NEWS OF OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Mrs. John Kelly has received word that her son, Eugene B. Peterson, is now at naval training station at Farragut, Idaho, following enlistment Aug. 18. He formerly attended school at Roseburg, where he was a member of the football squad. He graduated this year from Bandon high school.

Merton C. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Cole, Roseburg residents now employed in Portland, has been promoted from second to third class rating in the navy, according to word received by his parents. He was graduated Aug. 7 from Corpus Christi, Texas, naval aviation school, where he was training in radio. He has been assigned to Chase field at Beville, Texas.

Staff Sergeant Ethel Ruth Anderson, in service with the WACS, has been transferred from Fort Devins, Mass., to Baltimore, Md., according to word received by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Anderson, who reside on Fullerton St., Roseburg. She is serving in the hospital department.

Private First Class Walter H. Robinson of Lookingglass has been making nice noises so far in this war, but the sounds he plans to make in the future will be anything but pleasant for enemy ears. Which is one way of reporting that Robinson has transferred from the United States army air force band at Tucson, Ariz., after two and one-half years, to Miami Beach, Florida, where he is to start training as an aviation cadet. A son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Robinson of Lookingglass, he was graduated from Gresham union high school and moved to Douglas county five years ago. Prior to his enlistment in the army in March, 1941, he was employed at a sawmill at Westfir.

Robert Shoemaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Shoemaker, Roseburg, has arrived at Camp Claiborne, La. He was transferred to that post from Fort Lewis, for six weeks of basic training in the army engineers.

Copco Loses Damage Suit Over Klamath Dam
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The California Oregon power company is under order to pay $7500 to C. F. Moore and Pearl E. Moore, who sued the company on grounds one of its dams on the Klamath river in Northern California deprived their property of water in 1931. They asked $25,000 but a jury at Yreka awarded $7500. Their Superior Judge Arthur Coats ruled out the verdict. The state supreme court yesterday restored the judgment.

THE WORLD OF TOMORROW

EDITORIAL

By Charles V. Stanton

SCHOOLS throughout the nation will soon be calling boys and girls back to desks. This year's school program will offer a good many problems not found in textbooks but the problems will be for solution by officials and not by pupils.

S. Burton Heath, NEA editorial writer, has an interesting comment on the situation. He says:

The sound of September's school bells is going to fall jarringly on a good many ears this year. For the bells will be summoning 3,000,000 teen-age boys and girls back to school from summer war jobs, and adding another twinge to an already severe manpower headache.

Of course employers knew they were getting temporary help when they hired these high school students. But that is not going to make it any easier to fill the gap that they will leave in the home-front ranks. For the employers, whether they are farmers, heads of war plants, or proprietors of retail businesses, were woefully hard up for help when this new source of labor supply opened up last June. And they will be just as hard up when the supply is removed.

The schools are going to have trouble coaxing many of these young workers back to their books. School is going to seem a pretty prosaic place to youngsters of 17 and 18 who have been working in aircraft plants and shipyards for wages which are, by any previous standard, fabulous.

It is not easy for these young people to realize that their first view of the business world is not a normal one, that a time is coming when they may need all the education they can get in order to get a job, or that it may be years before they can again receive such high wages.

The value of schooling has been a weary drone in the ears of graduating classes for generations, but its truth is going to be sharply challenged by a lot of high school students today. And the fact of that truth is no more certain than the fact that these students are still needed in industry and business and, to a lesser extent, in agriculture. So a combined school-work program seems the only feasible solution.

A few starts have already been made in this direction. School officials have led the way in most cases, but in some communities employers and merchants associations have taken the initiative. Among the suggestions are six-day school weeks, an 8 o'clock start for the school day, special shifts for after-school workers, and "speed up" graduations for honor students.

There is one necessary adjunct to any school-work program which has not been mentioned in any published plans to date, but which must not and probably will not be overlooked. That is a vigilant check on the health of high school boys and girls who combine studies with outside jobs.

They will inevitably miss a lot of the fun and a lot of the sleep they normally need. And certainly no one should ask or permit them to sacrifice their health, critical as the manpower emergency may be.

