale program designed to compensate for higher costs of raw products. Processing vegetables included in the program are tomatoes, peas, corn, snap beans, beets, cabbage and carrots.

NEW REFRIGERATORS "OUT"

There's not much chance of farmers—or anyone else—being able to buy a new electric household refrigerator for the duration, the Portland office of the War Production board advises. Production of new refrigerators was practically halted some months ago, and the limited number available in manufacturers' and distributors' stocks is reserved for the preservation of public health. There are no restrictions, however, on sale of any refrigerators in retailers' stocks.

FOOD FRONT BRIEFS

Ceilings on screenings have been established by OPA on a dollar-and-cents basis. The 1943 pig crop is estimated at 127 million head, compared with 105 million in 1942 and a 10-year average of 73,148,000. To encourage movement of corn to war industries and feeders, the War Food administration has promised farmers who deliver corn between now and August 10 that they'll get retroactive benefit of any ceiling increase by October 31. The action was taken to halt unfounded rumors of a boost in ceiling prices that was causing many growers to hold corn.

Grass Fire Started by Boy Plus Matches

The Roseburg fire department was called Monday afternoon to the Reservoir hill road, where a grass fire was accidentally started near the highway by a boy playing with matches. The blaze was extinguished before damage was caused.
