that says nothing but adds to our curiosity.

SENATOR LODGE, of Massachusetts, is back from a tour of the war fronts with a poor opinion of the news we're getting.

He says: "Our fighting men are mad because of the FALSE OPTIMISM of our news," and adds that this false optimism is a "general condition of our news reporting, our communiques, radio commentaries and our commentators."

It is true that the communiques are uniformly encouraging, conveying the impression (without saying so in so many words) that our side has the situation nicely under control. This writer, who has been reading communiques ever since the war began, has been constantly impressed by that obvious fact.

Why it is true, only the military men who issue the communiques know.

THE headlines, taken as a whole are distinctly on the optimistic side.

Why?
Human nature enters in here.
The primary purpose of big headlines, especially in the large-metropolitan cities, is to SELL PAPERS. Shrewd circulation managers discovered long ago that hopeful headlines will sell more than gloomy ones.

EVEN you, hard-headed and realistic though you may be, probably buy a paper with a hopeful headline more readily than one with a headline that un-settles and FRIGHTENS you.

THE radio commentators and newscasters are likewise apt to present an optimistic picture of the progress of the war.

Again the answer is that the HOPEFUL broadcasters, who make it look like our side has the situation well in hand, FIND SPONSORS more easily than their fellows who present a pessimistic picture.

THIS writer, as an explainer and sometimes a simplifier of the news, has urged constantly that you SWALLOW NOTHING WHOLE that you read everything, listen to everything, check one version against another and then DRAW YOUR OWN CON-CLUSIONS by the simple process of putting two and two together to make four.

If you will do that, with reasonable thoroughness and thoughtfulness, you will arrive in the course of time at a fairly accurate understanding of what has happened.

THIS writer, incidentally, has the feeling that the public dis-trusts ALL the news and BE-LIEVES NOBODY with the possible exception of Churchill.
That is unfortunate.

Church-of-Air Speaker To Be Heard at R. H. S.

Rev. Percy Crawford of the Young people's church of the air, heard every Sunday afternoon on the coast-to-coast Mutual network, will speak in Roseburg at the senior high school at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, October 6. Accompanying Rev. Mr. Crawford will be his wife, a quartette and a violinist. The program will be a spiritual inspiration and a rare treat for music lovers of the community.

A single U. S. armored division uses more than 600 tons of ammunition and 78,000 pounds of food for every day it is in action.

YOUTH NEEDS GUIDANCE

EDITORIAL

By Charles V. Stanton

FOUR boys, all of high school age, two from Arizona, one from North Dakota and one from Minnesota, were arrested here this week.

These boys should have been in school, preparing themselves for lives as useful and upright citizens. Instead, they were following the criminal path, stealing automobiles, burglarizing homes and stores, and directing their lives toward crime and its inevitable punishment.

Juvenile delinquency is not confined to boys from Arizona, North Dakota and Minnesota. Right here in Douglas county we have boys and girls who have become problem children.
County officials and persons interested in the welfare of the youth of our land are frankly worried. They foresee a most critical postwar age if society fails to instill a sense of moral responsibility in the minds of the youth of today.

We are not crying that the younger generation is going to the dogs. Each generation of adults appears to feel that the youngsters are far worse in their behavior than those of their own youthful days. We feel, personally, that the youth of today as a whole is better and finer than any past generation. But there is a minority that offers a real danger to future society if a curb is not found.

This minority is being steadily increased, as court records show. Numerous factors are cited as contributing to this condition. The first and most serious factor is, without question, the lack of parental instruction, control and guidance; the failure of parents to accept their own responsibility in leading their children into honest, upright lives. The stress of war times doubtless is responsible for much of the increase in juvenile delinquency. More and more parents are failing in their rightful task because they are engaged in war work and are thus neglecting normal home life. Then there are the elements of emotional excitement of the war, the uncertainty of the future, the alterations in relationships and other such influences which serve to distort perspective and disturb the normality of daily living so essential in the life of the teen-age youth.

Because there is danger that this minority group now turning toward delinquency will increase to such an extent that it will seriously affect our national moral security in future years, thoughtful people are trying to find means of meeting the needs of the day.

The combined high school Parent-Teacher association of Roseburg will attack this problem at a meeting to be held Monday night. Plans are to be discussed for a supervised recreation hall where boys and girls will be afforded necessary social contacts in a suitable environment, instead of being left with nothing but a picture show or walking the streets as entertainment.

It is being urged that every member of the association be present for this meeting. The problem is such, sponsors declare, that a most thorough study is essential, while any solution that may be undertaken will need wholehearted cooperation and support.

Southern Oregon Football Teams Post Victories

(By the Associated Press)

Grants Pass, Medford and Klamath Falls, a southern Oregon combine, and Eugene emerged from Friday night high school play as teams to watch in the state football championship race.
Grants Pass rolled over a highly touted Bend eleven, 21 to 6.
After the Lava Bears had scored 30 points in winning their first two games, Medford continued the power it showed in defeating Yreka, Calif., 34-14 last week, by downing Marshfield, one of the claimants of the state title last year, 14 to 0. Klamath Falls won its third straight victory by trouncing Salem, 31 to 13.
In the northeastern sector two of the top teams, Pendleton and Baker, renewed their ancient rivalry and this time it was Pendleton who emerged as the power, with a 12-7 win. Milton-Freewater's McLaughlin high, after Friday, still remains a threat for honors in that area, however.

Eugene continued as a dominant force in the Willamette valley, although it stepped outside the tanks of the tough No Name league to whip its cross-city rival, University high, 19-0. The Oregon City Promoters of the No Name loop, who bowed to Eugene last week, took another lacing this time from little West Linn, which won, 13-6.
Stiefel and Corvallis, buttled to a scoreless tie.

Football Battles to Be Broadcast Over KRRR

Washington and Oregon sport-cast fans who faced the prospect of a very slim season when all Pacific Coast conference schools in the northwest, except the University of Washington, dropped their 1943 schedules, are cheered by today's announcement that Tide Water Associated Oil company plans to release outstanding games from the South to his area whenever Pacific Northwest games are not scheduled. As an experiment, Associated is making games available this coming week-end. If a sufficient number of fans indicate their interest in hearing football, even though the competing teams are not local, the practice will be continued throughout the season.

First game to be brought North under this new program promises to be an exciting one between two ace teams, U. S. C. and California, fighting it out at the Bears' stadium in Berkeley.
Football enthusiasts can tune in at 1:45 p. m. Saturday, October 2, to hear veteran Associated Sportscaster Ernie Smith play-by-play a description of the action.
The battle will be aired over KRRR, Roseburg.
