to us the northern route to Tokyo—a fact that is pointed out by both Vice-Admiral Kinkaid and General Dewitt.

Why did they do it?
The most plausible guess is that in the enthusiasm of their successful start a year and a half ago they bit off more than they can hope to chew.

So they're splitting out some of it.

NAVY Secretary Knox, Australia's high commissioner in Canada, and T. V. Soong, China's foreign minister, show up in Quebec—all at the same time.
This suggests that Churchill and FDR and their military advisers are making medicine against the Jap.

LITVINOFF, Russian ambassador to this country, was RE-CALLED and replaced by a Russian who is more or less unknown. Maisky, soviet ambassador to London, was similarly recalled a little while back.

WHY?
This writer doesn't know, and can't think of any good guesses.
Few outsiders seem to know much about it.

It is probable that Churchill and FDR have a pretty good idea of what it's all about.

WE outsiders have the hazy notion that it's connected in some way with Russian moves on board.

EVERYWHERE the news reports speak of German weakness in the air. For some time the idea has prevailed in more or less informed quarters that the Germans are HOLDING BACK the bulk of their remaining air forces for some desperate emergency—such as an invasion of the continent.

Some time ago they're supposed to have shifted the bulk of their production from bombers, which are an offensive weapon,
to fighters, whose job is DE-FENSIVE.

It's unlikely that the German air force is as near gone as the reports we've been getting seem to suggest.

ONE of the objectives of modern air war is to force the enemy to send up his fighters and then SHOOT THEM DOWN.
The Germans tried that on the British, but the RAF held back enough of its fighters to meet the emergency when it came.

Maybe that's what the Germans are doing now.

PITY THE BUSINESS MAN

EDITORIAL

By Charles V. Stanton

ONE of the miracles of this war is that so few business men are going nuts. Our commentators have written brilliant articles on industrial progress, on scientific discoveries, on the advancements by medical research and kindred topics relating to outstanding achievements under the stress of wartime conditions. But some writer is neglecting a golden opportunity. Someone with a knowledge of psychology should elaborate on the reasons why more business men are not becoming raving maniacs. Certainly they have every reason for it.

The first contributing factor is the labor shortage. Next in order would be the horrendous array of reports, questionnaires, forms, applications, priorities, tax deductions, payroll deductions, unemployment compensation filings, etc., etc., and etc. Then would come ration points, ration banking, ration changes, ration rules and regulations, ration inspectors. All of this, coupled with shortages of merchandise, rising costs and lessening profits, would make the average madhouse appear an Eden to the business man.

Take the case of the restaurant men as an example: Perhaps you have noticed in the News-Review classified advertising department the almost continuous appeals for help. The need for cooks and waitresses is critical. Some eating houses are being forced to close one or more days weekly in order to give their help a necessary rest. Some are being forced to curtail their services because they do not have enough help to meet demands. Yet the number of customers needing service is mounting daily. New families moving into Roseburg are unable to find housekeeping accommodations. Many have sleeping quarters but must get meals at restaurants. Industrialization is increasing the requirements for dinners, packing of lunch boxes, etc. In many families the man and wife are both employed, so are taking more meals at restaurants. Yet the number of restaurant workers is decreasing.

"What gripes me," one restaurant operator said today, "is to see women we know have had restaurant experience and who are not now employed, but who won't come back to work in this emergency. A lot of people are going to go hungry if women who can work as cooks and waitresses don't take employment, even if they don't need the money."

"We can't feed the people if we don't get help." The situation is a lot more critical than most people realize."

The pressure is not on restaurant men alone. "I practically insulted a customer this morning," one retailer said. "I had been up most of the night doing the bookkeeping because I haven't been able to find a bookkeeper. Then the store filled up with customers early this morning. This man wanted a piece of merchandise we haven't had for months. I guess I was awfully abrupt. I realized afterwards the customer had every right to be offended."

The business man's problems can be greatly eased if the public will be tolerant. He is trying to do the work of three or four men, in most cases. He is endeavoring to break in new and inexperienced help. Often the help he has been able to obtain is not as efficient nor as capable as he would ordinarily employ. He is trying to do the best he can.

The public can aid, first of all, by being patient. It will also be of great assistance if customers try to do their shopping in other than the rush hours, whenever possible. Another great aid, particularly where large orders are to be filled, would be leaving a written list to be made up at a later time and to be called for after a lapse of several hours. Thus the order could be made ready outside of the rush periods.

NOT BY SUSAN

Tonight is one of our favorite evenings for listening. This is because of Soldiers With Wings at 6:30, Take A Card at 8:00, and the old master sleuth, Sherlock Holmes, at 8:30. This General Barrows chap now heard on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9:30 isn't at all bad. If you haven't been listening, lend thine ear tonight when 9:30 rolls around. General Hershey must be putting the finger on Mutual's publicity men. We have received no dope from them on any of the programs for in these many days now, so knocking out this so-called dope sheet for you is greatly similar to shooting in the dark or something. However, we can remind you that the military band on Thursday a. m. will be the celebrated navy band broadcast direct from Washington, D. C. How do you like the Gardeners' Friend each Tuesday and Thursday at 10:15? Has a pretty popular chat program, according to most of the local Victory Gardeners. Gives out with lots of good "info" on how to get the biggest turnips out of the smallest back 40 you have and so on. Gives some good dope occasionally on corn, too, but Susan's Subs need no advice along that line. Another program now being presented by the Navy is Full Speed Ahead each afternoon at 1:30. We missed hearing it today, but studio scuttlebutt has it down as a right good 30 minutes of variety.

