Marry In Ashland, Oregon

Corporal and Mrs. Jack Smith

DAYS CREEK, July 24.—A wedding of considerable local interest was recently solemnized when Miss Gene Maxine Rhoads of Vancouver, Washington became the bride of Cpl. Jack Smith of the army air force whose home is in Central Point. Since the groom had been given a furlough from his duties with the army and the bride had procured a short leave of absence from the shipyard where she is employed they met at Ashland where the ceremony was performed at two o'clock on the morning of the bride's birthday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Steele Morgan with the Rev. C. F. McFall officiating.

The bride was most attractive in a floor length dress of white moire taffeta modeled with long sleeves, sweetheart neck line and train. Her finger tip length veil had been worn by her sister, Mrs. Morgan, at her wedding and also by their mother at her wedding. Her arm bouquet was of white snapdragons from which cascaded long streamers of white taffeta. Mrs. Morgan who was matron of honor was gowning in a floor length model of yellow net over white taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of lavender phlox with matching streamers.

Cpl. Smith had as his best man his brother, Don Smith of Central Point. The bride party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. Arthur Peters who also played softly throughout the ceremony, following which a very lovely wedding breakfast was served, Miss Ada Loree Davis, assisting with the serving. She was dressed in a formal frock of white net and taffeta.

Those present beside the bride couple included Mrs. Susie Alvord of Houlton, a great aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith, parents of the groom, Mrs. Smith, paternal grandmother of the groom and Mrs. George Edwards and daughter, Barbara, all of Central Point, Miss Davis, Mrs. Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Morgan and daughter, Carol Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left immediately for a short honeymoon in the southern part of the state after which Cpl. Smith returned to the Douglas air base in Douglas, Arizona where he is stationed. Her work at the Kaiser shipyard in Vancouver.

Mrs. Smith who is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rhoads, now of Vancouver who formerly resided here before moving to Ashland a number of years ago has many friends in this community as she made this her home for several years and attended the local school. She is a niece of Mrs. R. A. Moore of Days Creek. She plans to soon go to Arizona to join her husband.

The bride party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march.

INFORMAL AFTERNOON ENJOYED AT PEARSON HOME ON TUESDAY

DORIS LEE ANDERSON AND GENE COCKEY MARRY IN SALEM

Of much interest here is the wedding Sunday, July 18, of Miss Doris Lee Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Anderson, of Salem, who became the bride of Staff Sergeant Gene Cockey, of Camp White, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cockey, of Vancouver, Wash. Dr. J. C. Harrison performed the ceremony at four o'clock in the afternoon at the First Methodist church in Salem in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The altar was decorated with an arrangement of white summer flowers and lighted by white tapers in tall candelabra. Miss Margaret Gabriel and Miss Thelma Smith lighted the candles. Miss Gabriel was gowning in blue marquisette and Miss Smith wore pink marquisette.

Preceding the ceremony, Leonard Morley sang, "Because" and "I Love You Truly" accompanied at the organ by Prof. T. S. Roberts. Prof. Roberts also played the wedding marches.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a white satin gown fashioned with a long torso bodice with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves terminating in a point over the wrists and full skirt extending into a train. Her long veil was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli.

Miss June Bowen, of Roseburg, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and was lovely in a peach marquisette gown and she carried a nosegay of pastel summer flowers. Bridesmaids were: Miss Betty Marsters, of Roseburg, also a cousin of the bride; Miss Cleo Cockey, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Jean Alice Carkin and Miss Lois Robinson. Miss Marsters and Miss Carkin wore gowns of blue marquisette and Miss Cockey and Miss Robinson wore gowns of pink marquisette. All carried nosegays of summer flowers in pastel shades.

Leonard Morley was best man for the bridegroom and ushers were: Malcolm Gilson, Reed Shelton, Donald Anderson, brother of the bride, and Scotty Moreland.

The bride's mother was charming in a black jacket frock with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother was lovely in a blue ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of Tallman roses. Relatives and close friends attended the reception in the church parlors following the nuptial service. Mrs. Wade Ellis cut the bride's cake and serving ices were: Mrs. Melvin Geist and Mrs. J. C. Harrison. Assisting with the serving were: Miss Marjorie Reeves, Miss Rosalie Hoyer, Miss Thelma Smith and Miss Margaret Gabriel with Miss Gladys Crawford in charge of the guest book.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will go to Medford, where they will make their home until fall, when the bride will return to Salem to resume her studies at Willamette university.

For traveling the bride chose a powder blue frock over which she wore a navy blue top coat. Her accessories were navy and she wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The bride is very well known in Roseburg and is a niece of Mrs. Fred Bowen, J. L. Marsters, L. L. Marsters and Roscoe Marsters, of this city. She is a former resident of Roseburg.
