Karakul Ewes Observe Rigid Schedule of Hours

A rigid schedule of hours has been observed by two Karakul ewes at the Sans Souci ranch.

according to Carl Richmond, owner.

The two ewes, born Jan. 2, 1942, were given the names of Sheila and Miss Bowman, the former being born at 3:30 p. m. and the latter at 4:30 p. m.—an hour apart—on that date.

March 20, 1943, at 3:30 p. m. Sheila bore a ewe lamb which was given the name of Sheila, while Miss Bowman, exactly an hour later, bore a ewe lamb, Mary Bowman.

The same two ewes, again carried out the one-hour interval on Dec. 8, last, when Sheila's male lamb, Shelk, was born at 3:30 p. m. and Miss Bowman's lamb, Mike, came at 4:30 o'clock.

LURE OF ADVENTURE

LLANO, Tex.—Jim Moore, 16, idly picked an ear of corn on his father's farm—and discovered it was a freak. Deep red kernels formed a perfect red cross.

Intrigued, he shucked all the rest of his dad's crop, searching vainly for another red cross. His father thought it was wonderful.
