behooved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful High Priest." Jesus took upon himself the form of a man and became subject unto death in order that he might bring us to God. It is a glo-rious truth that it behooved him who knew no sin to take upon himself the sins of us all that he might make reconcilia tion for the sins of the people tion for the sins of the people.

In that he himself has suffered, he knows our sorrow, He has experienced every form and kind of suffering. Not a burden we bear but he knows its weight. Not a pain we endure but he knows its bitterness. Not a sorrow we have that he does not show and that he does not share, not a disappointment we suffer that he does not know the anguish. He emptied the cup of human suffering to the dregs, and sympathizes with us fully in all our griefs. Through his suffer-ing he became a merciful high priest in all things pertaining to God. His coming is as a high priest to offer a sacrifice which takes away the sin and guilt of life. Not only was He a great teacher telling us about God, but he is a great Saviour making atonement for our sins. He not only tells us what we ought to do, but he enables us to do it. Indeed he
