The Truth About Japan Told in Film Starting at Indian Theater Today

The legend of Japan as a land of cherry blossoms, painted butterflies and perfumed moonlight at last get a thorough and accurate debunking on the screen. Hollywood has taken a searching look at the self-styled sons of heaven and found them living in a most uncelestial state.

For the first time on the American screen Hollywood has torn off Japan's silk kimono. In "Behind the Rising Sun," featuring Margo, J. Carrol Naish and Tom Neal starting at the Indian theater today for a four-day run, RKO Radio reveals the authentic, factual story of a Japanese family in peace and war. Emmet Lavery and Edward Dmytryk, the same writer-producer team who slapped the nazis with "Hitler's Children," have turned their talents loose on the oriental end of the axis.

Instead of the popular fiction that the Japs are a polite little people who wear thick-lensed glasses and have a yen for gardening and higher education, you'll learn that:

Japanese wives carry all bundles and walk not less than ten steps behind their husbands.
 Girl children are sold by their poverty-stricken families into

Trail Blazed to Wrecked Airplane

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug 11—(Canadian Press)—Over sheer cliffs and through heavy brush by a circuitous, 15 mile route four experienced woodsmen today were blazing a trail over the last four miles to the crashed Canadian Pacific airliner which disappeared with 13 aboard last Dec. 20.

After the woodsmen lay out the trail, two will remain on guard at the plane and the others will return to guide in the party of police and airline officials which left here Monday night after the wreckage had been sighted from the air by Capt. Don Patry.

Officials hope the plane's log will solve the mystery of the disappearance and explain why it was headed away from Vancouver when it crashed at 7,000 feet almost at the tip of the highest peak in the Cream range, 73 miles southeast of here.

Patry reported the fuselage of the plane appeared to be intact and it was believed all 13 bodies were inside. Wreckage was scattered over a wide area, however.

CURB SERVICE

NEW YORK—As a Fifth avenue bus came to a stop for a red light, a passenger shouted: "Look, on the sidewalk, that baby carriage fell over on the baby."
 Out jumped the conductor, righted the carriage and replaced the uninjured infant as the mother hurried out of a nearby public library.
 "No trouble at all, Madame," said the conductor as the traffic light changed and the bus started moving.

Milwaukee was once an Indian village, called by the natives "Menewaukee," or "good lands."