Not much of special interest this Thursday, but we would like to put in a good word for the KRNR gal's Welcome Inn each day at 1:15. They really work hard on this show and in our honest opinion, do a swell job. Esther can tickle the ivories on almost any type of number you care to request, and Faith is certainly o. k. at the mike. You've probably noticed they change off occasionally, as each is perfectly at home at either the SS or the mike. It's a request show too. Don't know just what the kids

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

There is no mystery behind God's destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, neither is there any mystery behind the fact that God permits nations to fall to-day, when wickedness and sin become so repulsive to Him as it did in these ancient cities. Calamity of some kind may be expected. The wickedness that is abroad in the world is an expression of the rebellion that is in the heart of man. But God has decreed that all must answer to Him for their sins. If they do not confess them and have them forgiven, they must inevitably suffer the consequences. Intoxicating beverages and all their attending evils of pollution and immorality stood at the top of the list of the sins of Sodom and Gomorrah. Let America not be too swift to pass judgment up on other nations, when she is guilty of the same prevailing sins which have been the cause of their downfall. Not only shall those who indulge in the same that bring reproach upon our nation answer to a sovereign God, but all of us as citizens must give an account of our unconcern for prevailing conditions, also we should remember that when calamity overtakes the guilty the innocent often suffer along with them, and everyone of us shall give an account of himself to God. Amen.

Charges Arising Over Release Of Japanese Denied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Charges by a house subcommittee that the War Relocation authority had neglected to exercise "proper safeguards" for the national security in releasing Japanese from its camps brought a prompt denial today from WRA Director Dillon S. Myer.

"We have released no dangerous subversives," Myer told newsmen. "We let the record stand for itself. There now are 18,000 persons on seasonal and indefinite leave from the relocation centers, and there has been not a single report of a subversive act by any one of them."

A Dies subcommittee on un-American activities reported yesterday that WRA had released 23 members of the Butoku-Kai, which it described as a subversive youth section of the Black Dragon society of Japan.

The congressional group, headed by Rep. Cotto (D., Calif.), said the purpose of the Butoku-Kai was to "enhance the spirit of Japanese military virtue" in America, and that many of its 10,000 members were instructed "in the military arts."

Recommendations Offered. The committee, after a protracted investigation in California and elsewhere, made these recommendations:

- 1. That the WRA's "belated announcement of its intentions of segregating the disloyal from the loyal Japanese" be made effective immediately.
- 2. That a board of representatives from the WRA and the various intelligence agencies, including the FBI, be constituted with full powers to investigate evacuees and to pass finally on their applications for release.
- 3. That WRA inaugurate a thorough-going program of Americanization for Japanese remaining in the centers.

Other Charges Denied. Myer also denied committee charges that WRA had "promoted cultural ties with Japan" among the evacuees, numbering about 106,000, declaring that on the contrary an Americanization program already is under way in the camps.

The committee said WRA at one time was paying 90 instructors in judo at a single center, that judo (ju-jitsu) is "a distinctive Japanese cultural phenomenon," and that "various other forms of so-called recreation which could only have the effect of a tie-back to Japan were likewise promoted in the centers."

Myer said the teaching of judo "was corrected a great time ago," and that the Japanese now are being taught baseball, softball and football.

LETTERS to the Editor

WAR BOND OWNERS IN NEED OF SAFETY SPOTS

Tiller, Ore.
Editor, News-Review:
I think I have something, although as usual with persons writing in to a newspaper, I have no solution to the problem. Yet, I have racked my few brains for some method of correcting the following:
Where does the average person store his war bonds safely? Safe deposit vaults and boxes are practically non-existent because of both demand and metals shortage.
As a case in point: A timber tapper approached me a couple of

Rife and Shotgun Shell Quota For Hunters Increased

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP)—War has put hunting back on its coonskin cap to fill the family larder with fresh meat.

For, take it from the Interior department's fish and wildlife service, hunters are making a substantial contribution toward easing the meat shortage.

They bagged a total of 225,404,000 pounds in the 1942-43 season and in terms of the coupon beef values that represents 3,064,848,000 rationing points.

The War Production board last night upped the quota of rifle and shotgun shells to be made available to farmers and ranchers for use against "predatory animals and game birds now threatening crops and herds in certain parts of the country."

Those who take advantage of the order will get an extra 100 rounds of .22 calibre rifles, 20 rounds of center fire rifle ammunition and 25 rounds of shotgun shells of any gauge in addition to their regular quarterly quotas.

Simultaneously, WPA advised sportsmen hunters that they would be allowed 50 rounds of .22 cartridges, 20 rounds of center fire ammunition and 25 rounds of shotgun shells after the needs of the farmers and ranchers have been met.

Maybe this has all been foreseen by the bright boys at Washington... but they should tell the little fellow how, maybe even broadcasting under OWI sponsorship... or with one of their understandable "directives."

Have a Coca-Cola=Sa-LAM-oo a-LAY-koom

(PEACE BE UNTO YOU)

...or how Americans make pals in Palestine

Peace be unto you, says the hospitable Moslem when he greets a stranger. Have a "Coke", says the American soldier in return, and in three words he has made a new friend. It's a phrase that works as well in Haifa as in Harrisburg. Around the globe Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes —has become the high-sign between kindly-minded people.
