British Repulsed In Italy Landing Effort, Nazis Say

LONDON, Aug. 31—(AP)—The German radio, declared today that British troops attempted a minor landing in Italy south-east of Reggio Calabria, across from Sicily, but that it was "immediately scotched."

No details were given in the broadcast. Reggio Calabria lies just across the strait of Messina from Sicily, and a landing to the "southeast" would have been on the very bottom of the toe of Italy.

The landing was attempted Sunday by 400 men, the broadcast said.

The German reports brought no official comment in London and were viewed with skepticism. It was felt here that if any landing was made it might have been a small-scale, hit-and-run attack against some enemy installations, a reconnaissance operation or feint to keep the enemy defenses on edge and cover activities elsewhere.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 31—(AP)—A German foreign office military spokesman told foreign correspondents in Berlin that the allies were making new invasion preparations in the Mediterranean. Dispatches to the Swedish press said today.

The spokesman said that fleets of transports, invasion barges and warships were being formed in eastern Tunisia, Sicily, and Oran and suggested that the allies were planning an attack on southern Italy or France. He added that 300,000 French troops were concentrated at Oran.

A. W. Frederick Passes On at 92

Aaron Williams Frederick, 92, until recently a resident of Myrtle Creek, died Aug. 27 at Salem, Oregon. Born near Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 25, 1851, he was engaged in the school teaching profession for more than 50 years. He was retired on pension in the state of California in 1913. Since coming to Myrtle Creek in 1919, he had taught several Oregon schools, but was forced to retire in 1927 because of failing eyesight.

Surviving are his wife, Caroline E. Frederick; a daughter, Mrs. C. W. Parks, Willamina, Ore., and four sons: Paul Frederick, Myrtle Creek; John Frederick, Springfield; and Huey Frederick, Washington, D. C. He also leaves two grand children.

Private services were held at the Clough-Barrick chapel at Salem, Ore., at 4 p. m. Saturday, with Rev. Dudley Strain, Salem, officiating.

Wife Asks Divorce From Ex-Gov. Clarence Martin

SPOKANE, Aug. 31—(AP)—Suit for divorce from former Governor Clarence D. Martin has been filed in superior court here by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Martin.

She charges that her husband absented himself for long periods without explanation and that he refused to establish a home for her.

Martin, former head of the F. M. Martin Milling company at Cheney, served two terms as governor preceding the election of Governor Langlie. He disposed of his milling interests and his Cheney home last spring.

She stated that a property settlement had been made and asked its approval by the court. Details were not disclosed.

The two were married in 1907 and have three sons, William, Dan and Frank Martin, all in the armed services.
