"FOREST FIRES - BANZAI!"

BANZAI is a Jap cheer that means "everything to the good." There's no need to tell YOU that Japs will cheer for big forest fires in our West Coast woods. Because fires stop logging (and we're short of saw logs now!). They form daytime smoke screens and sky glow at night. Fires require valuable man-hours to get them under control... man-hours that should be devoted to getting out timber. So be on the alert! Report every fire... at once. Just call central. And above all, warn your friends to be exceptionally careful of matches and cigarettes in the woods. Nine out of ten fires start through carelessness.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED FOR AWS DUTY

One of the greatest civilian volunteer organizations to come out of this war is the Aircraft Warning Service... the airplane "spotters" who stand guard night and day. The forest industries salute them... they can and do prevent enemy "fire-bombings." You are invited to join this patriotic group. Inquire at your local defense organization.
