RESOLUTIONS urging establishment of a scientific research department of game conservation by the state game commission and approving the commission's practice of determining open seasons and bag limits on a survey basis were adopted at the close of its annual conference Saturday.

Other resolutions approved the McNary bill to regulate offshore fishing, opposed the McLaren bill providing for federal control of wild life on federal lands and urged release of Robinson-Pittman funds to states prepared to use them in practical game conservation projects.

R. E. Dimmick, head of the Oregon State college fish and game department, predicted that the state eventually will have regional wild life managers.

Carl Baker, Eugene, was elected federation president; W. J. Smith, Portland, vice-president; Junior Eckley, Salem, secretary; Alva Day, Hood River, treasurer; Carl Fetch, Lakeview, and Ross Farnham, Bend, eastern Oregon members of the executive board; L. M. Christensen, Yachats, Kenneth Denman, Medford, western Oregon board members, and Carl Leaverton, Portland, member-at-large.

Woolley said he could see no hope for lessening the juvenile problem in the immediate future. "Five years after the war, we'll be reaping the harvest from the conditions we are creating now," he said.

Board Secretary Roy Mills said there is a great increase in delinquency among girls, which is not reflected at the girls industrial school here, which has been filled to capacity for several years. Most of the delinquent girls are being cared for by private girls' homes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—(AP)—Another general reduction in the ration value of all pork items on the consumer point value table except variety meats and canned meats was announced Saturday by Price Administrator Bowles. It became effective today.

All pork steaks, roasts, smoked ham, bacon and ready-to-put meat was reduced by one point a pound. Fresh hams—hams which are neither frozen, cured or smoked—are cut by two points per pound.

Fresh, smoked and cooked sausages containing no other meat except pork are down one point. Dry and semi-dry sausages such as hard salami, pepperoni, mortadella, are down one point regardless of beef ingredients.

The only pork items not affected in the general reduction are variety meats—Hearts, livers and tongues—and a few items already listed at one point a pound. (Fatbacks and clear plates, hocks, jowls, jowl butts or squares, knuckles and plates.)

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 13—(AP)—Oregon's growing juvenile delinquency problem has doubled the population of the state training school for boys at Woodburn over what the total was three years ago, M. D. Woolley, superintendent of the school, told the state board of control.

He said 90 per cent of the increase was caused by family troubles which are the result of war conditions, such as both parents working.

Woolley said he regretted that there was no means of supervising boys after they are released from the institution. The population of the school now is 124, but it reached an all-time high of 140 a few weeks ago.

Woolley also said there is a vital need for an intermediary institution, such as a reformatory, to care for boys over 13 years old and in their early 20's. He said "it's a crime in itself to send an 18-year-old boy to the penitentiary."

Woolley said he could see no hope for lessening the juvenile problem in the immediate future. "Five years after the war, we'll be reaping the harvest from the conditions we are creating now," he said.
