Changes Foreseen in Postwar Uses of Wood

Great changes will be made in the utilization of wood products following the war, according to H. J. Cox, secretary of the Willamette Valley Lumbermen's association, who was the principal speaker at the regular Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Roseburg Kiwanis club. Telling of the growth of the lumber industry in the Pacific Northwest and the conservation and replanting projects of the past few years, he predicted that wood products will play an essential part in the postwar period. Prefabrication and unit construction will make for better houses, he said. Wood will also be made fireproof, while improvements in design will simplify the heating and fuel consumption problem. Homes of the future, he said, will have more conveniences. The club, in a business session, elected Oscar Emmer as director to succeed Frank Ward, who has moved from the city.

Football Battle Here Friday Will Start at 8 p. m.

The starting time for the Roseburg-Cottage Grove high school football game Friday, originally set for evening, then switched to afternoon to cooperate with the scheduled Christian Endeavor convention, has been returned to the evening hour of 8 o'clock. It was announced today. Change back to 8 p. m. was arranged with the Cottage Grove team Tuesday, following receipt of word that the Christian Endeavor convention had been indefinitely postponed upon recommendation of the state board of health, due to an increase in the number of infantile paralysis cases throughout the state.

The evening game is greatly preferred by Roseburg fans as it gives an opportunity for a greater number of sports lovers to attend. The local high school authorities were greatly pleased by the sizable crowd attending the game here last week with University high school of Eugene. The fans witnessed a good game, and it is expected that even a larger attendance will be enjoyed at Friday night's game.

The Indians will be endeavoring to stop a brilliant ball carrier in the person of Harpole, veteran of last year's strong Cottage Grove team. Harpole is a fast and rugged player and it will take strong defensive work, Coach Hod Turner expects, to keep him from running wild.

Lumber company has passed in to the hands of Charles E. Dan, west coast lumber and shipping magnate and president of Dant & Russell Inc.

Discrimination Against Negroes Hit by AFL

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor convention yesterday adopted a committee report denouncing race discrimination in unions after an extensive debate provoked by a Negro delegate's charge that some unions gave his race only the right to pay dues.

President William Green, participating in the discussion, declared, "if I had my way every organization in the AFL would admit Negroes to membership on same basis of equality as whites." The convention applauded his statement. Green said, however, he felt the problem could be solved only by understanding and education "and never through the application of force."

A nine-story, half-finished hotel in Marshfield, which proved unsalable in private markets, was put up for sale by Coos county, which took it over for back taxes.

Allied Bombers Guided in Raids By New Compass

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Existence of a revolutionary new compass, which has been guiding United Nations bombers to their objectives, and home again for months, was revealed today.

Charles Marcus, vice president in charge of engineering of Bendix Aviation corporation, said the compass was the result of seven years of research by the company, and its existence can be revealed now because one or more of them have fallen into enemy hands.

"There is no possibility that the enemy can catch up with us, however," he said, "because it will be impossible for them to duplicate the performance of this compass, much less get it into volume production during the war."

Marcus laid the apparatus, known as the gyro flux gate compass, uses the earth's magnetic field to develop minute electrical impulses which, when amplified, turn the compass indicator.

He added that the compass would not go off its reading in a dive or climb, will not "lay" or "overshoot" in a turn and will not oscillate in rough weather. An advantage, Marcus said, is that no "correction card" is necessary, as it is with magnetic types, because the new compass gives fully corrected readings at all times.

Maj. Goldsmith, Noted Oregon Aviator, Dies

PORTLAND, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Major Louis C. Goldsmith, veteran flying soldier of fortune, has been grounded by death.

The end came in the European theater of war, his wife was informed by the War department yesterday.

One of the early barnstorming pilots, Goldsmith flew planes in the Mexican border war of 1916, the World War in 1917-18 and in China in 1937-38. Then he returned to this country as a commercial air line pilot. After Pearl Harbor, he volunteered for re-appointment as an army officer. Widely known for his adventure stories, he was president of the Portland Writers club at the time he re-entered the army.

Opening of Farmers Market at Salem Set

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Salem's first farmer's market will open Saturday morning at Marion square, with farmers selling their produce direct to consumers. The city council appropriated $150 to put an awning over the farm trucks.

Farm Heads of 7 West States Urge Policy Changes

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Agricultural directors of seven western states yesterday submitted a program to War Food Administrator Marvin Jones which they advocated to increase farm production and relieve food shortages, especially of meat.

The state agricultural department chiefs urged the lowering or possible suspension of ration point values on meat with action being taken to move feeder livestock direct to slaughter; greater local participation in the handling of farm problems; prompt action by the WFA and congress in dealing with the milk problem; early announcement of 1944 agricultural production goals; and allowing farmers more machinery.

The program was laid before Jones in a letter signed by W. J. Cecil, California; E. L. Peterson, Oregon; Harvey Schwendiman, Idaho; George G. Schweis, Nevada; Tracy R. Welling, Utah; Arthur E. Cox, Washington; and W. C. Sweinhart, Colorado.

No Subsidies Wanted
The directors said western farmers and ranchers are opposed to subsidies because: "There is a real fear of further federal domination and encroachment." "The large purchasing power now available, of which the percentage used for food is less than usual.

"The uncertainties of production because of doubt as to amount of subsidy or length of its operation.

"The fact that agriculture would appear under a subsidy in a negative position, where as in fact the consumers would be the ones being subsidized."

Would Cut Point Values
Declaring that feed shortages and meat rationing in the western states "have resulted in a drastic backing up of feeders with an attendant depletion of ranges, improper utilization of scarce feeds and a partial disorganization of the livestock industry," the group recommended:

Changes in governmental policies, prices and regulations to enable and facilitate the movement of substantial numbers of feeder livestock direct to slaughter.

Lowering the point values of meat ration coupons or possible suspension of them entirely "for such period of time as may be required to bring the situation into proper balance again. Under existing supply and demand, as conditioned by coupons available, packers need not and do not pay the full price for feeder animals."

Simplification of the meat grading system. "Substantial" increases in prices for hides and by-products to encourage slaughtering.
