

Joe Gordon Says Again He's Done With Baseball

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Joe Gordon again says he is through with baseball, but no one takes him seriously.

The New York Yankee second baseman is home from his sixth season in the majors obviously tired and discouraged from a season that was not too successful, despite his three new fielding records in the recent world series.

Queried about next season, he said:

"There won't be any spring training, and if there is I won't be there."

This was news to his boss, Manager Joe McCarthy, who said at his Buffalo, N. Y., home he has not heard from Gordon and neither has the club, adding that "I only know what I read in the papers."

Friends here took Gordon's statement lightly in view of last year. After being the "goat" in the world series he indicated he would retire, but he came back for more.

They pointed to his announced intention of playing basketball and handball this winter to keep in condition. By the time spring rolls around they said, the export, Ore., sandlotter probably will be rarin' to go with the Yankees again.

MONKEY SHINES

PHILADELPHIA — The gun crew on a merchantman here says Jimmy is the next best thing to radar.

The seven-month-old monkey mascot was burned during a bombing raid on North Africa. Now, long before there's any other sign of planes approaching, Jimmy begins making monkey-shines and then heads for a life raft.

He hasn't given a false alarm yet.

TOYLAND

OPENING AT CARR'S

This year presents a difficult Christmas situation. Most toys are very scarce. What there were we had to accept on "at once" delivery, or go without. Therefore most of our toys are in right now. Of course no re-orders or fill-ins available.

Many scarce items were allocated to us—one or two or three of an item. We now have all our toys out for your early selection. Every week that passes will see our assortment depleted just a little more. You can plan your buying accordingly.

Here's About Our Situation on Toys

Dolls Better dolls are very scarce but we have received just a marvelous line, in fact almost twice the selection we have ever had.	Teasets, Utensils Have a little stock left over, and dandy new plastic styles are quite plentiful. Also some glass and wood items.	Stuffed Animals Very complete line of pandas, dogs, dolls, and novelties, all sizes, styles and qualities. Probably three times as much stock as in past years.	Musical Toys Strictly a war casualty. Have a few horns, pianos, xylophones, roller chimes, etc.
Wheel Goods Are just a memory—no metal numbers. Some wood numbers were made, which we have. Stocks and styles are limited.	Construction Kits Lots of airplane kits, also some boats, tanks, trains, etc. to be assembled.	Playballs We have a few footballs, baseballs, rubber balls, bats, etc. Wan't last long.	Boys' Toy Items A real shortage: Have some guns and holster sets, plastics, boats, cardboard, etc.
Games Yes, we show our usual big assortment of games. Styles for little tots, children or grown-ups. Big new lines of Jig-saw puzzles.	Toy Furniture Chairs, tables, beds, blackboards, etc. Very limited. Factories in general could not deliver and what little we got will not last long.	Books By buying early we have assembled complete assortments—Stories, pictures, painting, doll cut-outs, children's fiction, scraps, etc. An outstanding assortment to choose from.	Iron and Steel Toys Remember them? There are absolutely none this year. A few wood toys and a dandy line of punch out cardboards are available.
