

Lend-Lease Probe Demand Declares Russians Remiss

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—(AP)—Demanding an immediate investigation of lend-lease operations, Senator Ellender (D-La.) reported today that Russia's reciprocal aid to the United States had been limited to supplying and servicing American vessels in soviet ports.

Ellender said the information was contained in a letter from former Lend-Lease Administrator Edward R. Stettinius, Jr. In making the contents public, the Louisiana senator called for an inquiry "at once" into the more than $13,793,000,000 of United States lend-lease expenditures. He said his demand grew out of the "secret" reports given to the senate last week by five senators who toured the major battle theaters.

Ellender said he would take the floor to urge President Roosevelt to "make every effort to obtain from our allies concessions in oil, tin, iron ore and rubber so that we can replenish our natural resources now being depleted."

Moreover, he said, we should negotiate now for permanent possession of strategic bases in return for lend-lease aid. Red's Home Need Cited In the letter written dated Aug. 21, prior to his recent appointment as undersecretary of state, Stettinius informed Ellender "the soviet government has expressed its desire to give us reverse lend-lease to the fullest possible extent, but the volume and nature of such aid is limited by the weight of Russia's own requirements and by the absence of American forces in areas which can be supplied by Russia."

"Thus far, therefore, such aid has been confined to repair, supply and servicing of our vessels in Russian ports," he said. Siding with Ellender, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) declared that the disclosures made to the senate by its touring group call for a lend-lease investigation "before any more money is appropriated for this purpose."
