Marries On Armistice Day

Mrs. William H. Buckley

At one of the season's loveliest weddings, Miss Mary Carol Leigh, of Roseburg, was married to Captain William H. Buckley, Attleboro, Mass., Thursday afternoon at the Methodist church in Roseburg. Dr. Charles A. Edwards performed the impressive double ring ceremony at four o'clock in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple.

A lattice background, banded with greenery and white chrysanthemums and carnations, formed an attractive setting for the ceremony. The church was decorated by Mrs. Maurice J. Newland, Mrs. A. A. Wilder and Mrs. Velle Broadway.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. Paul Geddes played softly on the organ and accompanied the soloist, Miss Phoebe Haselhorne, who very charmingly sang "O Promise Me" and "Benedictus," followed by the bridal chorus from Lehigh, played by Mrs. Geddes.

Miss Betty Anne Matthews, a cousin of the bride, dressed in an attractive floor-length gown of pale blue, lighted the tandles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Fred Stone, of Roseburg, was very beautiful in a floor-length gown of white lace, fashioned in princess lines with a form fitting bodice, full skirt and long sleeves. Her finger-tip wedding veil was held in place by a Juliet cap of tulle with a crown of stephanotis. She carried a white Bible topped by a spray of three gardenias tied with white satin streamers knotted with bouvardia blossoms.

Mrs. Joseph Ritter was matron of honor and was attractive in a floor-length gown of pink chiffon. She carried a nosegay of pink and white blossoms. Robert Matthews, a cousin of the bride, acted as best man to the bridegroom.

At the close of the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom knelt on a white satin prayer pillow as the benediction was given, after which Mrs. Geddes played Mendelssohn's wedding recessional.

An informal reception followed in the church parlors, after which the bride and bridegroom left for Fort Benning, Georgia, where the latter will report for advanced schooling in the army.

For traveling the bride chose an attractive dark colored suit with white accessories. Her carriage was of gardenias.

Mrs. Buckley is one of Roseburg's most attractive members of the younger set. She was graduated from Roseburg high school and from Oregon State college in June 1942 and has been employed as a secretary at the Cooperative Managers association in Corvallis, Canton Buckley was graduated from Columbia university, New York, in 1939 and was employed in the trust department of a bank in New York prior to entering military service. For the present time, they will be at home to their friends in Fort Benning, Ga.

On Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wilder entertained at a very charming dinner party at their beautiful home on Chadwick street in compliment to the bride and bridegroom. Chrysanthemums and tall lighted tapers formed a pretty motif for the table.

Guests, bidden by Mr. and Mrs. Wilder in honor of Captain Buckley and Miss Leigh, included: Gollia Stone, Mrs. Edna Matthews, Robert Matthews and Mrs. H. H. Stapleton.