Shippers at Creswell, Newberg and Salem advised the department they plan to load more than 200 cars of fresh prunes.

The two factors influencing the prune deal are the almost negligible prune crop in Idaho and the small crop in Oregon's Milton-Freewater district.

Armstrong Loses To Robinson, Says Ring Career Over

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The amazing ring saga of Henry Armstrong ended permanently last night and more's the pity it terminated amid boos and catcalls at the scene of some of his greatest triumphs. The fabulous career of the 32-year-old former triple title holder came to grief against the flicking fists of youthful Ray "Sugar" Robinson, who walked to an easy 10-round decision. After the drubbing he took in losing every round to Robinson, Henry didn't mince matters. He emphasized in the dressing room that he was hanging up his gloves for keeps. "I'm through," he said wearily. Robinson, regarded in many quarters as the un-ruined welterweight champion, was content to backpedal and jab from long range. Only occasionally did he cut loose with the two-fisted attack that earned him a terrifying reputation. He seemed to hurt Armstrong on these occasions, but showed a healthy respect for his opponent and never followed up his advantage. The crowd, keen for the kill, didn't like Robinson's caution and booed lustily.

Kahut Defeats Walker By Third-Round T. K. O.

PORTLAND, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Joe Kahut, 167, the slugging Woodburn farm boy, was in line for larger game today, following another clean-cut victory in a main event boxing bout. He scored a technical knockout over Jim Walker, 174, Oakland, in the third round of a scheduled ten-rounder. Joey Dolan, 121, Portland, again decided Nat Corum, 125, Honolulu in a rematch of a Spokane fight two weeks ago. Dolan was never in trouble. Other results: Mickey Pease, 147, Portland, drew with Leo McCormick, 144, Portland; Norman Finch, 143, Vancouver, Wash., drew with Bobby Brock, 142, Portland; Eddie Dwillis, 156, Vancouver, Wash., knocked out Henry Johnson, 155, Vancouver, Wash.

DIAL LOG NOT By SUSAN
Double or Nothing (Monday 8:30 p. m.) looks exceptionally good this week. The show will salute war workers and folks who have increased their bond purchases. Service men bond buyers and city officials will appear on the program and it is planned to have Indiana's Governor Schriener on the show too. Here is a not of interest: Dave Driscoll, war services director for WOR, the key Mutual station in New York, has arrived safely in North Africa and will make transcriptions of going-ons right at the battlefield which will be aired later. Sounds like plenty powerful stuff. If you heard Raymond Clapper Thursday at 7, you know by now that he has returned to America from his extensive tour of the European war fronts. Ray is scheduled for his regular commentary Monday at 7. In our opinion, if a commentator insists on bringing authentic news to his audience strongly enough to traipse all over the actual battlefronts in order to dig up that news first hand, he is certainly worth listening to. And speaking of commentators. We just heard that Gabriel Heatter (Monday thru Friday at 6 p. m.) ranks 8th from the top in size of listening audience. And this is based on ALL radio programs on the air at that time of day. And brother, that ain't bad. (We still think buying those bonds is a good idea though.)

Veterinary Products Agency Is Accepted

Robert Harris, proprietor of the Roseburg Pharmacy, announced today he has accepted the agency for veterinary products of the Lederle Laboratories. The Roseburg Pharmacy, he states, has stocked a complete line of veterinary biological and pharmaceuticals for control of disease of livestock and poultry. "Never before has it been so important for farmers and stockmen to guard the health of their valuable animals," Harris declared. "The immunization of horses, cattle, swine, sheep, fowl and small animals against disease costs but a trifle, when compared with possible heavy losses through easily preventable infections."

U. S. Buy of Excess Lane County Cabbage Pledged

EUGENE, Aug. 27.—(AP)—G. Bernhard Fedde, attorney for the Eugene Vegetable association, said today the War Food administration has agreed to buy all excess No. 1 grade cabbage at 15 cents a pound. "Most farmers say this price still will not permit a profit," Fedde said, "but it will offset most of the costs of production that otherwise would be total loss."
